FAMOUS AVIATOR IS KILLED

HUBERT LATHAM, ONE OF THE FIRST HIGH-FLIERS, KILLED BY A BUFFALO IN THE WILDS OF AFRICA.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Paris, July 15.—Hubert Latham, famous French aviator, was killed by a buffalo June 7, while hunting near the source of the river Nile, according to a cable message received here today from the governor-general of the French Congo. Latham gave up flying some years ago.

Latham became a celebrity in aviation circles on the strength of a series of remarkable flights early in 1909, winning the Goupy prize June 12 of that year, with a record of 30 miles in 39 minutes at a height of 60 meters. A month later he made a series of unsuccessful attempts to fly the English channel, but twice fell into the water, whence he was fished out by the crews of war vessels. In September, 1909, he flew directly over Berlin, succeeding in the first attempt ever made to fly across the city. In January, 1910, he reached an altitude of 3600 feet with his Antionette monoplane, traveling 40 miles an hour in a spiral course.

Just before he visited America, where he flew in many places, and attracted an immense amount of attention, Latham gave an astonishing exhibition at Goupy, France, flying for 35 minutes, part of the time at the rate of 82 miles an hour, which was then the record for an aeroplane.

Latham's flying was practically all done in the Antionette monoplane.

In the Soup.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Portland, Ore., July 15.—Mrs. M. R. Brown observed a man starting to climb into her kitchen window. She quietly poured a pot of hot soup down his neck. He left without argument.

The Court Changed It.
Portland, Ore., July 15.—Louis Osterlacher asked to have his name changed, saying his present cognomen "was cumbersome to write, hard to pronounce and a source of embarrassment." The court agreed with him.

They "Got."
San Jose, Cal., July 15.—"It won't be the first man I've shot, either!" said Mrs. Julia Morrison, aiming a shotgun at engineers she found surveying her land. "You fellows get!" The engineers got. Mrs. Morrison will explain in court.

THIS WOMAN'S TROUBLES GONE

Terrible Cramps, Dizzy Spells, Nervousness, Misery—Her Story of How She Got Well Again.

Hindsboro, Ill.—"Your remedies have relieved me of all my troubles. I would have such bearing down misery and cramps and such weak, nervous, dizzy spells that I would have to go to bed. Some days I could hardly stay up long enough to get a meal.

"The doctor's medicine did me no good so I changed to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got good results from the first bottle. I kept on taking it and used the Sanative Wash with it, until I was well again. I think every woman who suffers as I have, could take no better medicine."—Mrs. CHARLES MATTHEWSON, Box 53, Hindsboro, Ill.

Testimony of Trained Nurse.
Cathlamet, Wash.—"I am a nurse and when I do much lifting I have a female weakness, but I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot say enough in praise of it. I always recommend it for female troubles."—Mrs. ELYA BARBER EDWARDS, Box 54, Cathlamet, Wash.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

BIKE AND MOTORCYCLE MEET—F. C. SHIPP HURT

Last night shortly after 9 o'clock as F. C. Shipp was riding a bicycle south on Commercial street near the Hotel Marion, he collided with a motorcycle driven by Archie McCorkle. Mr. Shipp was on the wrong side of the street and was about to make the turn into Perry street when he was struck with great force and thrown heavily to the pavement. He was scratched and bruised about the limbs and body and received an ugly scalp wound as well. A crowd gathered but Mr. Shipp was soon able to rise and would have started on his way home had not patrolman W. W. Gaines insisted on him going to a doctor. He was taken to the office of Dr. O. B. Miles where his wound was dressed, after which he returned to his home at No. 1488 S. Commercial street. Mr. Shipp is father of Watt Shipp, the sporting goods man, and is 76 years old, but is still hale and hearty. The fact that the unfortunate man is hard of hearing will account to some extent for the accident, although it is stated that the motorcycleist was riding above the speed limit.

THE GET-RICH STEADILY CATALPA

What C. D. Robinson, of Pawnee City, Nebraska, did with catalpas was nothing unusual but it is a good instance to cite because it shows what any farmer can do on a small piece of land. This is according to C. A. Scott state forester of Kansas. Mr. Robinson harvested a small crop of twenty acres not long ago. His profit was $152.17 an acre, or $3,043.40 for the entire crop. This was above interest on his investment for sixteen years at 5 per cent.

In establishing, maintaining and harvesting his grove, Mr. Robinson hired everything done and paid good wages. He could easily have done most of the work himself at odd times and saved one-half the expense.

Nobody knows how many millions of rich acres in the Missouri Valley remain idle year after year because of spasmodic high water. Count only those acres lying close to river and creek banks—those very uncertain areas that are excellent farm land one day and a river bed the next—and you'll have a good many millions in your estimate.

Yet on this very waste land a new and profitable industry will start some of these days. It will be catalpa growing. The ever-increasing demand for catalpa posts and poles will bring it about.

Catalpa growing is not a get-rich-quick scheme. Requiring eight to sixteen years for a crop to mature, it isn't a quick investment. But there is mighty good money in catalpa growing and where the soil is good it is practically an absolutely safe investment.

Some Kansas catalpa plantations are being harvested now with promises of large profits. Charles Delker, of Hudson, who has one hundred thousand trees, is cutting posts which he says will bring a gross income of five hundred dollars an acre. W. W. Hall, who also lives near Hudson, has a plantation of sixty thousand trees.

"I will begin to cut mine in two years," Mr. Hall said. "I expect to harvest five hundred dollars' worth to the acre. During the last eight or ten years while you are waiting for the crop to mature you don't have to give the trees any care. I believe it beats wheat raising on my land."—From "The Get-Rich-Steadily Catalpa," in August Technical World.

What Makes a Woman?
One hundred and twenty pounds more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. Its a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." Only 50c. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry.
