

IF YOU WANT ROOSEVELT SAY SO ON THE STRAW BALLOT

Capital Journal Straw Ballot Shows a Phenomenally Large Number Whose Choice for President Is Teddy--Cast Your Vote in Journal's Straw Ballot, and Let Us All Get a Hunch as to the Choice of the Great Voting Public for the Greatest Office on Earth.

The Capital Journal straw ballot is going pretty strongly for the nomination of ex-President Roosevelt. One ballot comes in with the words added: "Eighty per cent of the people want a president for the United States by the name of Theodore Roosevelt. Let the good work continue."

Secretary of State Ben W. Olcott is a great admirer of Colonel Roosevelt and would not feel badly to see him come to the front. In the meantime voters should speak out through the straw ballot printed below for whoever is their choice.

Roosevelt May Run. Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 31.—That Theodore Roosevelt will be a candidate for president again if the call comes strong enough for him to respond, is the statement made by John Burroughs, author and naturalist, in an interview published today in the Poughkeepsie Courier.

Much significance is attached to this prediction, on account of Burroughs' intimacy with the ex-president. The two have many tastes and sympathies in common.

"In politics, I think the turning of the people to Roosevelt is significant," he said. "I doubt if the Democrats have sense enough to nominate as good a man as Wilson. If they do, the people will support him. Roosevelt is not a candidate at present, but if the call came strong enough, he would consider it his duty to respond. I do not believe that Taft will be president again."

"As to the trend of the times, we are always blundering along toward better things. There are many currents and counter-currents in literature, science, business, everything—" but still going up to higher things. Evolution is always upward.

Salem Special, Dec. 29.—That the name of Theodore Roosevelt will appear as a presidential candidate on the presidential preference primary nominating ballot in Oregon was assured today by a statement of Colonel E. Hofer, of this city, who said that he intends to take the matter up with anyone who is interested in seeing Roosevelt a candidate and intimated that if no one else would take the trouble, he would do so himself.

Hofer denies that his attitude in regard to Roosevelt will conflict in any manner with his position in connection with the Lincoln-Taft League in Oregon. "I have found out that there are many people in Oregon who are apparently in favor of Roosevelt as the coming nominee and my position in this matter is merely to allow such people to cast a vote for Roosevelt if they desire to do so."

"The Lincoln-Taft League is not essentially an organization for any one man and what plans I may have to aid in seeing Roosevelt's name on the ballot will, in no manner, conflict with the work of that league. "A great many people are satisfied that Mr. Taft cannot win out. At the same time they are not partisans of La Follette and would like to vote for Roosevelt. They are not opposed to the third-term idea and as a result, I am safe in asserting that the people of Oregon will be among those who will have the opportunity if they desire, of voting for Mr. Roosevelt."

Colonel Hofer says personally he will work to assist in the election of whoever is the party nominee.

A PIONEER FAMILY REUNION

LEMUEL LEMMON PIONEER OF 1845, WITH ENTIRE FAMILY OF ELEVEN CHILDREN, WITH THEIR WIVES, HUSBANDS AND GRAND CHILDREN, CELEBRATE IN SALEM.

The Capital Journal will start the New Year number by telling the story of one of the pioneers who crossed the plains and opened this magnificent country for settlement. Lemuel Lemmon, who resides on B street just north of the hospital for the insane, is probably the longest resident pioneer in Salem at present. He came to the Willamette valley in 1845 as a boy nine years of age. In 1846 his parents moved to Salem and his father took up a section of land west of Brooks, which is now the site of the Egan and Krebs ranches.

At that time there were 25 or 30 families at Salem, mostly missionaries. There was a grist mill and a saw mill in North Salem near the Wade store.

Mr. Lemmon was born in Hamilton county, Indiana, July 4, 1838. His people crossed the plains in the train of which Captain Tetherow and Captain English were in command. They reached Oregon October 6, 1845, and wintered in a log cabin at Oswego.

"Do I remember anything about Oswego. You bet I do. There was nothing there but the cabin that sheltered us. It was owned by a Mr. Hahn and I spent most of my time paddling a canoe and fishing in the creeks, which were plumb full of fine trout. As I remember, there was one cabin where Portland now stands and a every inferior one. A little clearing had been logged off, and there was a log dock on the river bank for boats to land. Oregon City was the biggest town in the state. It had a sawmill, two stores, two grist mills and an iron foundry was put up that winter. The boosters called it the great manufacturing center of the Pacific coast. We came to Salem and rented the only house in town somewhere near where the high school stands now. Sol Durbin is the only man living here who came to Salem about the same time. William Waldo, who died recently, was the only man living here when we landed."

"In coming across the plains, we saw a great many Indians all the way, but had no serious trouble with them, but they were continuously stealing our horses. One of their favorite amusements was to catch some man who belonged to the train out hunting alone, surround and rob him of all he had and strip him of every stitch of clothing and send him back to the camp. More than one man in our train got served that way and came sneaking in stark naked and had to be furnished with clothes by the rest of us.

"At the Dalles we had to give up our wagons and take to the river. Father Waller had a mission there with plenty of supplies such as beef and flour. We all got rested up and shipped our wagons and cattle and household goods down the river in dugouts. These canoes were manned by Indians under the control of Dr. McLaughlin. The immigrant outfit was taken from Vancouver to points on the Willamette river and we were all quite glad to be landed in our future homes, although it was then a dreary and desolate country."

Mr. Lemmon has been a successful farmer in the Willamette valley all his life. He farmed 470 acres on the Long Tom river in Lane county for 12 years. He next farmed a large ranch south of Monmouth for 22 years, but he always looked upon Salem as his final home and resting place from his labors.

Mrs. M. J. Jones-Lemmon was born in Marion county, Ohio, in 1851. She crossed the plains by ox team in 1851. She was married to E. Lemmon in 1867. There were born to them 11 children all now living as follows: Edward L. Lemmon, painter, Salem; Albert J. Lemmon, merchant, Antelope, Wasco county; Mrs. Armande J. Barnett, Independence; Mr. P. N. Lemmon, farmer and stock raiser, Grass Valley, Sherman county; Mrs. Josephine E. Adkins, Lane county; Mrs. Ethel P. Brown, Silverton; Pearl S. and Plyn Lemmon, Portland; Xury Lemmon, farmer, Sherman county; Eunice L. and Mary E. Lemmon at home.

Charles Durham, Lovington, Ill., has succeeded in finding a positive cure for bed wetting. "My little boy wet the bed every night clear thro' the floor. I tried several kinds of kidney medicine and I was in the drug store looking for something different to help him when I heard of Foley Kidney Pills. After he had taken them two days we could see a change and when he had taken two-thirds of a bottle he was cured. That is about six weeks ago and he has not wet in bed since." Red Cross Pharmacy (H. The Doctor's Answers On Health and Beauty Questions

By Dr. Theodore Beck

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and answers will apply to any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Theodore Beck, College Bldg., College-Elwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed envelope for reply. No questions will be answered unless full name and address is given. Initials or non de plume will be used in answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well stocked drug store. Any drug wholesaler.

Adam E.—Your symptoms plainly indicate catarrhal trouble. Beginning with nasal catarrh the disease has affected your stomach, causing foul breath and indigestion, gas, etc., while the kidneys and bladder are in bad condition, causing burning, painful, frequent and uncontrollable urination with dull headache and backache. For nasal catarrh, obtain 2 ozs. antiseptic vilase powder. Put a half teaspoonful in a pint of warm water. Snuff the water from the palms of the hand through the nostrils two or three times daily. Then use a level teaspoonful of the powder to one ounce of vaseline, mix and apply a small portion into each nostril. Also take a teaspoonful four times daily of the following: Syrup sarsaparilla compound 4 ozs., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz., and fluid extract buchu 1 oz. Mix and shake well.

M. Wait.—You can increase your weight and strength and improve the general health greatly by a thorough hypo-nutrient treatment with three-grain hypo-nutrient tablets. "Take one after each meal and one at bedtime. Drink plenty of water slowly, but green meals. You should not expect a great increase in weight quickly. Remember, it takes time to change the cells and tissues of the body, but you can depend on it as a thoroughly effective flesh producer."

Susan.—Write me more fully or send for my free examination chart, and I will gladly do my best for you; always give full name and address. I never publish the correct name.

R. M.—Do not delay using the following treatment if you value good health. You need a good, mild laxative and a good, mild purifier to correct chronic constipation and the general debility of which you complain. The weakness, numbness, loss of appetite, headache, neuralgia and faint spells can be corrected by using three-grain sulphur tablets (laxative), as per directions accompanying, and also the following: compound syrup hypophosphites 6 ozs., tincture cadomene compound 1 oz., and compound fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful before meals and at bedtime. This is a valuable tonic, and will vitalize the nerves, increase the strength, calm the mind, improve the quality of the blood and remove the exhaustion of body and mind.

Bronchitis.—A cough of any kind should be promptly treated. Asthmatic patients have obtained wonderful relief by the use of a splendid and cheap home-made cough syrup possessing laxative properties, in fact, this makes the best household remedies for colds and asthma that I know of. Obtain a 2 1/2 oz. package of essence of mentho-lanolin and make into a pint of syrup as per directions accompanying the package.

X. Y. Z.—Your questions and symptoms have been answered and explained several times heretofore in these columns, but as they may have escaped your attention I will repeat my advice, as I have for many others. Your druggist could obtain anything I have prescribed in these advice from the wholesale firms. Insist on his doing so, or go to a large up-to-date store and get it.

(3.) The treatment for itching scalp, falling hair and dandruff which you refer to is called plain yellow minyol, packed in 4-ounce jars, ditto, frequent and accompanying. This cures dandruff, makes the hair glossy, fluffy, and I have been thanked by scores for discovering and proclaiming its worth.

A Wife.—(1) Write for my examination chart (free) and give name and address. (2) Lucorbes or "whites" should be treated as follows: Obtain one ounce tannic acid and two ounces vilase powder. To a quart of water add a half teaspoonful of tannic acid and a teaspoonful of vilase. Use twice daily as an injection with syringe. Continue for a month after cure is established to prevent a return. I received in today's mail three letters from women who used the above and now report they are cured.

Help.—The larger drug stores can supply you with this excellent specific treatment for the stomach disorders, common to so many, such as pain under the ribs, belching, bloating, wind, gas, heart palpitation, shortness of breath, etc. Obtain a package of tripeptide tablets and use pink after breakfast, white after dinner and blue after supper. Tripeptide will correct most any stomach disorder, help digest the food, tone up the stomach, increase the gastric juices and enable you to eat whatever you like.

Stubborn.—For ulcers, running sores, pimples, sore eyelids and other symptoms of scrofula use the following: Syrup Trifolium compound 4 ozs., compound fluid balmwort 1 oz., ozomatic fluid cascara 1 oz. Mix. Shake well and take a teaspoonful after meals and one at retiring. The dose after the first week may be increased gradually to two teaspoonfuls. This is effective in chronic or inherited blood disorders. This treatment should continue 4 to 6 months, and sometimes longer, to thoroughly eradicate the disease.

Aged.—You say you are 45 years old and your symptoms are extreme nervousness, weak, tired, worn-out feeling, timid, irritable, no energy or ambition to act, naturally do, under all circumstances as others do. The least exertion tires, and the limbs and body are often numb or aching. Regular daily calisthenics or exercise which calls into play every muscle of the body should be followed. Also take the following: Tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz., comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., syrup hypophosphites 6 ozs. Mix and take a teaspoonful before or after each meal; after the first week gradually increase the dose to two teaspoonfuls. Continue two or three months.

A. M.—A pleasant and effective non-secret remedy for chronic constipation is called Cascara pills.

Miss R.—A very prompt and efficient, though harmless headache and neuralgia remedy is sold under the name of Pain-Away pills.

MRS. NICHOLS ENTERTAINS BETHEL SEWING CIRCLE

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. J. M. Nichols entertained the ladies of the Bethel Sewing Circle very pleasantly at her home near Bethel. Conversation, jokes and needlework made the hours slip by very quickly.

A dainty lunch of cake and hot coffee was followed by a Christmas pie. Each lady drew a piece of the pie by pulling a string. Mrs. Nichols held the cover on the pie until all were ready. This was great fun, each lady receiving a present from the pie, with Christmas greetings attached.

Those present were: Mrs. Bruebecker, Mrs. S. B. Clark, Mrs. J. L. Palmer, Mrs. J. R. Ralsbeck, Mrs. Ida S. Baker, Mrs. J. D. Clark and daughter, Mary, Mrs. T. B. Montgomery, Mrs. D. M. Evans and daughters Ruth and Remoh, Mrs. W. A. Schunk, Mrs. H. R. Curtis, Mrs. L. A. Rostenberg, Misses Alice and Lena Matter, Mrs. Bovey and Miss Eula Davis, of Salem.

All departed for their homes about 5 o'clock, leaving behind many good wishes for their hosts, and taking with them happy recollections of a pleasant afternoon.

Foley Kidney Pills

always give satisfaction because they always do the work. J. T. Shelnut, Bremen, Ga., says: "I have used Foley Kidney Pills with great satisfaction, and found more relief from their use than from any other kidney medicine, and I've tried almost all kinds. I can cheerfully recommend them to all sufferers for kidney and bladder trouble." Foley Kidney Pills will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. Red Cross Pharmacy (H. German).

The experiment farm at Pendleton costs the state $7500 a year, and Governor West thinks it could be run by the asylum, and save the $7500.

Call for Bids—Sale of Bonds.

The undersigned will receive bids up to 5 o'clock, p. m., on January 2, 1912, for the purchase of improvement bonds of the city of Salem, Oregon, for the improvement of streets to the amount of $42,553.92, interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, at Salem, Oregon. Right is reserved by the city of Salem, Oregon, to reject any or all bids.—Chas. F. Elgin, City Recorder 12-27-51

GERMAN SOCIETIES IN OREGON

As many copies of the New Year's Journal will fall in to the hands of German people in the East, we wish to say to them that many Germans are locating in this part of Oregon. The Germans of Salem have a strong society of about 200 members. There are about 40 organizations of Germans in Oregon, and a splendid German paper, the Deutsche Zeitung, is published at Portland.

The members of the German Ladies society spent a very pleasant afternoon at the beautiful home of Mrs. Peter Bach on East Twenty-third street, Thursday 28th.

The time passed in singing and music. Miss Rosalie Bach favored the ladies with a beautiful solo, with Miss Yankke at the piano, and Mrs. Schwabe and Mrs. Paulus, sang several popular German songs, with Mrs. Schwabe at the piano. The house was still in holiday attire, the color scheme being red and white even to the cake and ice cream. After an elegant lunch, which was served by Mrs. Bach and her daughter, Rosalie, and her friends, Miss Yankke and Miss Breitenstein, the ladies departed wishing their hosts a happy and prosperous New Year.

The following ladies were present: Mesdames Bach, Gantebabel, Schwabe, Yankke, Butte, Kehrberger, Gremmlis, Berndorfer, Paulus, Kaup, Mrs. Breitenstein and children, and Miss Bach, Yankke and Breitenstein.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Kehrberger January 25, on South Commercial street.
