MR. ROSE TALKS OF THE PERFECT AUTOMOBILE

To those not familiar with the history of the "E. M. F." and "Flanders" automobiles it was a source of much surprise to learn that C. L. Rose has discontinued his agency for these cars, especially in view of the extremely successful season he has enjoyed the past year.

Speaking of the announcement that he had taken on the agency for the Flanders Sixes and Overland cars, today, Mr. Rose said: "To the people of Salem and this community, who have known me only for the past year, this probably comes as a surprise, but if they had been as closely identified with the development of the automobile business, and especially with the predominating spirit in that business, Walter E. Flanders, as myself, instead of being surprised they would be disappointed in me should I not follow him in this his latest move in the development of the automobile, for it is a decided step towards the perfect car to produce a six-cylinder car with every known convenience and mechanical improvement at a popular price. Four years ago when the announcement appeared that Walter E. Flanders would produce the "E. M. F." a four-cylinder, 30 H. P. touring car at $1250, people were even more surprised than now to learn that I had dropped a line of cars on which I had enjoyed a good trade and taken up what looked to them an unknown quantity. As to whether it was or not the number of "E. M. F." cars seen in all parts of the world today will testify. Now this latest step is only one more toward the ultimate perfect automobile, and the Flanders Motor Co. is going to furnish to the public the first high powered, high-grade, six-cylinder car ever produced under $3000, and at a price of about half this amount, so it is only natural that I hasten to cast my lot with the man who does things, as the success of my patrons and myself is assured before we start. 1912 will be a six-cylinder year, and we have the greatest line of six-cylinder cars ever built. I expect my demonstrator in about 30 days.

"So you see, after all, really, instead of changing, I am staying with the same people who have done more than any other firm in the world to make the automobile a vehicle for the masses, and I intend to stay with them as long as I am in the business."

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Of the Community Mausoleum—Galesburg, Ill., Endorses and Builds Better Than the People Expected.

A company of representative business men appealed to the citizens of Galesburg, Illinois, some two years ago calling their attention to the new method of entombing the dead in a Community Mausoleum, and as a result, several months ago a very beautiful 566 tomb building was constructed in Hope cemetery which is called "Hope Abbey." All the people of Salem want to know is the fact that the community idea is right, that it has been endorsed by the people of other cities and states, and that it is presented to them by properly authorized representatives of the company owning the rights and privileged to erect these structures, all of which we can assure the public is true, and that the Portland Mausoleum company is attempting to do at Salem and elsewhere what the Galesburg company has so splendidly well done for Galesburg and other cities in Illinois.

Galesburg has 22,000 population, and is the seat of Knox college. The city is especially noted for its good taste, its general refinement and educational advantages, and whatever her people do is to a considerable extent, a certain guide to many communities in the great state of Illinois. Galesburg can not, however, boast of as beautiful streets as can Salem, and in some other respects Salem has striking advantages over Galesburg, and now that Salem people are considering and will soon be called on to subscribe for tombs in a Community Mausoleum, they will be interested to read what the Daily Republican of Galesburg had to say editorially following the dedication of their beautiful mausoleum.

A Great Acquisition.

Hope cemetery has a great and needed acquisition in the new mausoleum. To be known as Hope Abbey, it is a stately structure built to endure and so be permanent. One can scarcely be expected to add anything to the masterly dedicatory address by Rev. F. E. R. Miller, showing the great need of such a structure here.

Without question there is all over the country a growing sentiment against the ordinary form of burial. The belief that it is unsanitary is wide spread. Moreover the thought of the sterna beating on the naked grave and that all the chemical and germ processes in the earth are busy on casket and body alike is most distressing. There is a demand for a more permanent form of interment. This was shown by the number of outside people here anxious to inspect the mausoleum. They were deeply impressed with its conveniences, its permanent appearance, with the sanitary appointments. In the crypt in this abbey the human body eventually returns to its native elements, without endangering the public health. This is a matter of supreme importance it is more than a sentimental reason. Throughout the country many eminent authorities are urging cremation as a cure for the perils from diseased bodies. To very many minds the idea of cremation is abhorrent. All these will find satisfaction in contemplating the mausoleum, which not only removes all danger, but furnishes a permanent abode. It shows that to preserve the public health, cremation is not necessary.

Memory is a living reality and it is wont to cling around the place where lie the dead. In Hope Abbey there is nothing to repel it. The dead, to whom affection still goes, are sheltered and secure. There is profound satisfaction to most all people in the thought that their dead are not neglected, and that they have a perpetual memorial.

That Galesburg has now a beautiful resting place for her dead must be to all in whose life grief and sorrow have come a solace.

MASKED MEN HOLD UP AND ROB AUTOISTS

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE)

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 31.—Three masked men, whom the police believe are the ones that held up a taxicab near the East Collingwood fire hall early last Sunday morning, stopped an automobile in which were Mr. Oliver Hemphill and Miss E. Bagley at 10:30 o'clock last night, as the machine was proceeding west along the Stanley Park road.

Mr. Hemphill's watch, a 20 gold piece and Miss Bagley's rings were taken by the highwaymen. The men then escaped into the dense woods.

Got the Right Man.

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE)

Portland, Ore., Aug. 31.—Detective Ackerman was instructed to arrest a "tall thin man with a gray suit" arriving on a train. There were six. He arrested them all, despite protests. One was the wanted man, W. H. Kellogg.

LABOR DAY SERVICES TOMORROW

Following the custom observed in many churches in nearly all cities, the First Congregational church will hold a special Labor service tomorrow evening. Invitations have been sent to all the labor unions in the city, and it is expected that the men will respond heartily to the invitation. Labor leaders in the city express themselves as highly pleased with the idea of the service. They have felt that the church was not interested in the things that concern the working man. The coming together of the laboring men in a church will be good for the church and good for the cause of the laboring man. Mr. Schrock, the minister, will speak upon the topic: "The Common Ground of Church and Labor." The minister has offered to divide time with any speaker the unions may select. As yet no man has been named, but it is probable that there will be one.

Housework Drudgery!

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and as Mrs. Briggs and others testify:

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

"This 'Prescription' removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration, it tranquillizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep."

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any druggist persuade you that his unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit.

Mrs. BRAZILL, Burdick, of 229 N. Washington St., Delphos, Ohio, writes: "Having taken your 'Favorite Prescription' for a bad case of intestinal disease and constipation with woman's ill, for which I was almost unable to do anything, I think I am safe in saying that there are no remedies in the world like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Purifying Lotion Tablets.' I am now enjoying the best of health, and thank Dr. Pierce for his wonderful medicines which have done me a world of good."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.
