Wants Damages—

Alleging that because of the negligence of the defendants a sheet of glass fell upon him, lacerating his right forearm, Evlin Ames has commenced an action in the circuit court asking for $3000 damages from the Silverton Sash & Door factory.

Must Wear Stripes—

Upon the return to the penitentiary yesterday of Frank Kennedy, for violating his parole. Superintendent James, of the state penitentiary, decided to inaugurate a ruling that hereafter when a parole man breaks the conditions of his parole that he must wear stripes, and eat at the poorest table in the prison.

Irreparable Loss—

Last money may be found or more may be earned. Lost time and opportunity cannot be replaced—they are gone forever—a total loss. The time and opportunity for securing a business training this fall and winter will not come again. Why not seize this opportunity to prepare for the greatest success your abilities permit, and enter the Capital Business College next week? If unable to attend day school, the next best is night school. We have both.

What Can You Earn—

What are you worth? How much capital would it take to bring the income you could earn? Many students doubled, trebled and quadrupled their incomes, and hence their capital, through the commercial training secured at the Capital Business College. In addition, their abilities to seize better opportunities were increased many fold. Let us tell you about our work. Call after 4 o'clock. A catalogue for the asking. Day and night classes.

Forward Further Protests—

The railroad commission today received from the railroad commission of Oklahoma additional requests asking that the commission protest to the president against the appointment of Judge Hook, of St. Louis, to the supreme court bench of the United States. The protest says that Hook is in favor of abolishing all railroad regulation and that in view of that, would be a dangerous man. The commission of this state has already forwarded protests to the Oregon delegation to be presented to the president.

BUTEMIL MADE THINGS LIVELY AT HIS HOME

San Francisco, Jan. 4.—He struck at me and missed, but knocked my son by a former marriage insensible. Then he threw dishes at me, tore my clothes from my body, and drove me naked into the night," states Mrs. Ellen Johnson, suing Emil Johnson, a carpenter, for divorce. She asks an injunction restraining Johnson from drawing money from a bank until hearing in the suit is had.

HE MADE THE PUNISHMENT FIT THE NAME

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] San Francisco, Jan. 4.—"Your name?" asked Police Judge Shortall in court today. "Paulos Parasacharavisch," answered the prisoner. "Polish?" queried the judge, not looking up. "Polish is it, your honor? No sir, an' its not 'Polish.' And all the Irish in me rebels at the insinuation. Sure, an' I was born in County Cork, sir. Me mother's a Hogan, and me dad—rest his soul—was a Halloran. Sure, sir, and this name's me mother's second choice. I was not old enough to kick when she took it." "Punishment enough," said the judge. "Get drunk no more—if you can carry that name, and keep sober."

Horse Badly Hurt.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Medford, Ore., Jan. 4.—A brindle buldog belonging to Harry Davis, this noon attacked a horse, one of a team being driven by W. R. Lamb, on

TURN DOWN COLLARS

Must be very carefully laundered or they will crack after a few times laundering. We have a special process for shaping turn down and wing point collars that will not crack them. We are now doing laundry work for many of the most careful dressers in the city and are pleasing them. May we have a trial from you? We're sure we can please you.

one of the main streets of the city, pulling down the horse by grabbing his leg. As the horse fell the dog seized the horse by the nose and had to be pried loose. A policeman placed the dog under arrest. An immediate trial was given the canine by Police Judge Canon, who pronounced a death sentence. The dog was immediately shot. The horse was a valuable one, and was seriously injured.

NEW MEXICO TO BE A STATE TOMORROW

Washington, Jan. 4.—All that remains between New Mexico and statehood is the signature of President Taft and this will be given within a few days, when the star of the new state will be added to the flag. Today a delegation of prominent men from New Mexico called at the White House and presented the president figures on the recent statehood election held there.

WON SUIT FOR MALICIOUS PROSECUTION

The case of Paul Jerman vs. J. A. Gordon, for malicious prosecution, was decided in the circuit court today in favor of the plaintiff, Paul Jerman, a verdict being rendered in his favor for $50. This was an unusual case, and it is seldom that the plaintiff in such an action receives a verdict. John D. Turner, attorney for the plaintiff, understood his case thoroughly and presented it in a very clear manner to the jury.

STATE NEWS.

Another big steam lumber schooner is to be built at Marshfield; the contract having been let. The boat will be 207 feet long, with 41 foot beam. The trouble between strikers and strikebreakers at Roseburg still continues. There were some fist fights and knock out blows. Astoria's rainfall is considerably below normal. Mrs. Clea Pearl Alisky, sister of Mrs. Mabelle Gilman Corey, was granted a divorce at Oregon City Tuesday by Judge Campbell from Charles W. Alisky, son of C. A. Alisky, a wealthy retired Portland confectioner. Sheriff Quine, of Douglas county, to whom Governor West referred the applications for parole of six men sent to the pen from that county, refused to recommend their paroles or sign their petitions. The S. P. will enter Marshfield with its low line by running down the bay on the east side. Newberg claims that 250 former Minnesotans gathered there at an annual meeting of the "Gophers" on New Year's day. Baker City is to hold an election soon to determine if it shall continue the commission form of government. Albany's new chief of police, Daugherty, arrested two young men for "blind pigging" New Year's day, the first day in which he held the office. An Eastern man yesterday bought 2300 acres of timber land near LaGrande, paying $250,000 for it. Newberg has granted the Oregon Electric and S. P. each the right to lay one track on First street. Eight or 10 inches of snow in the timber near Astoria has hung up all logging operations.

PERSONALS.

Col. C. E. S. Wood and S. J. McAlister, attorneys, of Portland, are arguing the referendum cases before the supreme court. W. Brown, of Reading, Cal., is a guest at the Marion. Mrs. R. E. Byron, of Corvallis, is stopping at the Marion. Mr. and Mrs. L. Grice returned from a visit to Newport yesterday afternoon, and report the weather there as being very mild. Judge Magers, the well-known Portland attorney, brother of Ab. Magers, is in the city on business before the supreme court. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McKinney, of Zena, who have been visiting friends and relatives in Spokane for several weeks, returned yesterday, and say they are glad to get back to where the thermometer does not register six degrees below zero. Mrs. A. W. Kelsey, of Tacoma, is stopping at the Salem. R. H. Caskarn, of Hood River, is a guest at the Salem. E. E. May and Sid P. Stringer are remodeling Jones' feed barn. K. G. Henderson and wife, of Chennawa, are visiting in the city. G. J. Gary, business man of Oregon City, is stopping at the Bligh. M. Graves, of Portland, is attending to business matters in the city. Unusually heavy snow in the Klamath section make the farmers, most of whom grow winter wheat, smile like a June bride.
