SENSATIONAL ROAST OF BRYAN IS ONE LIVE FEATURE OF THE DAY

WILSON GAINS STEADILY AND TAKES LEAD OF CLARK IN THE THIRTIETH BALLOT

After Getting Up to 475 to Clark's 445 Wilson's Strength Seemed Exhausted—Missouri Delegation Flaunt Banner With Bryan's Indorsement of Clark on It, and Stir Nebraskan's Ire—First Knock Down of the Feast is Scored by a Reporter, Who Plugged a Missouri Delegate for Walkin on Him.

Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, Md., July 1.—Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey, took the lead from his chief opponent, Speaker Champ Clark, on the 30th ballot for the presidential nomination, taken by the Democratic national convention this afternoon.

Wilson had started the day on 407 1/2 votes on the 27th ballot, as against 463 1/2 for the speaker. He gained slowly but steadily, however, and on the 30th ballot went past the speaker. Iowa split on this ballot, 14 delegates voting for Wilson, against 12 for Clark, and Congressman Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, acting chairman, ruled that the unit rule had been broken and that the vote should be recorded as cast.

The vote on the 30th ballot showed Wilson 460 against Clark's 455. The announcement that they had at last secured the highest vote, caused the Wilson supporters to start an uproarious demonstration, and then the leaders redoubled their efforts to get Illinois into line for Wilson. They boasted that if they could get Roger Sullivan and his men lined up, they could stampede the convention for the New Jersey executive.

About the only real live thing of the day was a roast for Bryan, made in defending New York.

Baltimore, Md., July 1.—Delegate Stanchfield, attacking Bryan, said in concluding a bitter speech, said:

"Mr. Bryan has said that the 90 delegates from New York are under the influence of Morgan, Ryan and Belmont. He has stated that no man could be elected by reason of their influence. I desire to say to him there is no man in the number who is under the influence of the men he has named.

"When he makes the statement that these men, Morgan, Ryan and Belmont, are dominating, he omits one man. And of all the delegates on the floor, omitting Mr. Ryan and Mr. Belmont, the most rich and powerful is the gentleman from Nebraska.

"And if we are trying to clear our skirts here the convention should expel from the floor of this convention the man who for pay has been writing from the Republican convention at Chicago in favor of his (Bryan's) ally, Colonel Roosevelt.

"Colonel Bryan has never intended to vote for the candidate of this convention, unless he was Bryan himself. "Bryan has supported Wilson in some places and Clark in others all the time, intending to produce in this convention a deadlock, from which he could reap the harvest. When New York came here we were voting under the unit rule. A majority supported Governor Harmon, and we supported him until we came to the conclusion that Speaker Clark was the strongest candidate before this convention.

"New York is today in favor of any Democrat who can be the friend of the party and win.

"With this explanation, I want to say my personal vote is cast for Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey."

This caused a sensation, as Stanchfield was expected to vote for Clark.

Bryan sat quietly in his seat through out, chatting with Mark Sullivan, and occasionally smiling at Stanchfield's attack. He made no reply.

The poll of the New York delegation was 78 for Clark, 9 for Wilson, 2 for Underwood and 1 absent.

A Democratic Love Feast.

Just after the 33rd ballot was completed the Missouri delegation suddenly unfolded a flaring olecloth sign on which was the following in bright letters:

"I have known Champ Clark 18 years. He is absolutely incorruptible. His life is above reproach. Never in all the years have I known him but to be on one side of the question and that the side that represented the people.

(Signed) "WILLIAM J. BRYAN."

After holding the banner where it was a minute or two, Dave Francis yelled: "Take it to Nebraska." The banner was carried over to where Bryan was sitting in his seat. The Missouri man yelled at him, "Here is what you said. Now, what are you going to do about it?"

Bryan, livid with rage, jumped up and rushed to the stage, where he demanded of the acting chairman, John E. Lamb, of Indiana, whether he was to be subjected to insult. Bryan demanded the right to answer what he termed a gratuitous insult. Lamb refused to let Bryan talk and he came down, demanding that James be sent for.

Police got on either side of Bryan as he stepped before the Missouri delegation. The Nebraskan's face was bright red and as he called for David R. Francis or the chairman of the Missourians' delegation, a dozen fists were shaken in his face, and members of the Missouri delegations leaning over and tauntingly yelled: "Clark, Clark." Directly in his face and ears. A free for all fight started over a banner directly in front of the press stand. A dozen Missourians protected by the sergeant at arms, raised the banner on the press section. They were thrown Flattering to Clark.

Washington, July 1.—In answer to Bryan's charges that Speaker Clark was in league with unhealthy political interests, the house today unanimously voted full confidence in the speaker "regardless of political affiliations."

The resolution was adopted with a great burst of applause on both sides of the house.

Died a Winner.

Santa Cruz, Cal., July 1.—Falling unconscious from his sulky as he flashed under the wire, a winner in the second heat of the first race of the Sunday race meet of the Santa Cruz and Capitola driving association, John M. Ferguson, veteran California driver, is dead as a result of heart failure here today. Ferguson was alive when picked up, but died in the track stables before medical aid could reach him.

GOVERNOR WEST IS ON WAR PATH

With General Finzer in Command of Fifty National Guardsmen Armed With Rifles He Raided Road House.

DECLARES MARTIAL LAW

A. J. Barnes, Proprietor of the Milwaukie Road House, Now Has a Force of What He Called "Tin Soldiers" Camped in His Place—Is Given Time to Tear Down Fence, and, if He Fails, the Soldiers Will Take It Down for Him.

Portland, Ore., July 1.—Headed by Governor West and Adjutant-General Finzer, 50 National Guardsmen, armed with rifles, today raided the Milwaukie road house, near here, closed it, and placed on it a proclamation declaring martial law.

The raid was made in fulfillment of the announcement made some days ago by Governor West that a number of resorts were operating in the vicinity of Portland in defiance of law, and that if the civil authorities would not close them, the military forces of the state would.

A. J. Barnes, proprietor of the place, was given until this afternoon to tear down the high "peep" wall surrounding the house. If not removed by that time the soldiers will tear it down. The governor declares this wall is in violation of law.

After the raid at Milwaukie, part of the soldiers were ordered into camp in the yard connected with the house, to see that the governor's orders are carried out; part returning to Portland on the special train that took them out, and a detachment kept on with Governor West and General Finzer toward the Clearmont Inn, which the governor declared he would close, together with a number of others.

"There is law in Oregon," Governor West said to Barnes, when, with the national guardsmen, he appeared at the road house. "If the political authorities will not enforce it, soldiers with loaded rifles will."

COMPLETING THE WORK ON THE FOUNTAIN

F. W. Darlington, owner and manager of the establishment in Philadelphia, Pa., where the E. M. Waite fountain was constructed, has a force of men busy in the center of Willson avenue constructing that fountain. The work is well under way, considering the weather, and it will require at least two weeks to complete the work here. Mr. Darlington has constructed fountains in many of the important cities of the world.

With the new fountain installed and the improvements in new sidewalks and new paths across the avenue, it is going to be a very attractive place. The fountain is of the electrical sort, and one of the most attractive patterns yet invented.

A strike of three feet of ore running from $50 to $200 a ton has been made in the Last Chance mine, Cornucopia district, Baker county.

Hot at Bryan.

Mexico, Mo., July 1.—The local chautauqua management today warned its Chicago bureau not to permit W. J. Bryan to make an address during the Mexico chautauqua this year. "It would not only mean a financial loss, but we would not want to be responsible for what might happen," declared a representative of the management today. Feeling against Bryan in the congressional district is at white heat. This is Champ Clark's home district.

INTEREST IN CONTEST INCREASES

Saturday, especially during the evening, an unusually heavy vote was cast for the various "Cherry Queen" candidates. Miss Keeton jumped from fifth to first place with a substantial lead. Miss Pearline and Miss Eckerlein each drew a large number of votes and Miss Nerod, who was one of the last to enter moved still a little nearer to the top of the list. She has made an especially good climb so far, and is deserving of the very best support from her friends. Miss Robertson appeared in the voting Saturday for the first time and has made a fine start. The prospect of the Queen and maids being taken to Portland has stimulated the voting a great deal as they will now be twice honored—first by the Elks and secondly by our own "Cherry Festival."

The last count shows the contestants to stand as follows:

Jessie P. Keeton2,425
Clarissa Pearline2,084
Mary Eckerlein1,784
Emily Belle3,425
Gene Nerod1,317
Ruth Ketchum1,312
Audrey Davis1,076
Nellie Schwab1,943
Maude Robertson 593

Bullitt Got It.
Washington, July 1.—William Marshall Bullitt, of Louisville, Ky., was today appointed by President Taft to be solicitor-general of the United States.

Government Now Safe.
Washington, July 1.—President Taft has signed resolutions extending government appropriations.

Nat H. Clark is again assistant manager of the Portland hotel.

Winipeg, Man., July 1.—Half a hundred persons were killed and $10,000,000 damage done by a tornado which struck Regina, Sask. Sunday afternoon. Many business blocks, apartment houses and residences were wrecked.

Relief gangs are now at work taking out the dirt.

Two fires started, but the brigade got a stream working and appeared to have the situation under control. At Eleventh street the business district, composed of wholesale warehouses, banking institutions and retail stores, was made a heap of ruins, while the air was filled with flying wreckage. Past Eleventh street, Albert Smith, Cromwell, Searth, Hamilton and Rose streets, the storm reached the retail section, which received the severest force.

Then the Canadian Pacific tracks were reached. Six big grain elevators toppled over, the timbers being piled on the tracks.

Across the railway tracks several of the largest wholesale houses in the city were unroofed, their heavily laden floor falling as their support were loosened.

All electric light and power wires were useless and the city was in darkness all night. All conveyances were pressed into service to convey the dead to the morgues and the injured to the hospitals.

The storm continued northwest from Regina, through Central Saskatchewan, doing great damage, but no loss of life is reported outside of Regina.

Heavy losses to buildings are reported from Qu'Appelle and also Melville.

Town Is Morgue.
Regina, Sask., July 1.—Every downtown building which afforded sufficient room today was turned into a morgue, hospital or refuge for survivors, while volunteers worked to clear away the wreckage caused by the cyclone, which extracted a toll of at least half a hundred lives and from $4,000,000 to $10,000,000 worth of property last night.

Warehouses left standing by the storm, freight sheds and St. Paul's church were filled with refugees. Rich and poor alike are being sheltered in the school houses and other buildings.

Many of the homes in the north side, which were wrecked, were those of the wealthiest people in the province. A path about two blocks wide through the wholesale and retail business districts was cleared of buildings. Mounted constables, who galloped to the city early today from the barracks, took charge of the situation, at the request of the city authorities. Assisted by the mounted police and 100 special constables, they took up the work of patrolling the streets, and directing the work of rescue.

Bodies are still being uncovered in the ruins, and the list of injured has grown until it now includes 300 persons.

Dead wagons are still being driven to and from the morgues, and many grief-stricken people are digging about the ruins of buildings hunting for relatives and friends.

The storm played freakish tricks on some of the houses, tearing out one side of many buildings, leaving the interior undisturbed. Many of the houses were twisted so that they have to be torn down. In the district of the best residences about 400 houses were demolished. Among these the cries of girls and women caught in the wreckage urged the volunteer workers to increased efforts in the work of rescue. When the girls were taken from under the timbers a Miss Russell was found to have suffered internal injuries from which, it is believed, she will die.

Central Park, the city's prettiest park, was filled with wreckage today. Every tree in the park was leveled. Great pieces of timber were carried there and hurled into the ground. Surrounding the park the finest buildings in Regina were demolished. The Y. M. C. A. building, where it was reported many lives were lost, and the $200,000 Metropolitan Methodist church were but a mass of twisted steel and broken stone and brick.

Of the 35 bodies that have been recovered, all but three have been identified. They are:

J. J. Ryan, a prominent manufacturer.
Mrs. Guthrie.
Mrs. W. T. McDonald.
Mrs. Logie and child.
Mrs. J. I. McKay and two children.
Mrs. Fred Hindson.
Mr. and Mrs. Blockhorn.

THE SALEM CLEAN-UP DELAYED

The much-looked for action of Governor West in closing or nailing up the house supposed to be used for immoral purposes, near the armory, did not materialize, as up to the time of going to press nothing has been done. From telegraphic advices received from Portland, the governor is in Portland, and is busy with matters of the same kind there. He is expected back this afternoon, but as to whether he will begin operations here today is not known. The intimation is given out that there will be "something doing" tomorrow, but this cannot be verified, as the report is out that a number of women who were located near the armory have left the city.

Athletes Are Kickers.
(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.)
Stockholm, July 1.—The American Olympic athletes on the liner Finland, having been in dock 26 hours, today became dissatisfied and demanded that the committee arrange quarters for them at a hotel.

The life on board ship has grown tiresome, and the men say they cannot do themselves justice in the games unless they are quartered on land for a rest.

Myrtle Point will celebrate July 4 and 5.
