The Revival Meetings—

At the Salem Commons are good. You should attend them. Mr. Elliott, the evangelist gave a strong talk on "The Sure Foundation." Come tonight and enjoy the meeting with us, 211 State street 8 p. m.

Now in Alaska—

V. C. Shafer, who left Salem June 2, has arrived in Nome, Alaska. The trip from Salem to the northern city was made in nine days the steamer on which he traveled being the first of the season. Mr. Shafer reports that the trip was a pleasant one and the weather fine.

Faultless Dry Cleaning—

Fresh, dainty dresses are easily kept so if sent to us every little while to be cleaned by methods which eliminate cleaning wear—practically restore the gown to its original beauty. Phone 360, 444 Court street. 6-13-00d

Breeze Blown In—

Word has been received that "Breeze" Gibson, a familiar figure around Salem, is now confined in one of the local hospitals on account of injuries received recently, when he fell into a ditch or hole. "Breeze" is receiving the best of treatment at the hospital, and those attending him are doing everything in their power to restore him to normal conditions. He will be out in a few days.

Suit Case Recovered—

About a week ago Miss Kate Scott had the misfortune to have her suit case stolen from the Southern Pacific depot, just as she was about to depart for Eugene. The matter was reported to the police, who have succeeded in restoring it, it having been found in the grove near the asylum by some of the patients of that institution. The only article taken was a dress, the thief leaving articles of much more value unmolested. The recent rains have soaked the case, but as the contents were cut glass and other non-perishable articles, very little damage was done.

Licensed to Marry—

Marriage licenses have been granted as follows: Lloyd L. Robinson, of Woodburn, and Miss Mabel E. Beaver, of Salem. J. F. Law, of Stayton, and Miss Frances Ethel Cross, of Salem.

Delayed the Paving—

Owing to the unsettled condition of the trench made by the company which laid the sewer along Chemeketa street, it has been found necessary to dig out a great deal of the fill and replace it with solid earth. Workmen are now at work on the job, which will take considerable time to complete, but as soon as possible the earth will be replaced, thoroughly tamped, and the street will then be paved. The Warren Construction company has charge of this street.

Fresh Berries of All Kinds—

We can supply you for all canning purposes. Fresh vegetables, dependable groceries, and the best bread in Salem. Phone Main 131. The Sunset grocery.

Coffe as is Coffee—

Miss Catherine Hanson is at the store of J. W. Young, on North Liberty street, demonstrating the Dwight Edwards coffees. All are welcome to a cup of as delicious coffee as can be found anywhere, and served daintily by the young lady.

Sues for Damages—

A suit was begun today by T. J. Clark against the City of Salem, for the appropriation of a part of his land in Riverview addition to Salem, by the opening of Hickory street. Damages to the amount of $2200 is asked. The land was covered by loganberry bushes.

A Fishing Party—

Frank Ware, Harry Ralph, J. A. Cooper and Bill Stutesman formed a fishing party going to Mehama yesterday. They report making some fine catches and Mr. Ralph relates some hair breadth escapes from drowning in the Santiam river. Mr. Ware will return to that section in a few days to resume his vacation.

Two Marriage Licenses—

Cecil F. White of Stayton was granted a license to wed Miss Helen N. Moore of the same place, today by the county clerk. The wedding is to take place in Salem today. G. E. Evans of Mountain Home, Idaho, was also granted a glory paper to wed Miss Vida May Loveridge of Woodburn.

STATISTICAL.

MARRIED.
CUMMINGS—GRIMES.—At the parsonage of the Christian church, by Rev. Davis Errett, Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, June 22, 1912, Miss Merla Grimes to Charles Cummings, both of this city. The young people will make their home at Salem.

FOLLRICK—EOFF.—At the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. W. T. Tapscott, this city, Monday, June 24, 1912, at 10 a. m., Miss Audrey Mae Eoff to Albert M. Follrick. The newly wedded couple left at once for Gaston, where the groom is employed as railroad clerk, and where they will make their home.

The Human Horse—

At the Bligh theater there is no exhibition a horse that can read, spell add, and tell colors. It is pretty hard to say what he cannot do, and all kinds of severe tests are applied by strangers, that makes it seem impossible for any trickery to enter in.

HE CONSIDERS HER AFFECTIONS VALUABLE

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Chicago, June 24.—The case of J. C. Henning, charging Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, with alienating the affections of his wife, Mrs. Josephine Henning, and demanding $100,000, was called today before Judge Schlosser.
On motion of Funk's counsel, the court ordered that the testimony be limited to the proof of instances when Funk and Mrs. Henning were alleged to have been together. Henning in his complaint named five dates and places where his wife was with Funk. Attorneys for the defense charge that the suit is an attempt to discredit Funk and to diminish the value of his testimony in the case of Senator Lorimer.

A Tag Day—
The Women's Willamette league are planning a tag day to be held during the Cherry Fair. It will be remembered the Women's Willamette league pledged $6000 toward the university endowment, and this is one way the league is taking to raise the amount. A called meeting will be held in the basement of the Methodist church on Tuesday of the coming week at 2:30 p. m. All league members and friends of the university are urged to be present. There will be a program, and tea will be served free.
Sues for $3000 Damages—
W. H. Smith has started a suit for $3000 damages alleged to have been done on May 13, 1912, when he was struck by a falling pole at the corner of Trade and Front streets. The pole struck him on the left side of his head, from the effects of which, so it is alleged, he has been rendered permanently deaf. The suit is against the Oregon Electric company and the Bi-Concrete Paving and Cement company, of which L. O. Herrold and Russell Smith are the owners, doing business under the firm name as stated. When the pole was set it was placed in about five feet of sawdust, so it is alleged. The paving company found it necessary to remove the sawdust, leaving the pole standing without any support, except one wire, which was not sufficient to support the pole, so it is alleged. The pole fell, killing one of Mr. Smith's horses, rendering the other worthless, besides injuring him as stated.
