THOUSANDS OF MINERS GATHER TO PROTEST AGAINST ARMED GUARDS

TEN THOUSAND OF THEM AND HUNDREDS OF MOUNTAINEERS PLEAD WITH THE GOVERNOR

"Mother Jones" Makes Stirring Plea—"Let the Troops Stay at Paint Creek Forever Rather Than Send Back the Private Guards to Subject Women and Girls to Unspeakable Horrors" is Her Plea—Prominent Business Men Are With Them, and Seek to Have State Take Charge of the Mines.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 6.—Ten thousand miners from the Paint Creek section of West Virginia, augmented by hundreds of business men and mountaineers, poured into Charleston today to participate in a demonstration against the employment of private guards by the mines affected by the strike in the Paint Creek district. Mother Jones, labor's foremost woman leader, stirred by personal investigation of the treatment accorded the miners' women by the detectives, tonight will lead a parade which will pass at the capitol and plead with Governor Glascock not to allow the private guards to return to the Paint Creek section after martial law, which now prevails there, is lifted.

Another White Hope.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Vallejo, Cal., Sept. 6.—Frank Moran, the Pittsburg heavy weight, is regarded as a real white hope here today, following his knockout of Sailor Schaeffer, the pride of the navy, here, in the third round Schaeffer put Moran down with a heavy right to the jaw but Moran came back like a tiger in the third and floored Schaeffer with a straight to the chin. Schaeffer was out for some minutes.

An Aviator Killed.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Munich, Sept. 6.—While participating in the army maneuvers here today than send back the private guards to subject the women and girls to unspeakable horrors. No one who has visited the scene knows what those poor women have suffered."

Mother Jones backed by prominent business men, will ask the governor why the state cannot take charge of the mines, basing such action on the allegation that the operators have forfeited the right of ownership by criminal abuse of the responsibilities. The calling out today of additional state troops led to the belief that Governor Glascock intends to declare martial law over the entire mining district.
"Military government is despotic," the strike leaders declare, "but we know that our women are safe, and that is everything to us. Let the militia stay."

Lieutenant Steiger was instantly killed when the biplane he was operating was caught in a storm and plunged 300 feet to the earth.

VIRGINIA MAY HAVE RACE WAR

MOUNTAINEERS AFTER LYNCHING NEGRO ORDER ALL OTHERS TO STAY IN THEIR HOMES—NEGROES ARE SULLEN.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Bluefield, W. Va., Sept. 6.—Bloody retribution for the lynching by white men of Walter Johnson, a negro, for an attempted assault on 14-year-old Nita White, is threatened by the negro population of Princeton, according to telephone messages received here today. The blacks, although keeping under cover, are sullen and defiant, and a bitter race riot is momentarily expected.

Johnson was spirited from the city by the authorities, who feared an attempt would be made on the negro's life. A mob of mountaineers seized an engine and cars and overtook the party near Matoaka. Johnson was secured after a terrific struggle with his guards and taken to Lashmeet, where he was lynched and his body burned. The 600 mountaineers who participated in the lynching are prepared for trouble, and have warned all negroes living in Princeton to keep off the streets.

GETS AFTER PORTLAND'S LUMBERMEN

Portland, Ore., Sept. 6.—With a number of prominent lumber dealers subpoenaed as witnesses, the taking of testimony in Portland in the government suit for dissolution of various retail dealers' associations was to begin here this afternoon. The government alleges the retail dealers are organized in restraint of trade.

The United States is represented by Clark McKecher, special assistant to the attorney-general.
Judge M. D. Purdy, of Minneapolis, is looking after the interests of the lumber dealers.
The Western Retail Lumber Dealers' association, with headquarters in Spokane, is the organization concerning which lumbermen will testify in Portland.

GOVERNOR CONTINUES THE FIGHT

Writes Personal Letters to Three Saloon Keepers, Telling Them They Must Cease Operations or Be Prosecuted

ARE PUBLIC NUISANCES

Says the Governor, Who Adds That If They Cannot Be Put Out of Business by Ordinary Legal Methods He Would Adopt More Drastic Measures—Reading Between the Lines There May Be "Martial Law."

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Portland, Ore., Sept. 6.—Further progress in Governor West's crusade against vice in Portland was made today when the governor wrote personal letters to Dan Cappach, M. H. Meyer, E. Erickhorn, proprietors of three alleged objectionable saloons in the depot of the Oregon Electric railway here, notifying them that they must cease operations at once on the ground that they were public nuisances. He also wrote a letter to Weinhard's brewery, notifying it that the three saloons in question were to cease operation at once under pain of prosecution, and that any person supplying them with liquor would be considered an accomplice of a public nuisance.

The governor stated that should it prove impossible to put the three saloons in question out of business by ordinary legal means he would adopt more drastic measures. It was believed by "more drastic measures" he meant the calling out of state troops. Governor West instructed Special Prosecutor Esterly to begin proceedings to oust the three saloons at once. Esterly stated he probably would ask the courts for an injunction against the places objected to.

WILL DEPORT EIGHTEEN OF THE INSANE

In the next few days the federal authorities will deport from the asylum to foreign countries about 18 patients. Deportations will also be made under the same law from the penitentiary, but just how many will be deported has not been decided upon.

Among those to be deported from the asylum is August Douglas, the massive Frenchman, who led an escape from that institution several months ago. He and six others escaped, overpowering the attendant, and for some time were at large. He is considered an especially dangerous character. A number of the others are also of the violent class.

Several months ago about 15 were deported from the institution, making about 33 in all.

The habit of getting the job done promptly on time is worth the acquiring.

GERMAN DAY BRINGS CLEAR SKIES AND JOLLIEST CROWD OF THE FAIR

A Freight Rate War.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 6.—The second reduction in Alaska freight rates in ten days was announced yesterday by the Alaska Steamship company. The new rate is $2 a ton on general merchandise to all ports in southeastern Alaska. Southbound rates from Alaska are unchanged.

GERMANS MAKE FINE SHOWING

HAVE A GREAT PARADE AT 11 O'CLOCK, WITH A THOUSAND IN LINE—AFTER WARM WELCOME BY MAYOR WENT TO THE FAIR

The annual parade of the German societies took place at 11 o'clock, and was led by the Salem military band, followed by German war veterans of Portland, Salem and Astoria, the Sons of Herman of Portland and Salem, the German Ladies' auxiliary in automobiles, and the Salem German Verein. About 1000 participated, and this was followed by a short program and lunch at the armory. The United States flag and the banner of the German societies were carried at the head of the procession, and at the close all marched under the two flags and saluted the veterans, who stood uncovered and at parade rest.

Mayor Lechmund pleased all and put the large crowd at perfect ease by a good address of welcome, which was frequently interrupted by applause. John Mathiesen, of Portland, responded for that city, and Hon. John Kahn, of Astoria, spoke for his city, and for the German band, which represents four millions German-American citizens. Both were very happy in their remarks, and were frequently applauded. In the midst of the speaking program all the singers were invited to assemble about the oldest Melstersaenger present, and a grand old folksong was rendered, as a foretaste of the concert at 7 o'clock this evening at the armory, when there will be a free entertainment and speaking program, which all Germans and their families are invited to attend.

TAFTITES TO STIR UP TROUBLE

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 6.—On threats that they will mandamus the secretary of state to give them a column and put President Taft's name on the November ballot, and also recognize them as a separate convention, entitled to name a separate state committee and adopt a separate platform Taft nominees at the primaries declared today that they will not sit in convention with the Rooseveltians when they meet here in accordance with the state primary law on September 24.

This belligerent attitude is due, it is said, to the success of the Taft party in nominating five candidates for congress. The lack of strength shown by the Rooseveltians in the congressional fight is claimed to have been a surprise and the Taftites hope to demoralize the progressives.

A lie is the greatest thing in the world, because no man can live up to it without discovery.

EXCURSION OF 500 BOOSTERS COMES OVER FROM CORVALLIS AND WHOOP IT UP FOR BENTON

They and the Germans Capture the Fair Grounds and Made One Think All the Bull Moosers Had Gathered in Salem—Just a Few of the Thousands of Things on Exhibition Mentioned and Many of Them of the "Made in Oregon" Variety—Germans Will Have Program Tonight.

This was German day at the state fair, and an elaborate program was carried out, followed by a fine program at the armory this evening. Corvallis declared a public holiday on account of winning the blue ribbon for the best county exhibit, and an excursion of 500 Corvallis boosters arrived this morning, and were given the freedom of the city. With banners and band they swooped down on the state fair grounds, and the astonished people of the Capital City thought Teddy had arrived with the whole Bull Moose army.

Pavilion Crowded.
Last night an enormous crowd attended the concert at the pavilion. The concerts have been well attended and are appreciated by the music-loving public from all over the state. The singing of Mr. Montelth and Mrs. Sullivan as soloists with hand accompaniment are receiving cloudburst of compliments.

Mr. Montelth sang "The Prologue from Pagliacci" last night, and in the afternoon sang Nevin's "The Rosary," in the grand stand. He was given a tremendous encore, it being Portland day. This evening he sings two duets with Mrs. Sullivan, from Rigoletto and Il Trovatore.

Mrs. Sullivan's voice is very much in favor, receiving three recalls last night. She sings well to hand accompaniment, her voice carries and has the dramatic quality.
The DeCaprio band has given great satisfaction. He is a great leader and gets good work out of an excellent staff of players. De Caprio's rendition of the overture from "William Tell" was given an ovation, and he compares favorably with Ferrulo, who was here last year. His band shows a fine disposition to play for all extra occasions, and has more than fulfilled its contract. De Caprio himself has given several solos on the baritone horn, of which he is master. The band is well balanced between Americans, Germans and Italians.

Oregon Made Explosive.
Geo. W. Harrington has a large display of the Lonite blasting powder, made by the American Safety Powder Co., of Portland. Every day there are demonstrations of the use of this powder in blowing up stumps and blasting rocks at the fair grounds. The greatest argument in favor of this product, aside from its being made here in Oregon is the fact that it does not cause laborers that sickening nauseating headache caused by so many other powders, and which shortens life.

Domestic Art.
The displays in this building under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Brown were better in quality than ever before. There were fewer rag rug carpets and more embroidery and three clubs from other cities and three from Salem competed for the honors. Eugene was not represented this year.

Union Meat Company.
This gigantic concern had a large display of its by-products in a booth at the pavilion and another display in the dairy department. It is demonstrating its ability to take all the farmer has to sell put it up in scientific, attractive and sanitary packages and sell it to the people of the state at fair prices, thus keeping the money at home and in circulation among our own people, at the same time giving them a better market, more employment and better products, to say nothing of the saving of the freight from Oregon to the eastern manufacturer and return. Messrs. O. J. Mellus and

A. C. Black were dealing out information to the vast crowds at the fair.
Woman Suffrage Booth.
Mrs. Ehrgott and Mrs. Cotterill, of Portland, have been doing the suffrage cause great good by their management of the booth at the pavilion. They distribute literature and arouse interest in the campaign, that has been lagging a little of late. Mrs. Cotterill is a sister of the mayor of Seattle, and has been prominent in the organization of clerks' unions all over the state.

Big Roofing Exhibit.
The Durable Roofing Co. of Portland, has a fine exhibit of their various brands of roofing and building paper. They show a house shingled on the roof and sides with shingles cut from this tarred or rubberoid roofing material, which is sold at Salem by the Salem Lumber Co. and Ray Farmer. It is a made in Oregon product, and should have the first consideration of all builders.

Some Hard Luck.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Portland, Ore., Sept. 6.—Mrs. S. R. Johnston's hard luck story touched the city council $250 worth. She broke her leg on her way to her husband's grave. Later a lunatic kicked her, breaking the other leg and five ribs.

A Mother-in-Law.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Vancouver, Wash., Sept. 6.—Louis L. Delk had his mother-in-law arrested, charged she was starving a cow to death. She said when he remonstrated with her she hit him over the head with a pair of eggs, and chased him with an axe.

The Laws Extremes.
