

CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE WILL NOT FILE ITS REPORT BEFORE SATURDAY NIGHT

Many Contests Remain to Be Decided, Debates Cannot Be Shut Off Without a Charge of Unfairness, and the Committee Will Not File a Partial Report--This Means No Action Can Be Taken by Convention Before Monday--Later it Changes Its Mind and Files Partial Report.

Chicago, June 21.—Congressman George R. Maib, the New York member of the credentials committee, joined with Devine in his demand that the leaders drop their plan of asking for a partial report.

"We have remaining to be heard," he said, "five districts of Missouri, eight delegates at large and eight districts in Washington, seven districts in Louisiana, six delegates at large in Michigan and four at large and eight districts in Virginia all of which are of supreme importance to the Republicans of the nation. We cannot limit debate. To do would give the opposition another opportunity to declare that we favor gag rule. I, for one, will not stand for the committee making any report to the convention until such time as we are in a position to clear up the entire matter."

"I think that by keeping at it, as we have up to the present, we will conclude our labors late tomorrow (Saturday) night. I think, though, that this would be too late to have the report acted on before Monday, as a Sunday session would be out of the question."

"This will mean, if the Roosevelt forces insist, as they say they will, on having a separate roll call on every separate contest, that we cannot complete our labors before next Wednesday. And even to get that far we will have to hold long day and night sessions every day next week." The assertion, coupled with Devine's declaration of opposition, caused a sensation among the members of the convention "steering committee." If adhered to, it was feared many of the delegates would refuse to remain over but would return to their homes before the convention finished its labors.

D. C. Edwards and O. H. Waddle, Roosevelt adherents, who were seated by the national committee in the eleventh Kentucky district, were confirmed in their seats by the committee on credentials today by a vote of 26 to 15.

After agreeing to report on the states, the committee got into a snarl as to what the report would contain. Meanwhile the convention waited, while the leaders sat quietly conferring.

At 11:27 there was no sign of the committee reaching an agreement. While the convention waited the various state delegations amused themselves by cheering, and the band in the gallery pacified the spectators with a series of lively tunes.

The committee unanimously sent A. C. Lea and J. P. Breda, fourth Louisiana district, and W. T. Enaley and F. H. Cook, fifth Louisiana district. All are Taft delegates.

W. D. PETTINGALL FALLS SHOULDER DISLOCATED

Yesterday afternoon as W. D. Pettingall was entering the music store of his son, George Pettingall, at 135 N. Liberty street, his foot slipped on the sidewalk, throwing him to the pavement violently. As Mr. Pettingall is a partial cripple and walks with a cane he was not able to recover his balance in time to save a hard fall. The fall dislocated his shoulder and bruised him otherwise. Dr. W. Carlton Smith was called and he ordered the unfortunate man removed to his home, where the dislocation was reduced. He is resting comfortably today, but it will be some time before he will be able to use his arm.

Mr. Pettingall is a G. A. R. veteran and a drummer in the fifth and drum corps.

R. C. Markee and Family.

R. C. Markee, of Summer Post No. 12 G. A. R., who is attending the encampment here, comes from a patriotic family. His father was in the Ohio militia in the war of 1812, and Mr. Markee, served in the Civil war from Illinois. He has attended 18 national encampments and is a delegate to the encampment at Los Angeles this year, which will make the 19th. Mrs. Markee is a prominent member of the Relief Corps and the two have another fact to boast over, their greatest pride, and that is that they have a family of 11 sons, all living.

NEWBERG TO GET IT NEXT YEAR

GRAND ARMY SELECTS IT FOR NEXT YEAR'S ENCAMPMENT— T. B. McDEVITT IS ELECTED DEPARTMENT COMMANDER.

By a vote of 27 to 50 Newberg was selected yesterday afternoon over Tillamook as the next place for the encampment to be held by the Grand Army of the Republic, the Woman's Relief Corps and the Ladies of the G. A. R. Bandon also contested for the next meeting place but withdrew before the final vote was taken. It was thought by those favoring Bandon that this withdrawal would result in the selection of Tillamook, but it did not so work out.

The election of officers was also disposed of during the afternoon session of the encampment, resulting in the election of T. B. McDevitt, of Lincoln-Garfield Post No. 3, Portland, department commander; Daniel Webster, of Sedgwick Post No. 3, of Salem, senior vice commander; H. S. Clyde, of Post No. 2, Oregon City, junior vice commander; J. E. Hall, of Post No. 3, Portland, medical director; J. J. Walters, of Post No. 12, Portland, chaplain. Those elected to the council of administration are: T. C. Baker, Post No. 19, Corvallis; T. C. Shreve, Post No. 57, Portland; J. C. Todd, Post No. 7, Eugene; J. S. Hamilton, Post No. 3, Portland; W. C. Shaw, Post No. 14, Astoria. Those elected representatives to the national encampment are the following: E. E. Covey, Post 43, Portland; David McArthur, Post No. 2,

The work of the convention was finished this forenoon by the installation of the officers elected at the meeting yesterday. During the afternoon the visiting delegates bused themselves visiting the different state institutions and places of importance about the city.

SAY CHIEF OF POLICE WILL BE ASSASSINATED

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE] Spokane, Wash., June 21.—That Chief of Police J. Keno Wilson, of San Diego, will be assassinated is the prediction here today of Dr. Ben Reitman, anarchist, and manager of Emma Goldman, who was recently given a coat of tar and feathers by San Diego vigilantes. He intimated that the assassin would come from the ranks of the I. W. W.

"As John Sullivan, late chief of police of Spokane, died with a bullet in his heart," said Reitman, "so will Chief Keno Wilson meet the same fate. In the free speech fight here Sullivan caused many I. W. W.'s to be imprisoned. One of these sought revenge, and Sullivan paid the penalty."
