

RESTORING GRAY HAIR

Madame Quivilla will be glad to answer any questions pertaining to womanly beauty. Personal replies will be given if a stamped and self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

With regard to the color of hair after the illness, is restored to its natural color. In his "Surgical Pathology," Dr. Paget records the case of a lady, subject to nervous headaches, gray, always gray, brings to our notice other peculiarities of the hair coloring cells, which are not yet fully understood. Hair may change to almost any color; flaxen locks have become chestnut, red, brown, or even black; dark brown hair has changed to red or light brown; and black to flaxen. There are even cases in which white and brown segments alternate as in porcupine quills; and gray hair is often restored to its natural color.

There is a well-authenticated case of a woman, only 36 years of age, who was very ill with malignant fever; on the sixth day of her illness her hair turned perfectly white, but on the following day it began to turn dark again. In two weeks' time it was restored to its original color. Dr. Landis has made experiments going to show that a sudden development of gas may whiten the hair. Severe attacks of neuralgia will cause the sudden bleaching of the hair immediately over the seat of pain, but in many cases the normal color returns in a few days. A young woman, after an attack of pneumonia, lost quite half of her hair, and about the temples and on top of her head it was quite thickly strewn with gray; but on her restoration to health her hair regained its normal color, dark brown.

Dr. Anstie was himself a victim to the bleaching of the hair upon one side of his head, due to repeated attacks of "migraine." The hair shows no tendency to fall, and in a few days

Although nature has shown us what she can do, her ways are so cunningly intricate that man has as yet imperfectly learned the art of imitating her; therefore, it is very much easier to prevent premature gray hair than to restore its color. It very frequently accompanies alopecia and results from the same causes. Hygienic treatment stands, of course, first in all preventive measures, and many of the lotions and tonics already given for falling hair will be efficacious. An extreme exhaustion of the nervous system is indicated, internal remedies must be taken to restore that; and nux vomica and phosphorus, combined with iron or arsenic are indicated.

FOREIGN COUNTRIES ARE BUYING AMERICAN CARS

"Prejudice against the American automobile, one of the greatest obstacles to success in exporting cars, has been almost completely broken down. On a trip around the world started about two years ago, the prejudice at first was very noticeable, but the difference could be noted as the journey progressed, and American business grew," says Tom Jones of the export department of the R-C-H corporation, who last December completed a two years' automobile trip around the world.

"Since my return I have talked to men from nearly every country on the face of the earth who have come to the R-C-H factory to secure territorial rights in their countries and had the pleasure of hearing them admit that the prejudice had practically vanished. And some of these men have been frank to admit that they had at one time been set against the American product."

"It has been a hard fight but American cars are winning out and obtaining the prominence they deserve. Foreign prejudice was created by the cars sent abroad in the early days of the industry. They did not deliver and the result has been a hard fight for recognition on the part of American manufacturers ever since."

"The thing that appeals most strongly to the foreign purchaser of an American car is the price. There is nothing in the foreign market in a four-cylinder car that can come anywhere near the price of the R-C-H or other low price cars to which the bulk of American trade is confined, and the main efforts of the European producers seem at the present time to produce a car that will compete with the popular priced Americans.

"But there is a high standard set for the American cars. Our manufacturing systems, huge factories, great production and low prices are considered wonderful and also put ideas so high that the purchaser looks for just as much in an American car that he can buy, duty and freight paid, for about $1,100 or $1,200 as he would in a car built in his own country to sell for $5,000, and it is the ability of the American cars to come pretty close to this mark that has opened up our trade so wonderfully."

"There are no steps taken here that are not immediately given publicity abroad. People in other lands are always watching for something new in the American motor field and as soon as an announcement is made here inquiries begin to pour in. From one section of Europe alone we are averaging about 15 inquiries a day on the new R-C-H touring car."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

D. C. Bybee teaming contractor living at 669 Keeling Court, Canton, Ill., is now well rid of a severe and annoying case of kidney trouble. His back pained and he was bothered with headaches and dizzy spells. "I took Foley Kidney Pills just as directed and in a few days I felt much better. My life and strength seemed to come back, my headache left me, I slept well, and got up free from headache and dizzy spells. I am now all over my trouble and recommend Foley Kidney pills to every one." Dr. Stone Drug Store.

NEWPORT

UNSURPASSED AS A SUMMER RESORT

Newport has every advantage the pleasure seeker or the person wishing rest and quiet might desire. Here you can find the gay life of the summer resort with all its attractions and excitement, or if you wish rest and quiet, you can find a secluded spot where the only sound to break the stillness will be the cry of a seagull and the distant beating of the surf. There are the mountains for the man who wishes hunting, trout streams for the lover of the fly and the deep sea fishing for the person who craves a little more dangerous sport. Accommodations can be had of every description, hotels, cottages and tents. The Southern Pacific Railroad furnishes first-class service from all points, and the best wagon roads to the Coast come into Newport. For information write the Newport Commercial Club, or any advertiser on this page; we recommend them.

OREGON

ADVANTAGES AS A HOME CITY

To the man who wishes to make a permanent home and settle with his family, Newport offers many advantages. There are openings here for a number of different lines of business. It is an ideal country for farming and dairying, and there is a ready demand for all produce raised. From a social standpoint Newport has all the advantages of a larger city. It owns its water system, which supplies the city with pure mountain water. A modern electric light plant furnishes electricity at a moderate cost. It has fine schools and churches. Its merchants are enterprising and carry the best of stocks. It has two newspapers, modern hotel accommodations and banking facilities. In fact Newport as a city is one of the most enterprising and best little places in Oregon. For further information address the Newport Commercial Club, Newport, Oregon.
