BROKE A WORLD'S RECORD

Americans Now Far in the Lead, and It Seems Certain That They Will Bring Home the World's Championship Honors—Americans Also Made a Fine Showing in the Hurdle Races, Making Phenomenal Time.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Stockholm, July 11.—The first heat of the semi-finals of the 110-meter hurdles was won by Powell, of England in 15.3-5 seconds.

John P. Nicholson, of the University of Missouri, won his heat in the semi-final 110-meter hurdles in 15.2-5 seconds, and John R. Case, of the University of Illinois, won his heat in 15.3-10. Martin W. Hawkins, of Portland, Ore., won his heat easily in 15.7-10.

James Weisell, of the New York A. C., was not extended to win his heat in the semi-finals of the 110-meter hurdles. His time was 15 seconds. Fred W. Kelly, of Seattle, also won his heat, his time being 15.3-10 seconds.

America swept the boards in the pole vault. First honors went to H. S. Babcock, of Columbia University, with a total height of 12 feet, 11 3/4 inches, a new Olympic record. The old mark was made by W. R. Dray, of Danbury, Conn., and was 12 feet, 9 1/4 inches.

F. T. Nelson, of Yale, and Marc S. Wright, of Dartmouth, tied for second place.

The official figures for the shot-put distances were:

Scalped the Boxer.

San Francisco, July 11.—Because of a six-inch knife wound in his scalp, inflicted by Albert Parks, a fellow cowboy in the moving picture concern by which he is employed at Niles, Soldier Elder has been compelled today to cancel his engagement with Charley Horn in the main event of the Crescent Club's boxing show here tomorrow night. Denver Jack Geyer or some other suitable heavy-weight will be substituted.

When the finals in the pole vault were called there were eight Americans, one Swede, one German and one Canadian eligible. Halfpenny, the Canadian entrant, hurt himself internally while clearing the bar at the 12-foot, 5-inch mark, and was obliged to quit.

F. J. Coyle, of the University of Chicago, broke his pole at the 12.5 mark, and came a cropper, which jarred him so much that he could not continue.

F. H. Hitz, of Cornell; G. B. Dukas, New York A. C., and Passman, the German, failed to clear the bar at 12 feet, 5 inches, and were ruled out.

While the pole vault was being completed the gymnastic finals were finished, Italy winning first, Hungary second, and England third.

SYSTEM IS TOUGH ON THE BARKEEPERS

Los Angeles, Cal., July 11.—The Gothenburg plan of saloon regulation is being considered today by the members of the Los Angeles city council. If it is adopted, the following rules will go into effect:

Bartenders must be teetotalers.

Free lunches must go.

Treating will be prohibited.

Fifteen minutes must elapse between drinks.

Signs must be posted telling customers they are drinking poison.

The proposition has received partial endorsement by the police commission.

Salem greets the coming of royalty with becomingly royal weather.

BIG ARMORY FILLED WITH AN EXHIBIT THAT CANNOT BE DUPLICATED

VISITORS FIND THEY ARE SHY OF ADJECTIVES WITH WHICH TO EXPRESS ADMIRATION FOR THE MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY

Immense Room is Tastefully Decorated and Splendidly Arranged for the Exhibit, Which is Beautiful Beyond Description—Wagon Loads of Cherries Turned Away for Lack of Room, Yet There Are Tons and Tons of Luscious Cherries Gleaming Yellow and Red and Brown and Some Almost Black, All Colors and Hues and All Superbly Beautiful.

The armory was the storm center of the Cherry Fair all day. The exhibit committee headed by Walter Stoltz certainly did their work well for all this forenoon wagon loads of the finest Oregon cherries poured in and a force of men was kept busy unloading and unpacking the royal fruit. Before noon every inch of space was taken and there was a demand for overflow exhibits. The big Kimball exhibit from Polk county in charge of Mr. Kimball, the pioneer cherry grower, and Mr. and Mrs. Kugel, of Dallas, was first put on display. Then came single growers with from 50 to 100 crates, and smaller lots. Among the single box exhibits was a crate of late Duke cherries packed by little Miss Patterson from a tree planted by The Capital Journal editor soon after he came to Oregon. It has borne an enormous crop each year and is one of the finest cherry trees in the state, supplying the whole neighborhood with fruit.

The great event of the Cherry Fair is the formal opening this evening at the armory. A platform for the singers has been erected on the east gallery, where the singers and speakers will participate and can be seen and heard by the entire audience. The armory will easily hold 6,000 people and all be comfortable. Mayor Lachmund will open the fair, after music by the great Salem male quartet, led by Dr. Epley, who is easily the premier tenor singer of Oregon. Eugene Brookings, one of the most pleasing young orators, of Portland, will speak for the Made-in-Oregon products, and his address will be preceded by the singing of a new version of "Oregon," the beautiful song about our state sung by a native grand-daughter of Oregon who has no superior in the possession of a charming voice and ability to use it.

Women and the Home. This topic will be presented by one of the best known women in the Pacific Northwest, Mrs. Edith Toster Wethered, of Portland, a native daughter of Oregon, who is the organizer of the Business Women's clubs in Washington, who have done so much to boost home industries in Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane and other Washington cities. This has been one of the greatest causes of the prosperity and development of the state north of us, because the people have been systematically educated to patronize the home merchant and the home manufacturer, and Mrs. Wethered will show how the women of Oregon can help the prosperity of the state. She is trained in public work and is a delightful entertainer, and was secured as a compliment to the women of Salem without whose assistance the Cherry Fair could never be made the great success it is.

Displays of Flowers. The Shasta daisy is in evidence in great clusters, showering their benediction of purity and loveliness over the shining vistas of Royal Annes, Bings and Lamberts. More flowers are coming in, and among them is the annual display of sweet peas by Mrs. M. E. Brooks, of North Salem, who shows a fine display of Spencers, and perennials. Mrs. Brooks has taken first prizes in sweet peas for three years. There will also be a collection of early dahlias.

The Suffrage Exhibit. The College Equal Suffrage league is to have a booth during the cherry festival. The booth is to be in charge of Mrs. Sara Bard Field Ehrigott, state manager of the College Equal Suffrage league; Mrs. H. C. Brodie, of Oregon Agricultural college; Miss Lottie Penn, Willamette University, and other Salem women. A number of women from Portland are also expected to occupy the booth. Literature and "Votes for Women" buttons will be distributed from the booth, which will be attractively decorated in the suffrage colors.

The Manufacturer's Exhibits. Every inch of space will be taken by the Marion county Manufacturers' displays of Made-in-Oregon products. Demonstration work in baking will be put on with Epley's Perfection Baking Powder. Among proprietary articles there are exhibits by the Hickory Bark Remedy Co., the Thermodyne Co., and the Korinek Veterinary.

Governor Wilson telegraphed Speaker Clark today that Saturday would be convenient for the latter's contemplated visit, and immediately afterwards received a telegram saying Clark would arrive on the afternoon set.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] San Francisco, July 11.—Bearing Colonel Lea Feliger and the Sixth United States Infantry, which for the past three years has been fighting the Moro tribes in the Philippines, under his command, the transport Sherman arrived here today from the islands. The district convention of Pythian Sisters met at Corvallis Wednesday. Salem, Albany, Eugene, Brownsville, Lebanon, Silverton, Falls City and Corvallis were represented.

Six Dead in Mine.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 11.—Six men are dead as a result of a gas explosion in the Panama mine of the Ben Franklin coal company, at Moundsville, 10 miles south of here. There were 190 men working in the mine at the time, but only nine of these were in the entry where the explosion occurred and three of these were rescued shortly after the explosion probably fatally burned.

ANYWAY THEY WILL ATTRACT ATTENTION

Are hats conducive to health? G. Ehrman, superintendent of the construction work of the Masonic temple, and State Printing Expert Harris asked themselves that question last night, and decided that hats were not only unhealthy but expensive, and today they are parading the streets without any headgear.

In addition to declaring hats are costly and unhealthy, Harris urges the further argument that he is bald—and he has just one or two straggling hairs on his head, and he hopes that without a hat to cultivate a growth of luxuriant hair. An understanding was reached between them, and the first to wear headgear must purchase the other a $10 hat, but what he will do with it, unless he wears it, is a mystery.

CONGRESS TAKES UP ARCHBOLD IMPEACHMENT

Washington, July 11.—Formal consideration of the 13 articles of impeachment preferred against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the United States commerce court was begun by the house today. Chairman Clayton of the judiciary committee called up the committee's resolution demanding trial of the jurist for misdemeanors, shortly after 1 o'clock. Speaker Clark directed the sergeant at arms to bring in all absent members that a full membership might be present for the proceedings.

THE PROHI MEETING IS LIVELY

Patterning After the Chicago Convention, the Drys Spent Whole Morning Wrangling Over Unimportant Things.

BUT MAY NOMINATE TODAY

Plans of the Leaders to Force a Nomination This Morning Were Frustrated by Parliamentary Experts, Who Managed to Stave Off Regular Business, and, in Spite of Protest, Convention Adjourned to 2:30 This Afternoon.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Atlantic City, N. J., July 11.—The entire session of the prohibition national convention was devoted today to a wrangle over the report of the committee on organization and party work. An attempt was made by Delegates Pitts, of New York, and Baker, of Missouri, to have correspondences referring to the attitude of presidential candidates of other parties toward the liquor traffic incorporated in the proceedings, but the motion was finally tabled.

The plans of the leaders to force nominations at the morning session were frustrated by the parliamentary experts, who, by demanding a number of points or order, managed to stave off the regular business. Despite the protests of the leader, led by Felix McWhirter, of Indiana, the convention at 12:30 recessed until 2:30, without the nominations being reached.

ELKS WILL BUILD HOME IN VIRGINIA

Portland, Ore., July 11.—The grand lodge of the B. P. O. Elks appointed $250,000 for the erection of a national home at Bedford, Va. A 25 cent per capita tax will be a means to raise funds for the home.

The Cherry Fair

Pennants, streamers and flags, Banners of green and red, Buildings a-blaze with a color haze, And the air is filled with a purple haze, Just such as the mountain canyons show, At the good night kiss of the sunset's glow, When the sun slips off to bed.

Banners of red and green, Groupings of purple and white, A color scheme like a fairy dream, Or blossom and leaf by a tropic stream, Or the brilliant hues the Frost-king brings, As over the field and forest he swings, When the Summer says "good night."

Music and marching men, Beauty and laughing eyes, A gracious queen of royal mien, Her beautiful maids of honor between, And girls as fair as in old days when The sons of God loved daughters of men, Abandoning Paradise—

Cherries, crimson and gold, Kissed by the Summer sun, With nectar filled from the dews distilled, By the vagrant spirits of Night, self-willed, Who ravish the slumbering flowers and bring Flavors divine to their chosen kins, The Cherries of Oregon.

Pennants, streamers and flags, Day that's without a care, Music and fun from the rising sun, That only ends when the day is done, Color and beauty and marching men; The surging, restless crowds, and then— Well, that is our Cherry Fair.

—J. H. CRADLEBAUGH.
