FOR PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE.

It is complimentary to Salem that one of the men mentioned for president of the senate is a resident of this city. Senator Carson made an efficient member of the upper house and has the ability to make a god president of the senate. As is required of a Salem senator, he stood valiantly for all the appropriations needed for the state institutions. He was not small in his dealings with other parts of the state and took the broad stand that Salem was not all of Oregon. He did all in his power to counteract the old cry of the Salem Hog, and its reputation for grabbing all the appropriations. He secured an appropriation for the hall of justice to be built east of the state capitol that is to cost $150,000. He was also in favor of the appropriations for the district fairs, and for the extermination of orchard pests. It takes a man of nerve to stand up for what all parts of the state wants, and at the same time get what Salem asks for. Senator Carson is not the kind of a man to apologize for any of his actions in the legislature, when he did right.

THE COST OF SILAGE.

Every farmer who uses a silo is interested in the cost of silage, yet very few can state with reasonable accuracy the cost of producing silage on their own farms. In collecting data on silos from 36 farms in Western Washington the cost ranges from $1.00 to $6.50 per ton, and east of the mountains from $1.00 to $5.00 per ton. Western Washington, 21 farms report average cost in silo, $2.76 per ton. Eastern Washington, 15 farms report average cost in silo, $2.64 per ton.

The above figures are not claimed to be exact, but they will bear some close study. The factors which determine a silage crop are: 1. Value or rent of the land. 2. Yield of crop per acre. 3. Cost of harvesting and putting in silo. 4. Ability of the silo to preserve the crop.

The first factor is fixed, and does not vary from year to year. The crop yield depends upon the quality of the seed and the condition of the soil. It is largely within the farmer's control. The cost of harvesting and siloing the crop depends upon the ability of the farmer to secure sufficient help and manage it effectively. This factor is entirely within his control. If the silo is not sound it should be repaired or rebuilt. Why not keep account this year and find out what it costs us? Next year see how much the showing can be improved.

CAN WE AFFORD TO LOSE THE STOVE WORKS.

The plain truth needs to be told this community, that it needs industries and payrolls far more than it needs boosting. Real estate values are advancing and sub-division of property is going on faster than our opportunities for employment. It is all right to boost real estate and get in new people and locate them on five and ten-acre tracts for future homes. But a large number of these same people will have to obtain employment to be able to live on these small acreage tracts. When such an industry offers as the Northwestern stove works the whole community should be aroused to secure that industry.

The fact that it has been located at a state institution, and has been operated with convict labor in the past does not change things. It is now to be made a free industry, and if established here would be the largest employer of labor, next to the sawmills and woolen mills.

The city made a terrible mistake once when it let the Oregon Nursery Company go away from here and seek a new location. It has grown to be a half million dollar enterprise, and is building a city around its new location.

The Northwestern Stove Works plant is the largest thing of the kind on the Pacific coast, and will be sold. It will be sold for cash at assignee's sale, and it may stay at Salem if a site can be secured and buildings guaranteed.

It seems the Board of Trade committee on manufactures has not properly understood the offer of the intending buyers. They turned it down because it was their impression that the owners of the plant wanted a $6000 site and $7500 for buildings.

The intending buyers and owners of the option on the plant say they want a site and enough money raised on the site to erect buildings.

They say they asked the committee on manufactures to secure the site, and then pledge enough money on the site to erect the buildings.

The money raised on the site and the buildings were to remain in the trusteeship of the Board of Trade until the owners of the industry made good.

The matter should not be dismissed without a further effort to locate it here, as it is payrolls this city needs. The city ought easily be able to raise five thousand dollars to erect the buildings, and we will make as bad a mistake as we did on the Oregon Nursery Company if we do not do it.

There must be some way of getting at this, and the business men and capitalists and property owners ought to be willing to help.

We believe they are willing and will help if the matter is properly placed before them, and the interested parties should get together.

THE JUNE OUTING.

The June Outing is replete in matter which is bound to interest the out-of-door man, be he athlete, sportsman or farmer. "Profit from Trees on Waste Land," "Common Sense in Poultry Feeding" and "Money in Strawberry Growth" are the titles of the more practical articles.

Of special interest to the sportsman are Samuel G. Camp's discussion of various types of rod for dry fishing, "Quick Rifle Firing and Running Shots," by Charles Askins and an article by F. M. Bogan on "Camp Emergencies and How to Meet Them." The baseball man is not forgotten, for Edward Lyell Fox tells us something about the hard job of the baseball star.

"The taming of the Crew" is a timely description, both amusing and instructive, of the training of the men on the varsity squad—by Blair Jaekel.

Robert Footner's narrative "New Rivers of the North" is continued, as also is "Footloose and Free," by Chalmers, and Charles Stuart Moody writes sympathetically of his much maligned and abused wild friend the black bear.

The cover is by W. N. Wilson and there are the usual excellent photographs and illustrations.

CITY MARSHAL OF WESTFALL IS MURDERED BY MAN WHO WAS FORMER MARSHAL OF THAT CITY

JASPER WESTFALL SHOT TO DEATH BY ACE CAREY WHO WAS RESISTING ARREST—CAREY HAD BEEN DISCHARGED AS CITY MARSHAL AND WESTFALL APPOINTED IN HIS PLACE—MAN WHO COMMITTED CRIME HAS BAD RECORD.

(Ontario, Malheur County, Democrat) Jasper Westfall, town marshal of the town of Westfall, on the Burns stage line 46 miles west of Ontario, was shot and killed by Ace Carey, a noted gun man and a former city marshal of the same town, while resisting arrest, Carey and a pal having engaged in "shooting up the town."

It seems that Carey was appointed marshal of the town about a month ago when Ben Corbett moved away and while Mayor West was out of town. Mayor West returned a few days ago and called a meeting of the council, deposed Carey and appointed Jasper Westfall as town marshal. Sore at West and Westfall on account of his downfall from police duty, Carey began drinking in company with Arthur P. Ricketts, and after a few drinks made the remark that they were going out to try the new marshal.

Both carried revolvers, Carey a 32 automatic and Ricketts a 32 Smith & Wesson. Losing no time they began shooting up the town and fired a number of shots through the roof of the porch of the Jones' saloon, Marshal Westfall, hearing of Carey's shooting up the town as well as of the boast that he could not be arrested, started towards the Jones saloon. This was about 15 minutes before the fatal ending of the trouble. Seeing the town marshal, Carey drew his gun and covered Westfall, started to abuse him and told him that if he attempted to arrest him that he would kill him. Carey all the time holding the muzzle of his revolver against the marshal's stomach.

Westfall was not armed but as soon as he could he went to a store to get his gun and then followed to Hart's saloon, where he thought Carey and Ricketts had gone. It was while on the porch of the Hart saloon that the marshal spied Carey coming to that place. Carey walked up to the porch began cursing and boasting that Westfall was afraid to arrest him and brandishing his gun, made all sort of threats and remarks too vile to be repeated.

Unable to stand any more of Carey's talk, Marshal Westfall then walked off the porch toward Carey and told him that he must consider himself under arrest. Carey then backed off a few steps and Westfall told him to come on with him, and it was while Westfall was reaching for his gun to cover Carey that Carey grabbed his own and began to fire, although the marshal got the first shot, which went wild, missing Carey's head. Carey was quick, and before 15 witnesses could even stop to think, he had fired three shots, two lodging in the marshal's body and Westfall lay on the ground dying. He lived only 45 minutes, one bullet passing through his side.

Immediately after firing the shots that killed the marshal, Carey stooped to get Westfall's gun, and with the two revolvers held the frantic bystanders at bay and in a few seconds walked on to Hart's saloon. After some further trouble, Carey was arrested by Deputy Ben Corbett, while in the Jones store, where he had hidden Corbett to get him more ammunition.

Much excitement prevailed in Westfall for a time as those who had Carey in custody in the poorly constructed jail feared that friends of the murdered marshal would lynch the prisoner, while Carey's friends might attempt to give him his liberty. Carey was placed in irons and two men armed to the teeth stood guard over him until Deputy Sheriff Ben

Brown, of Vale, arrived for Carey at 12:30 the next morning.

Carey is a man 35 years of age and his wife just got up from her bed a few days before, having just given birth to a child about 10 days ago.

Carey has a record. About six years ago, while town marshal at Westfall, he shot and killed Frank Camman, but was exonerated on the plea of self defense. Everybody here also remembers all about the awful beating he gave Dan Brady, an old man of 80 years of age, about three years ago, which resulted in the old man's death a few days later. For some reason the case was never taken up.

The murdered man was about 40 years of age and leaves his wife and three children.

MANUFACTURERS ORGANIZE FOR HOME INDUSTRY

Marion county manufacturers meet this evening at the Board of Trade to form a permanent organization and make plans for an exhibit at Salem during the Cherry Fair. The Woodburn Tribune has this notice:

"A permanent organization to be known as the Marion County Manufacturers' association was formed last Monday night at a meeting in the Board of Trade rooms at Salem and plans were made for holding an exhibit during the week of the Cherry fair. To further arrangements and decide upon the place and also to get the association in good working order the following committees were appointed:

Committee on organization—G. Stolz, Ernest Blue and A. R. Baker, committee on place—F. Vincent, W. G. Allen and F. O. Vogt. The executive committee appointed by the board will hold over and be the executive committee of the new organization. It comprises C. M. Eppley, A. Huckestein, Mr. Gleason, C. H. Spaulding and E. Hofer.

"Much enthusiasm was displayed at the meeting and about 25 of Salem's manufacturers were present. Mr. Eppley was chosen chairman and Mr. Baker, secretary.

Jas. C. Dahlmann, serving his third term as mayor, Omaha, Neb., again was successful in receiving the overwhelming support of the voters in the primary election. He also successfully rid himself of a bad case of kidney trouble by the aid of Foley Kidney Pills, and writes: "I have taken Foley Kidney Pills and they have given me a great deal of relief, so I cheerfully recommend them." What Foley Kidney Pills have done for Mayor Dahlmann, they will do for any other person bothered with backache, rheumatism, or any other form of kidney or bladder trouble. Just try them for quick and permanent results. Dr. Stone Drug Co.

Mrs. Wm. A. Allen, Chacon, New Mexico, had so severe a cough that it nearly choked her to death. Mr. Allen says: "We tried many things without helping her when by good luck I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It helped her at once and finally cured her. It is the best medicine we ever used." Dr. Stone Drug Co.

LITIGATION OVER THE BREITENBUSH

The Hammond Lumber company has filed an answer to the condemnation suit filed some time ago by the Willamette Power company, in which the power company seeks to acquire a power right on the Breitenbush in the Cascades. The answer alleges that, on account of the construction of a dam 100 feet high, as proposed by the power company, that damage to the amount of $577,500 will be done the lumber company, which owns the sawmill at Mill City, and a large amount of timber along the banks of the Santiam and Breitenbush rivers. In their answer they allege that with such a dam across the Breitenbush creek the property of the Hammond company would be greatly menaced thereby and in constant danger of destruction by a flood of water at all times.

LONG TRIP TO DECIDE SMALL HONOR

When W. W. Honer, of Possil; W. J. Edwards, of Maryville, and W. R. Patter appear before the secretary of state Saturday to draw straws to determine which of them shall grace the office of representative from the twenty-eighth representative district, it will mark the first settlement of a tie of the kind since 1906.

All three are Democrats, and were nominated by two votes each to represent Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler counties in the legislature.

W. J. Jackson was also nominated as representative for this district and as state senator for the eighteenth district. He cannot run for both offices, and the secretary has asked him to state which one he desires.

New Tuberculosis Remedy Based on Medicine

To say that a specific exists for the cure of Consumption is perhaps too strong a statement, but in Eckman's Alternative we have a medicine that has been the means of curing many a life long case of usefulness, and is permanently curing a large number of Consumptives.

Certainly a person afflicted with a wasting disease should be well fed with wholesome, nourishing food, but frequently raw eggs in quantities cause a digestive breakdown and then no food nourishes. As for milk, a very good food for many, but a producer of biliousness for some.

Any diet that keeps a Consumptive well nourished is the right one, but what is going to cure the patient—Eckman's Alternative has cured and is curing many a case of Consumption. Let those speak who know. Here is a specimen: "Gentlemen: On June 3, 1907, I was operated upon for Tubercular peritonitis at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. After the operation my physician gave me up as hopeless. I was then urged by a friend to take Eckman's Alternative, which I did. My weight at the time was 72 lbs. I began to improve and steadily gained in health and strength. I now weigh 125 lbs., and am absolutely cured. Believing I owe it to myself and others, I make this statement." (Signed) ALBERT EDNA FINZER.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in splinting the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman's Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and J. C. Perry.
