WOODROW WILSON DEMOCRATS

CLAIM REACTIONARIES IN HIS PARTY ARE CONCEALING THE FACTS AS TO HIS STRENGTH WITH TAINTED TALES OF HIS WEAKNESS.

Washington, D. C., May 16. (Special).—The action of the Pennsylvania state convention in adopting a resolution endorsing Governor Wilson for the Democratic presidential nomination, and binding all the delegates to support his candidacy, means that he will have the loyal support of the 76 delegates from the Keystone state at all stages of the convention.

It is the opinion of practically every well-informed Democrat and a great many Republicans in Pennsylvania that Governor Wilson is the one Democrat who can carry that state in the event of his nomination. Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, who achieved a splendid personal victory in the state convention, is strongly of the opinion that the New Jersey governor would carry the rock-ribbed Republican state of Pennsylvania against either Roosevelt or Taft. Mr. Palmer, who returned from Harrisburg today, said:

"It was the general feeling amongst Democrats of all shades at the state convention that Woodrow Wilson can carry Pennsylvania if the party is wise enough to nominate him at Baltimore. From the beginning of the campaign for the presidential nomination, I have believed that with Governor Wilson as our candidate we would have a chance to carry Pennsylvania this fall, owing to the widespread dissatisfaction among the Republicans of the state with the Penrose machine and the great popularity of Governor Wilson with the better class of Republicans, as well as with all classes of Democrats.

"The events of the last few weeks and especially of the last few days in the Republican party in Pennsylvania have vastly increased the bitterness between the factions of that party and I am now confident that Governor Wilson will carry the state if he is the Democratic nominee for the presidency.

"I think Governor Wilson would be as certain to carry Pennsylvania, whether the Republican nominee be Roosevelt or Taft, as he would be of carrying his own state of New Jersey. "I know something of the feeling that exists between the Flinn, Magee and the Penrose factions, and I know that as a result thousands of Pennsylvania Republicans will vote the Democratic ticket this fall rather than support either Roosevelt or Taft. Governor Wilson, more than any other man being considered for the Democratic presidential nomination, possesses the qualities calculated to attract Independent Republicans."

The reactionary press will not publish the truth about Governor Wilson's candidacy. The subscribers of one of the great press associations, which featured Speaker Clark's victory in Maryland, do not yet know that Governor Wilson carried South Carolina and Porto Rico the same day. Maryland only gave the speaker 16 votes, while South Carolina and Porto Rico added 24 delegates to the Wilson column. This is a typical instance of the suppression of news with reference to Governor Wilson's campaign by supposedly fair and disinterested news disseminating organizations and publications.

Governor Wilson has a greater strength today in actual delegates elected to the Baltimore convention than any of the other candidates, but this fact is carefully concealed in the reactionary press. One of these papers that has been most notorious in misrepresenting the Wilson candidacy published a table of convention strength today, and credited to Governor Wilson a total of 13 votes.

Governor Wilson has committed to his cause 232 delegates, a larger number than can be claimed by any other candidate.

One of the tricks employed by the allies at this particular stage of the Democratic presidential pre-convention campaign is to mislead the public with tainted news stories forecasting anti-Wilson results in states that have not yet held primaries or conventions, and which are certain to select delegates committed to the candidacy of the New Jersey executive. The allies put out a story under a Detroit date line last night indicating that Governor Wilson would lose in Michigan. This yarn was a pure manufacture. Woodrow Wilson will have the 30 votes in Michigan, and a telegram to Woodrow Wilson headquarters today from S. W. Beakes, of Kalamazoo, who is running the Wilson campaign in the state, states that the New Jersey governor will have is the medicine you need. It prevents indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness and Malaria.

fully 200 majority in the state convention. Mr. Beakes will have all of 200 majority in the state convention that assembles the 15th. Delegates numbering 429 are under iron-clad instructions to vote for Governor Wilson. Two counties with 40 votes have endorsed his candidacy, and 191 of the 613 uninstructed delegates are strong Wilson men. There is no doubt of the convention result."

This cheering message to Wilson headquarters is corroborated in all statements of fact by Representative Albert Burleson, the chairman of the Democratic house caucus, who has just returned from Michigan, where he went by invitation to address the democracy of Bay City. He reports that the Democratic sentiment in Michigan is overwhelmingly in favor of the nomination of the New Jersey governor at Baltimore.

Another tainted news story has been put out from Nashville with reference to the action of the Democratic county conventions in Tennessee. This yarn sought to inform the public that there are sufficient instructions in the county conventions to insure the state delegation for Clark. As a matter of fact less than one-tenth of the delegates elected to the state convention have been instructed for the speaker. A message to a member of the Tennessee Congressional delegation today said:

"Very few of the delegates to the state convention are under instruction. Clark has less than one-tenth of the delegates instructed for him, and his convention strength is far less than that of Governor Wilson. The big fight is whether or not the delegation shall go uninstructed."

Final Exhibit.
 The art class, which gives its final exhibit on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, extends a cordial invitation to all to visit the studio and see the work.

On the walls, among selections from the studies made during the year are many clever and promising things and gives one to regret that more time and opportunities cannot be given these ambitious young artists.

Since the weather has permitted the class has painted from landscape, going out two afternoons of each week. Salem's environs offer much paintable material and these excursions have been both pleasant and profitable.

A separate section of the exhibit is given to work by members of the Sketch club, which met once a week from the beginning of the year until spring vacation, giving students a chance to draw and also to find out that it isn't as easy as it looks to sketch from the moving figure. The improvement of those who have only this one hour a week to sketching is quite marked.

THE REAL SECRET OF REJUVENATING THE FACE

(From The Clubwoman)
 She holds the true secret of facial rejuvenation who has learned how to remove the dead skin particles as fast as they appear. It's a secret anyone may possess. The aged, faded or discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed, in an entirely safe and rational manner, by the nightly application of ordinary mercurized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded cuticle. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day, there's no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on your face. The mercurized wax, procurable at any drug store, (an ounce is sufficient), is applied like cold cream. In the morning it is erased with soap and water. It's the best thing known for freckles, blackheads, pimples, moth patches, liver spots and fine surface wrinkles. For the deeper wrinkles an excellent recipe is: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in 1/2 pt. witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution produces quick and wonderful results.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO IN THIS CASE?

Formerly if a man didn't turn in a full account of all his personal assets to the tax appraiser he was merely fibbing.

This year he commits perjury. The tax assessors are now on their rounds. This is the open season for truth-telling. Every man must make oath to his schedule of personal property.

"Are you sure you have listed all your personal property in this schedule?" asks the assessor.

"Yes, sir," you reply, right boldly. "You have given here all the money you have in bank?"

"Yes, sir." There is a quivering intonation in your voice.

"Then stand up to be sworn," says the assessor.

You hesitate before the oath-giver. You color up. You swallow hard.

You have $1,000 in the bank, paying three per cent interest, or $30 a year. One thousand dollars, scraped together through sacrifices. You didn't go anywhere on your vacation last year. Your wife has made over her last year's hat. You have had dry-cleaned your last summer's suit because you considered that you couldn't afford to put up $15 for a store suit.

You have denied yourself the theater for two years; you have cut out smoking; and you take your lunch in a place where they serve coffee and rolls for five cents.

And all this self-denial is to one purpose—all you are planning to build a home.

Now, if you tell the truth about the $1,000 in bank it will cost you $15 in taxes, or one-half of the interest you draw from the bank.

Fifteen dollars is exactly the price of the suit which you denied yourself in order to swell the bank account. It would have bought your wife two hats. It represents 300 five-cent cigars.

These thoughts race through your mind more quickly than the time it takes to tell them. And there is the cross current echo of the assessor's words: "Stand up to be sworn."

And then you—
 Well, what do you do under the circumstances?—Cincinnati Post.

The question ought to be "what should a man do under such circumstances?"

If the taxpayer is one who favors a system of compelling every one to pay according to the value of his property, no matter in what shape that property may be, then he should have the courage of his convictions, should truthfully declare the exact amount he has in bank and the exact value of everything else he may own. He has no right to evade the consequences of a system which he has helped to fasten on the people. He should take the dose of his own medicine as gracefully as he can. If that experience shows him better than he has been shown before, the horrible injustice of the general property tax, then let him join the ranks of those who would bring about reform.

Diamonds

Sparklers of character. We purchase diamonds from cutters of good stones. We won't buy poor diamonds, because we don't wish to sell that kind. A diamond is either good or poor, there being no other way about it. Good diamonds are like anything else of value—a poor diamond is a poor investment. If you should see our diamond, and it be a good one, our chances are excellent for making a good sale. Bear this in mind when needing a diamond, and come here where the stock of stones is absolutely dependable. Diamonds set in rings, studs, brooches, etc. Prices reasonable on diamonds of character.
