INDEPENDENCE INTERURBAN MOTOR LINE

At 9 o'clock this morning the new interurban service from Astoria via Monmouth and Independence was installed. The coach and engine reached West Salem promptly on time, and a delegation from the Salem Board of Trade and Business Men's League were there at the station to meet the delegates from the Polk county motorists, and the whole party was escorted to the Marion Hotel, where arrangements were made for a fine business men's lunch at noon. General Superintendent D. W. Campbell wired that he had been suddenly called to San Francisco, and John M. Scott, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific lines, would be present in his stead. The visitors included the following:

A. B. Muir, president Dallas Commercial club, and proprietor of the Dallas tannery, who was present 42 years ago at the laying of the corner stone of the Chemeketa hotel.
W. L. Toose, Jr., secretary Dallas commercial club, and attorney for the Salem, Dallas & Falls City railroad.

J. R. Craven, mayor of Dallas.
General Manager Hinshaw, of the Salem, Dallas & Falls City railroad.
S. Taylor Jones, superintendent Salem, Dallas & Falls City railroad.
Jos. Hirschberg, president Salem, Independence, Monmouth & Astoria Interurban railroad.
D. B. Fluke, editor Itemizer, Dallas.
H. M. Browne, editor Enterprise, Independence.

J. S. Cooper, president Independence Commercial club.
J. G. McIntosh, secretary Independence Commercial club.
The party were met by Pres. Jos. Albert and Secretary Hofer, of the Salem Board of Trade, and motor cars belonging to Jos. Albert, Paul Wallace, E. Hofer and others were present to bring them to the city.
At noon the entire party sat down to a fine business men's lunch attended by about 100 of the Salem business people, who extended a cordial welcome to the visitors from Polk county.

The Interurban Lunch.

Jos. Hirschberg was given three cheers at the opening of the banquet, as the man who had put on the new interurban service. He made a neat and hearty response.

Manager Hinshaw, of the Salem, Dallas & Falls City line, responded for his corporation, and said they would do their best to put on a first-class service and build a bridge and be in Salem within a year by rail.

Mayor Craven spoke of breaking down community walls. It meant better store fronts and better stocks of goods at Dallas. He spoke of the growing friendly feelings between the two cities.

President Muir, of the Commercial club at Dallas, spoke of the new life of that town, with manufacturing and railroads.

V. P. Fluke, of the Itemizer, spoke of the new conditions at Dallas.

Walter L. Toose, Jr., secretary of the commercial club, spoke of the necessity of more cordial boosting relations between all the valley cities. He gave a hearty invitation to Salem business men to visit Dallas.

Superintendent Jones was happy in his remarks and touched off Jenkins, of the S. P. Co. Both got a good round of applause.

W. Y. Buchanan spoke on interurban lines as city-builders. Development has hastened most rapidly by transportation facilities. There was $500,000,000 invested in electric lines.

Four cities, Indianapolis, Detroit, Columbus, Los Angeles, had grown more rapidly than any other four cities. Each had hundreds of miles of such lines. All towns on interurbans grow more rapidly than on steam roads. Portland has 641 miles of interurban lines. Realty values were stimulated in city and country. Quick transit and quick business transactions made property valuable. One dollar out of five of taxes was paid by these corporations. He spoke of the value of the Oregon Electric as a developer of values. It would add $100,000,000 of wealth to this valley in five years.

H. E. Browne, of the Independence Enterprise, spoke of the value of east and west lines across the Willamette valley. Better transportation would benefit both Salem and Independence, and they were working for their own interest when working for Salem.
President Cooper, of the Independence Commercial club, spoke of the Salem as the railroad center of the Willamette valley.

Secretary McIntosh, of that city, said his town was on the up grade. In place of two hours each way on the river, they could now come in 30 minutes.

Judge Kelly, of Albany, said there was but one sentiment in Linn county toward interurbans—the utmost good will and appreciation. This valley had outgrown narrow ideas of conservatism and this was now the paradise of progress.

Like the others, Judge Kelly was heartily applauded.

A timetable of the S. P. lines showed 124 trains operated daily in Western Oregon. At this point General Passenger John M. Scott was introduced. He had seen wonderful changes in Oregon in five years. President Sprout had become a friend of Salem and the valley. He announced the construction of 100 miles of electric lines on the West Side within a year. There was a new era for all Western Oregon. It was friendly and constructive. He denied the report that there would be any change in summer rates to Newport. (Applause.)

P. H. D'Arcy closed the speaking program with one of his eloquent and whole-hearted talks. The whole affair was very enjoyable and about 100 attended.

Following telegram was received from General Superintendent Campbell, of the Southern Pacific:
Portland, Or., March 4, 1912.
E. Hofer,
Salem, Or.

Thank you for your letter March 1st. Regret my inability to be present, but important matters require my presence here today. Mr. Fields will attend as my representative.
D. W. CAMPBELL.

The affair was presided over by Rollin K. Page, president of the Business Men's League, who acted as toastmaster.

SAGE RESTORES GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are 50, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and lustre, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.

OAKLAND A RIVAL OF LAWRENCE

Commissioner Turner made a statement today saying the police will enforce the traffic ordinance, which gives them power to break up all street gatherings. He asserts that the I. W. W. has never had a legal permit, but was working under a blanket permit of the Socialist party. He claims to have received a number of complaints of vulgar language used by the I. W. W. street speakers. He refused to make any statement on the raid of the Socialist hall by his men.

What We Never Forget, according to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure our burns, boils, scalds, sores, skin eruptions, cuts, sprains or bruises. Forty years of cures prove its merit. Unrivalled for piles, corns or cold sores. Only 25c at J. C. Perry's.

Children are much more likely to contract the contagious diseases when they have colds. Whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and consumption are diseases that are often contracted when the child has a cold. That is why all medical authorities say beware of colds. For the quick cure of colds you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

* X-RAYS AND SMILES. *

T. C. Knapp, of the Peninsular Lumber company, and president of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, asserts, and shows by figures, that the value of the timber on the average section of timber land in Oregon, when cut into lumber, is $600,000. Knapp should know, and this statement should be a hint to the assessors, who are just beginning their labors, as to valuation to be put on lumber land.

There is a strange lawsuit at Albany where a real estate firm has sued a man who had promised to buy a farm, if the real estate men could find him a wife. This the firm alleges it did, but the man, after getting the wife, refused to purchase the farm. Maybe, he got leary of the dealers on account of the first deal.

The Portland man who, being forced to choose between his wife and a bull pup, made the choice of the pup, may not have been so foolish as he seems. It is a matter he may probably be better informed on than any other person, and fair-minded critics will concede that, in order to judge fairly, one would have to see and understand the social qualities of both the pup and the woman. There are all kinds of women and two kinds of pups.

The Chinese tong war is on again in Portland. It should either be stopped by the authorities or all restrictions be taken off and the gang compelled to murder one another until one party was exterminated—or all of them.

The London shop keepers grin now when the husky lady suffragettes throw chunks of coal through their plate glass windows. The coal is more valuable than the windows—or soon will be.

Pretty nearly all the jobs, from farming down, are already placed, or soon will be in the charge of the children—"Made in Oregon" products are the bosses.

Iowa Has Taft Symptoms. The Des Moines, Iowa, Capital Journal ex-Senator Lefe Young, editor, has been running a straw ballot, with the following result up to February 28: Taft, 3,780; Roosevelt, 3,124; La Follette, 177; Cummins, 249. Besides this, county after county in Iowa is instructing its delegates for Taft.

More than 5000 traction engines are turning sod in Canada, and we still wonder if the day of the gasoline horse will ever arrive!

A FEW RETAILERS in this country have found out that EFFECTIVE ADVERTISING, cumulative in results, means much more than merely quoting "sensational" prices for a day.

Others, and they are overwhelmingly in the majority, can't see anything in advertising except the immediate sales it creates. We believe they misjudge the intelligence of the buying public.

Our advertising has but a single purpose—to arouse you to a sense of the value of this store to the trading public. We want you to know that RELIABILITY is the backbone of our business. Our prestige rests on your faith in our statements.

A careful study of style tendencies has enabled us to assemble a magnificent line of the STRICTLY CORRECT FABRICS FOR LADIES' TAILORED SKIRTS AND SUITS. Our new mannish Scotch Suitings and Coating Serges have sufficient body to them to "hang right" for tailored garments. They are from 50 to 54 inches wide so that only a very small yardage is required.

Notice how perfect our PURE WHITE COATING SERGES are. They're the pride of their makers, for only a very few mills are equipped to make satisfactory White Serges.
