

COMPANIES MUST SHOW THE BOOKS

The laying bare of names of stockholders of all corporations dealing in liquors, for the purpose of ascertaining if they do not take in their sweep municipal and other officials, and are in this way able to enjoy protection under the law, is Governor West's next move in his vice crusade in Portland.

In addition to finding out if any officers are stockholders of these corporations, he will also be able to learn from their other books as to whether they are violating the law in shipping liquor into dry territory.

This action will be taken under a section of the corporation law which provides that the stock-books of the corporation shall be open to inspection for the purpose of learning the names of stockholders, and their other books also be open for inspection.

District Attorney Brown was today directed to bring proceedings to dissolve the Roseburg Brewery & Ice company, on the ground that it has violated the law by selling beer in dry territory.

The governor also looked into the articles of incorporation for the Overland Club, and found that J. H. Fleming, J. A. McClary and J. M. Peters are the incorporators.

The number of marriage licenses issued in Linn county last month only exceeded the divorces granted by three.

At Wedderburn, Curry county, last week, the grand jury indicted one its own members for selling liquor on Sunday. He pleaded guilty and paid his fine.

SAWMILL IS BURNED AT TACOMA

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 2.—One hundred thousand dollars is today estimated by officials of the D. & M. company to be the loss sustained in a fire which destroyed the company's sawmill at South Prairie Saturday night. The fire started in some refuse near the mill. The company had recently spent $70,000 in remodeling the plant, and it was one of the most modern in the state. The loss is covered by insurance.

ALBANY FOLKS ARE ALL WALKING NOW

Albany will have no street car service for three or four days because of an accident which happened at 5 o'clock Sunday evening, when workmen on the Oregon Electric let one of their power wires fall on the Portland, Eugene & Eastern trolley at the intersection of the two lines at Fifth and Lyon streets. The Oregon Electric wire carried 1300 volts and the trolley wire only 500, and the contact burned out the armature in the machine in the local electric plant which furnishes power for the street car system. It will require three or four days to secure a new armature and repair the damage.

A car crowded to the doors with people, who had just come from the ball game in Athletic park, was ready to leave the southern end of the line when the accident happened, putting the system entirely out of commission.
