THE STRIKE SITUATION UNSETTLED

The influence of the I. W. W. was felt in this community Saturday, when nearly 100 men who have been engaged in track laying on the Salem-Eugene extension of the Oregon Electric, about eight miles south of the city, went on a strike. The men engaged at this work have been receiving $2.25 a day for 10 hours' work, which has been apparently satisfactory to the laborers. The only differences that have arisen was the fore part of last week, when the men struck on account of the kind of meals that were served them. The strikers and labor disturbances in various parts of the Northwest have resulted in a large number of the I. W. W.'s coming to this section, and it is largely on their account that the men quit work Saturday. The officials of the road have always been apprehensive of the reprehensible work done by the I. W. W.'s, which has created so much agitation in labor circles during the past several months, and were determined that that organization should not get a foothold on the construction work. Accordingly, as soon as they learned that a number of their gang had secured employment, they were picked out and dismissed. Several others were slated to be discharged Saturday evening, but those first discharged at once began to be a disturbing element among those still employed. All the I. W. W.'s then quit, and by their threats of violence they soon had the more timid of the others so frightened that they quit work also. The men have been receiving $2.25 for 10 hours and are demanding $2.50 for nine hours. As a basis for further differences they are claiming that the employment agents, the foreman and the time keeper are grafting from them. It is a well understood fact among railroad contractors and others engaging a large force of men, that the men only work a few days at a time. The contractors say they send their demands to the agencies for a certain number of men. The men are got together as soon as possible and forwarded to the scene of operation. They work a few weeks, or until they have accumulated a little money, when they become independent, quit working to return to the city for a good time. The leaders of the city roll these "live ones" for all they can and all are soon broke, only to return to work again as soon as a chance of work is found. It has become a familiar sight to Salem people to see almost every day men going toward the railroad construction and a large number of them coming away.

Of the 150 men employed on the road at the point where the track laying is in progress there are still about 70 willing to work. The strikers came at once to the city and paraded through some of the streets, some of them going to the police station for sleeping quarters and assistance in getting rooms until they were able to get their pay checks, which they did yesterday. Of the men who quit work, most of them are I. W. W.'s, there being a few exceptions, men who would rather quit than be involved in a labor disturbance. Several instances of this kind have been noted within the last few days.

It is possible for employment agents to fleece men whom they send to large jobs of contracting, but, with good laborers as scarce as they are, it is not likely that the contractors would long tolerate such work, especially while they are making the effort they are at present to rush the laying of steel. It is reported that the strikers have rented a barn in some part of South Salem, where they have established headquarters, and from which they will keep up their agitation and intimidation among those who will be likely to seek employment on the railroad work.

No special difficulty has been experienced so far by the police department, as the strikers are very orderlies. Two or three representatives of the I. W. W.'s, or Socialists, as they are pleased to call themselves, were in the city yesterday from Portland. They conducted a meeting at the corner of State and Commercial streets, but the speakers did not appear to stir up much confusion or disturbance by their speeches. It is understood, however, that banners are being displayed in Portland denouncing the Oregon Electric railroad, which may handicap the contractors in getting more men.

WILLAMETTE AND EUGENE CROSS BATS

A very good game of baseball was witnessed in Salem Saturday between the teams of the Willamette University and that of the State University at Eugene. The game was hotly contested from the beginning, as the teams are very evenly matched. At the ninth inning the score would have been tied had not the team from Eugene claimed one more run than shown by the official score. Most of those present say that the score was 5 to 5, but the Eugene bunch claimed that a mistake had been made by the score keeper, so to settle the matter, the manager of the locals generously consented to give the one score contended for. A great many very uncomplimentary remarks were made at the end of the game, both at the ball grounds and on the streets regarding the unprofessional way the visiting team claimed one score more than the score keeper had recorded, and one more than any of those keeping the score for themselves recorded.

JOHN E. TEAL FOR JUDGE POLK COUNTY

A strong man has been nominated for county judge of Polk county on the Republican ticket—John E. Teal, of Falls City. Mr. Teal knows the county well, and has served as county commissioner. He was defeated for that office for re-election two years ago by F. H. Petrie, Democrat. Mr. Teal is one of the best bridge and road builders in the county. For the nomination he ran against the present county judge, Ed. F. Coak and U. S. Loughray, former state senator, and won out by three hundred plurality. Mr. Teal is running against N. F. Gregg, the Democratic candidate, also a man who is well spoken of.

ANSWER IT HONESTLY.

Are the Statements of Salem Citizens Not More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers?
This is a vital question. It is fraught with interest to Salem. It permits of only one answer. It cannot be evaded or ignored. A Salem citizen speaks here. Speaks for the welfare of Salem. A citizen's statement is reliable. An utter stranger's doubtful. Home proof is the best proof. A. W. Lobach, R. F. D. No. 1, Salem, Oregon, says: "I was laid up for two weeks by disordered kidneys, caused, I believe, by a strain. I tried several remedies but obtained no relief, and when a neighbor advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so. The contents of one box made me so well that I resumed work. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me greatly and I am pleased to recommend them."

"Woman's Work Is Never Done."
It is the faithful woman in the home, who does the cooking, sweeping, dusting, washing and ironing, ambitious to keep her home as neat as a pin, and often having two or three children who require care and attention, who calls for our sympathy. Overwork itself is the result. Outraged nature asserts itself in time and female troubles appear. Such women should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the exact medicine they need when their strength is overtaxed and female weakness and derangements make life a burden. For nearly 40 years it has been the standard remedy for such troubles.

HAVE NOT YET SELECTED HIS SUCCESSOR

At a meeting of the school board, held Saturday night, the teacher of English was appointed censor for all articles that will hereafter appear in the Clarion, the official paper of the student body. This action is held to be necessary on account of an article that appeared in the paper. The matter referred to was a typographical error, and one that might have occurred if a strict censorship was maintained. The article which has caused so much unfavorable comment among the clergymen of the city contained the expression "By God," which in the original copy read "By gad." This was explained before in the press of the city by the managers of the Clarion, and was further explained at the meeting Saturday night by R. L. Kirk, principal of the high school. In the future a strict censorship will be maintained over the articles appearing in the class paper.

The matter of the bids for heating the Richmond and Highland school buildings was taken up, but the contracts have not been let so far, but will probably be awarded at the next meeting of the board.
The expert's report regarding the financial affairs of the student body was received and showed that all expenditures were accounted for by the proper vouchers, but that some irregularities were found in some of the vouchers, especially in regard to the date of them, being subsequent to the date of the bill as made by the dealer. This, it is explained, was necessary in many cases, especially during the summer vacation, in order that such valuable time should not be lost.
Some discussion was had about the election of a superintendent to succeed Mr. Powers, the present incumbent, who resigned at the meeting held a week ago. Nothing definite was done, however, as the board showed a disposition to move cautiously in the selection of Mr. Powers' successor. It seems to be the policy of the board to make the selection of a city superintendent before the grade teachers are selected, thus giving the superintendent something to say about his assistants.
