CHINESE MAKE FINE SHOWING

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Batang, China, June 4.—Reports received today from Tibet say the Chinese are regaining the upper hand in the rebellious dependency. At least accounts the Chinese forces from Kansu and Szechwa provinces were converging upon Lhasa, and it is likely that, by now, they are besieging or in possession of the Tibetan capital. More than this, the Chinese military commanders have won the friendship of the Tibetan tribes along the frontier of China proper, and many of the tribesmen joined the Chinese troops in their march on Lhasa.

The success thus far of the expedition sent against the rebels speaks highly for President Yuan Shi Kai's judgment in the selection of its leaders. Not only have the Chinese soldiers been well handled, from a military standpoint, but an important diplomatic triumph has been achieved, in dividing the Tibetans among themselves.

The greatest danger to the Chinese is that of English interference. Though the British government has denied any such intention, it is far from being trusted by the Pekin administration.

UNCLE SAMUEL SELLS RIFLES TO THE CUBANS

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Washington, June 3.—On request of the state department, the war department this afternoon ordered that 50,000 Krag carbines and 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition be at once shipped to the Cuban government. The rifles will be sold to President Gomez at $8 each.

Gomez hitherto has been unable to purchase arms in the United States as nearly all the rifles manufactured are sold to the American government. The state department agreed to accommodate Gomez and to prevent the necessity of his having to send to Europe to get arms with which to crush the negro rebellion.

SMILES.

Things are coming Reuf's way. All the indictments against him have been dismissed; he has been discharged as an attorney at law, and now, if he gets paroled, which seems probable, he will get an opportunity to start new in a reasonably clean condition.

The days will not grow longer much longer, in fact will grow shorter considerably longer.

Summer begins at 2:09 Friday, June 21. It is fortunate it does not come sooner, for it will be hot enough at Chicago on the 18th and 19th, despite the fact that it will still be spring.

A post-mortem examination on a deceased Oregon City cow discloses the fact that she died from eating poisoned sausage. It served her right. A cow that would eat sausage when green clover is plentiful, deserves everything, even to an autopsy conducted with a mattock and a meat saw.

Oregon City's dog catcher got busy Saturday. With poisoned sausage lying around as cow food his job should be light, unless the dogs are not cannibalistic, and draw the line on linked canine long drawn out.

SENATOR NIXON OF NEVADA IS DANGEROUSLY ILL

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Washington, June 4.—That Senator G. S. Nixon, of Nevada, is critically ill, as a result of a nasal operation performed last week, was learned here today. Blood poisoning is feared, it is said, and hope for the senator's recovery practically has been abandoned.

Full of Prunes.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Los Angeles, Cal., June 4.—Only one fan in 100 ventures the declaration that Umpire McGreevy is full of prunes, but his ump declares it is true. "For breakfast every day," he said. "Best thing in the world for the eye."

IS TRYING TO RECALL LEASE

tiff sought to make a recall on the lease, so to speak, and have it cancelled.

"No complaint against the defendant's operation of the yard came until last fall and we will show by evidence, and I want to say right here, not by Chinese evidence, as has been asserted, but evidence by hop experts, that the yard was run in accordance with the lease and in a skillful manner. We will show by evidence here that the plaintiff has harassed and annoyed the defendant in the operation of the yard. We will show that he incited the hop pickers to strike and that this interfered with the hop picking. We will also show that the plaintiff had a suit instituted to eject the defendant but that the case was dismissed and that he also had one of his employes arrested and that the case against him was dismissed.

Attorney Carson then went on to explain the different charges preferred against the defendant. The bins and warehouse had been repaired, he declared, in accordance with the lease and some of the buildings erected by the defendant. Wire was not used in the hop yard because the lease had not contemplated it as wire was not used when it was executed. Beers, realizing this, had furnished the wire when it was to be used and McMahon had failed to do so. The yard was not as well supplied with poles as it should be, he admitted; but this was due to the fact, he explained, that the plaintiff had forbidden the defendant to cut timber from the land to be used as poles, and the defendant was not to blame for this condition.

"The plaintiff finds fault with the inartistic implements used to cultivate the yard," sarcastically said Carson, "but we will show that they were adequate for the work and also that his cultivation was in accordance with the ideas of expert hop men."

"And then there was the geese," he continued. "It is outrageous to think of a Chinaman owning geese and those geese getting over on the plaintiff's clover patch. But the evidence will explain all the expeditions of the geese into this patch to the satisfaction of the court."

After declaring that he would explain to the satisfaction of the court all the allegations made against the defendant and that he was satisfied of a verdict in his favor, the attorney for the defense concluded his argument, and the taking of evidence was commenced.

McMahon was the first witness placed on the stand this morning, and after he had told his story about how the lease had been violated by Sing, in failing to properly cultivate the yard, keep up the buildings, and fences and by allowing his hogs and geese to run wild, Attorney Carson put him through a grilling cross-examination.

Attorney Carson desired to know if he had found anything in the lease about geese, and McMahon was forced to admit that he had not, and the fact that they run at large could not be considered as a violation of it. He drew the same admission from him with relation to the hogs and divers other things. After Carson was through with him he had trimmed his case down until he had but one leg left to stand on, and that was the failure to properly cultivate the yard, and the attorney for the defense declare that when this afternoon they place expert witnesses on the stand to testify on this subject, that this leg will also be knocked out from under him.

The next witness on the stand was B. T. Jones, and his evidence was weak. J. L. McLean's evidence, the next witness, was so weak that the attorney for the plaintiff, after a few minutes' examination, let go of him like a hot potato, and the defense did not even bother with a cross-examination.

P. Case was the next witness, and,

A WOMAN'S WISDOM.

The worried mother wakes up to hear her baby's heavy breathing—a little cough—perhaps the croup or whooping cough. She does not want to send for the doctor when perhaps the trouble does not amount to much. Finally she thinks of that medical book her father gave her, The Common Sense Medical Adviser, by Dr. Pierce, M. D. She says "just the thing to find out what is the matter with the little dear." Two million households in this country own one—and it's to be had for only 31c. in stamps—1,000 pages in splendid cloth binding. A good family adviser in any emergency. It is for either sex. This is what many women write Dr. Pierce—in respect to his "Favorite Prescription," a remedy which has made thousands of melancholy and miserable women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength.

Mrs. ZUBERT AND BABY.

"My desire is to write a few lines to let you know what your valuable medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. MARGARET ZUBERT, of 328 S. Denton Street, Baltimore, Md. "Before the doctor came to our house I was a very sick woman. I wrote you for advice which was kindly given and which made me a different woman in a short time. After taking the first bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' I began improving so that I hardly knew I was in such a condition. I did my own housework—washing and ironing, cooking, sewing, and the work of all nursed three children who had whooping cough. I hardly knew of the advent ten minutes before—so easy was it. The baby is as fat as a butter-ball. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for any woman to take when in this condition. I recommend it to all my friends."

finding that he knew nothing about any of the matters, save cultivation, and but little about that, the attorney for the plaintiff set about extracting what he knew about it, and it was like extracting teeth with connected roots.

Carson made the assertion in his opening statement that the suit was brought for the purpose of railroad Sing off the farm, so that McMahon could get all of this year's crop, and that there are others not connected with the case who believe the same thing was evidenced this morning, when a prominent lawyer attending the case as a listener, leaned over to several lawyer friends and declared that, "while he had not heard much of the evidence that he would bet $5 that McMahon would lose the case." He found no takers, however, the others apparently sharing his views on the subject.

The afternoon the plaintiff will conclude his evidence, and the defense begin the introduction of their testimony.

Move on Now! says a policeman to a street crowd, and whacks heads if it don't. "Move on now," says the big, harsh, mineral pills to bowel congestion and suffering follows. Dr. King's New Life Pills don't bulge the bowels. They gently persuade them to right action, and health follows. 25c at J. C. Perry's.
