FULL LEASED WIRE TELEGRAPH REPORT

FOOLISH CITY BUILDING.

The mistake of laying cheap pavements on principal streets of Salem will be paid for dearly. A bad pavement stops improvements, and all advance in the value of property.

THE RECORD OF THE COUNTY COURT.

When all other taxing bodies have gone the limit, the county court has held back. Marion county has the lowest county levy of any valley county, and the court should be sustained.

PUBLIC DOCKS AT SALEM.

The greatest need of Salem at present is public docks. Salem is getting railroads and is growing in business importance. Salem is bound to become a great distributing center for the Willamette valley.

THE TEXT-BOOK COMMISSION.

The last text-book commission just about doubled the burdens of the people for school books. Children staggered to school with an armful of expensive school books and contraptions.

THE FREE RURAL MAIL.

Salem business men are not opposed to a limited parcels post on the rural free delivery routes. Such a system as is outlined in the resolution below would increase the business of local merchants ten per cent.

BUSINESS MEN FOR ROOSEVELT.

It was a surprise that out of thirty Salem business men only twelve should have been for Taft, ten for Roosevelt and three for La Follette. It was an unexpected development of the progressive and insurgent strength in the stronghold of Taft sentiment, the state capitol.

DOCTRINE IS FAR REACHING AND DANGEROUS

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Washington, March 11.—What Chief Justice White, of the United States supreme court branded as "far reaching and dangerous doctrine," was delivered today by the United States supreme court when it dealt a severe blow to "cut rate" stores by holding that the sale or use of patented articles contrary to the license restrictions prescribed by the patentee is an infringement of patent.

The opinion was rendered in the case of the Dick company, mimeograph manufacturers, against Sidney Henry, a male agent who was alleged to have used on Dick's machines ink manufactured by a rival, which was contrary to the Dick license.

The court ruled: "Patents are a statutory monopoly and congress alone is empowered to change law limiting a patentee's rights." Chief Justice White in dissenting said: "This majority opinion curtails the right of society. Everyone knows there is now widespread limitation to use and price of patented articles."

"The ruling now made in effect is that the patentee has the power by contract to extend his patent rights to bring within the claims of his patent things not embraced therein, thus virtually legislating by causing the patent laws to cover subjects they could not otherwise reach. The result is not only to multiply the monopolies at the will of the interested party but to destroy the jurisdiction of state courts over subjects which have been within their rights."

"The patentee selling a patented engine now has the right, by contract, to bring under the patent laws all contracts for use of electricity used to afford power to work his machine. Take patented cooking utensils. The power is now recognized to bind by contract on who buys a utensil to use it in connection with no other food supply but what the patentee sells. My mind cannot stave off a dread of the vast extension of such practices which must follow."

"Those advocating the decision had a majority of only one and as one seat, that of Justice Day, was vacant, the majority decision was really rendered by a minority of the entire court. Attorney General Wickham, in commenting on the decision, said: 'It opens the possibility of a patent monopoly beyond anything I ever thought was in his scope. It is most drastic in its administrations of the patent law, one of the most important, and which affects the entire public.'

ENDS INDIGESTION STOMACH MISERY OR THE DYSPESIA

Nothing will remain undigested or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diaphepsin occasionally. This powerful digestive and antacid, though as harmless and pleasant as candy, will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat.

Eat what your stomach craves, without the slightest fear of indigestion or that you will be bothered with sour risings, belching, gas on stomach, heartburn, headaches from stomach, nausea, bad breath, water brash or a feeling like you had swallowed a lump of lead, or other disagreeable miseries. Should you be suffering now from any stomach disorder, you can get relief within five minutes.

If you will get from your pharmacist a 60-cent can of Pape's Diaphepsin you could always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and your meals would taste good, because you would know there would be no indigestion or sleepless nights or headache or stomach misery all the next day; and, besides, you would not need laxatives or liver pills to keep your stomach and bowels clean and fresh.

Pape's Diaphepsin can be obtained from your druggist, and contains more than sufficient to thoroughly cure the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia. There is nothing better for gas on the stomach or sour odors from the stomach or to cure a stomach headache.

You couldn't keep a handkerchief or more useful article in the house.

Don't Neglect a Child's Cough. The "Child's Welfare" movement has challenged the attention of thoughtful people everywhere. Mothers are natural supporters, and will find in Foley's Honey and Tar Compound a most valuable aid.

Many sufferers from rheumatism have been surprised and delighted with the prompt relief afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. This liniment is for sale by all dealers.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION.

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Regular Orderlies are a positive, pleasant, and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Regular Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and aid in producing a soothing, strengthening, purifying influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, grip, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea, or other annoying effects. They are especially good for children, weak persons, or old folks. Three sizes, 10c, 25c and 50c. Sold at our store—The Rexall Store.—J. C. Perry.

BULL ELK ON THE WAY TO OREGON

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] St. Anthony, Ida., March 12.—The only two full-grown bull elk ever shipped out of the Jackson Hole country are now speeding on their way to Oregon. They are the leaders of the herd of 15 selected by State Game Warden W. J. Finley, for Wallowa county.

Neither of them has taken kindly to the treatment to which they have been subjected since they were enticed into a corral, then forced into narrow crates on sleds, hauled 90 miles over the roughest mountain pass in the west to be loaded into a box car for the next to the final lap of their long journey. Because one of them is always belligerent and grins his teeth, he has been dubbed Roosevelt. His more peaceably inclined brother is known as Taft.

If you keep your mouth shut you won't have to eat your own words.

Consumption

Anyone interested in the cure of Consumption should get one of the booklets telling of recoveries by the use of Eckman's Alternative. Coughs, Stomach Colds and Pneumonia may be the beginning of more serious troubles. Eckman's Alternative is the effective remedy. Read Mr. Kanelly's statement: "I am Saratoga, N. Y."

"At Christmas time, 1910, I was not expected to live. Calling Dr. R. H. McCarty, he advised the use of Eckman's Alternative, which I took with excellent results and was entirely cured. During the past year I have gained 15 lbs. I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alternative." Signed Affidavit: J. A. W. KANALLY. Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in unobstructed system. Does not contain poisonous, habit-forming drugs.  X-RAYS AND SMILES.  Anyway, the Democrats feel certain of electing the delegates to the national Democratic convention—though the chances are that some of these elected will be like Saxo's virgins at the masquerade ball—only half of what they represented.

Nothing doing in the matter of Scott discovering the south pole. He has not claimed to have found it, but his friends make the claim for him. Is he in the Cook class?

The Astorian has an editorial on the "perverted type." We always knew there was something the matter with this type—but the newspaper men use descriptive language to describe the messy things—that sounds like Moses breaking the tablets of stone.

Selling's petition is larger than Bourne's, but so far the proceedings are only in the straw ballot class.

Mr. Fields, of Multnomah county, who has held the office of county clerk for 10 years, believes in rotation in office as applied to himself and would rotate into the secretary of state's office. The horse editor, realizing that there are not offices, honors and emoluments to go round, somehow feels that the political incubator is entitled to fresh eggs occasionally, and that there are some who have not held office 10 years—or at all—who might be given a chance. Mr. Fields is popular, and no doubt efficient, but has given enough of his life to the state.

The horse editor suggests that owners of vacant lots especially in the suburbs, allow those in Salem who care to do so, to raise garden stuff on the lots. It would not harm the property, but would make it more sightly.

Round trip to San Francisco, $25 and the glory of helping select the site for Oregon exhibit at the Panama exposition—tickets good until April 1. Say—it's cheaper than staying at home. If the paper did not need the horse editor's services, he would be tempted to go—if he had the price.

Mrs. Carter says she is coming to the coast again. If she does, it is sincerely hoped that she will have some kind of play that doesn't exploit the selacious and seamy side of life, and that she turn some attention to the artistic requirements of the play, instead of devoting it to studying out new poses for displaying her figure.

Mrs. Carter says she does not read the unfriendly criticism of her acting. If she did, she might profit thereby and improve her parts—though it is hard to teach an old dog new tricks.
