THE CRIME OF SOCIAL LEGISLATION.

The real cause of the death of the unfortunate working woman and her four children has not, in our opinion, been fully stated. There has been some talk about industrial readjustment being necessary to avoid such crimes—crimes that can be laid to our social structure.

Of course, the social structure is fundamentally dependent upon the underlying industrial foundation. But the crime, so far as it can be laid to the doors of the community is a social crime. The community has been guilty of isolating an individual until that individual succumbed to the strain of isolation.

Why do people attend social functions, parties, sociables, balls, receptions and banquets—to ward off isolation. It is isolation—want of social contact—lack of human intercourse, that makes life seem dreary and hopeless, and not worth living. Isolation is the real cause of so many women from the rural districts going to the insane asylums.

Social isolation was the prime cause of the working woman taking poison and administering poison to her four children. How many so-called Christian people ever look over their neighborhood to see if there is not some socially submerged? How many of us love our neighbor as we do ourselves in the sense of taking the deep, personal, kindly interest in their struggle? Do we not pull our skirts about us and keep away from such unfortunates who happen to be, as we imagine, below our social status?

HOW THE PEOPLE FEEL ABOUT IT.

Among the many straw ballots cast for legislative candidates is one that reads rather funny: He votes for J. L. Stockton, D. C. Thoms, E. P. Morcom, and A. I. Wrightman for the legislature, and then asks: Give us more material to choose from—he can't find five men out of the fourteen voted for. On top of that he says—give us Roosevelt for president. The writer visited a big factory this week, and on one of the walls were hundreds of cartoons of current politics.

VOTE TO ABOLISH THEM.

There is one short ballot movement the people would like. That is a movement to get rid of about half the officials they have. All these officials cost money, and none seem interested in lower taxes. What is wanted is men who will go to the legislature, and not pile up new burdens. It is constantly made more difficult to register and vote. It is so expensive and troublesome that less and less vote, and none naturalize. Those who do get nothing for their trouble, but higher taxation. The proposed short ballot plan, elect one to appoint all the rest, is bad. So few vote and so many would have to be appointed that the appointees would elect one dictator to office forever.

A PAPER THE PEOPLE READ.

Saturday evening nearly a thousand copies of The Daily Capital Journal are sold by the newsboys on the streets of Salem. This is in addition to the highly organized carrier routes, the deliveries at the suburban stores, and the free rural mail routes. The Daily Capital Journal has besides a large mail circulation all over the state and in California, and the Eastern states. The Capital Journal will be forced at an early day to install a fast, modern press, printing the paper from the roll in big city style. The Capital Journal has about forty people on its payrolls, and their wages all go to support families, and is spent in Salem. Some of the newsboys are making money enough to clothe themselves, and even help mother at home to buy things. If any one has doubts about these statements in regard to circulation this paper invites investigation. If any business man is not getting results from advertising in other mediums it is not the fault of this paper. It circulates. It is read. The people pay for it in advance. No one is forced to take it, but it sells on merit.

What We Never Forget,

According to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure our burns, boils, scalds, sores, skin eruptions, cuts, abrasions or bruises. Forty years of care have proved its merit. Unrivaled for piles, corns or cold sores. Only 25c at J. C. Perry's.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of J. C. Perry.

A Musical Farce Joseph M. Weber's much talked of merry musical importation, "Alma, Where Do You Live?" will entertain the local play-goers at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday, March 12. The piece is the joint work of those two clever Frenchmen, Paul Hervey and Jean Briquet, and the English adaptation was made by George V. Hobart. "Alma, Where Do You Live?" is one of the simon pure New York successes, and ran for one entire season at Weber's theater, to the largest crowds in the history of that playhouse. One of the pleasing features of the performance is the "Alma" waltz, a most dreamy melody which is infectious. Nannette Flack, Charles A. Murray, Aubrey Yates, and a carefully selected cast of Broadway players will interpret the different roles.

Now is the Time to Cleanse Your Blood

Of those impure, poisonous, effete matters that have accumulated in it during the winter and are known as Blood Humors. The unequalled and really wonderful success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in cleansing the blood makes it the medicine you should take. The secret of its success is the fact that it is the best possible combination of the best known agents, roots, barks and herbs for giving strength and tone to the bodily organs and functions. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla and begin taking it at once. In liquid form or tablets called Sarsatabs.

"Years ago when spring weather came I felt I would rather die than be so tired and exhausted. My mother got me some Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began taking it. We soon noticed a change for the better. I kept on taking the medicine until I was perfectly well and could run and play as hard as any of the girls. Since then the spring never comes without my taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I never feel at all bad in spring. We take Hood's Pills for every little ailment, and these two medicines keep us well." Mrs. A. Hopkins, 215 E. Ragle St., E. Boston, Mass.

BEAUTY AND FOOD

Madame Quivilla will be glad to answer any questions pertaining to womanly beauty. Personal replies will be given if a stamped and self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

That the food we eat has much to do with our complexions there is no doubt, but among all the faddists I have failed to observe very many good complexions. One preaches the doctrine of meat and water, and other raw foods of all kinds; the vegetarian who will touch nothing which has ever had in it the vital spark of blood yet do eat animal substances in the form of eggs, butter, cheese and milk. Then we have the natural food faddist who finds all the materials to build up the perfect body in nuts and fruits of the earth.

Now the truth is that often a kernel of good can be found in every new fad but it must never be forgotten that what one person will thrive beautifully upon means sickness and suffering to another. For perfect development man requires a greater variety of food than any other animal. We have to eat in order to repair the natural waste of the body—which is one twenty-fourth of its weight daily—and consequently we have to supply like materials. We must eat a variety of food because each food contains a particular element and it is the combination of these elements that build up the body.

There is no country in the world where there is so varied and abundant food, as in the United States, yet I doubt if the world can show elsewhere so many well-to-do people who are badly nourished, and the very ones who are nearest the source of supply, the agriculturists, live from one end of the year to the other on the most limited diet, utterly oblivious of the value in the fruits of the earth which could be their often without labor or price. The French and German peasants would revel and thrive on the refuse from an American farmer's kitchen, because necessity has taught them to extract every particle of nourishment from food supplies and on six square feet of ground they would raise all the savory herbs needed to give their "pot au feu" its delicious flavor.

Food affects the body for evil or for good, and of the two evils it is better to go hungry than to eat when over weary or in great haste. It is an assault to the stomach to thrust into it a load of half-masticated food, which under depression of fatigue it is incapable of digesting. Decomposition ensues and a sour stomach results. Are the Fly and Mosquito Dangerous?

The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of diseases, sprays them over our food and poisons us with typhoid and cholera. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malarial and yellow fever. The bacteria of consumption, or grip, are everywhere present for us to breathe into our lungs. The blood which flows through our veins and arteries is our protection. It should contain healthy red and white blood corpuscles—capable of warding off these disease germs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and alternative made entirely without alcohol, a pure glyceric extract of bloodroot, golden seal, Oregon grape root, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, which has enjoyed a world-wide reputation for over forty years. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fire of the body burns brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

"About forty years ago while in Newark, New Jersey, I had chills and fever," writes Mrs. M. M. MAURER, of Newark, N. J. "I was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took one bottle of it and the chills stopped. I had never had any symptoms of fever or ague since. That is all of twenty years ago. For I had the chills about twelve years before I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery'." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for liver ills.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE Wednesday, Mar. 13 Joe Weber Offers Geo. V. Hobart's English Version of the Sensational Musical Comedy Success ALMA WHERE DO YOU LIVE? IS A FINE MUSICAL FARCE Song Hits—"Alma," "Girls," "Boo Hoo-Hoo," "Childhood Days," "Sail Home," "Boogie Woogie," "The Land of Beautiful Dreams," "Love Me," "Never More," "Kiss Me My Love," Etc. PRICES—50c, $1.00 and $1.50.

"Alma, Where Do You Live?" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House, Wed., March 13th. It is a humor, and when they reached our audiences they were rapid and uninteresting. In his work on the play and lyrics Mr. Hobart considered only the original script of Paul Hervey. He passed by the clumsy German version. In preparing the piece for Berlin it had been made vulgar in the transition. The original "Alma," the French original, was dainty, spicy but not vulgar. Perhaps here and there an actor of the French school might in his treatment of a line or situation distort the author's meaning into something objectionable. But the innocent "Alma" is as clean a book as one would want. In the fact of many prejudices against the farce Joe Weber produced at his theater in the middle of August of last season, and although it was scrutinized closely by the hypercritical it was pronounced perfectly acceptable and in the best taste. The Corvallis fire department took a straw vote for president recently, at which Taft got 16 and Roosevelt 11; Woodrow Wilson got 2.
