MUSICAL NOTES

one's musical experience cannot be counted as complete if it does not contain a memory of this artist, the great master of a great art.

Like his former operatic colleagues, Miss Lillian Nordica and Miss Schumann-Helbeck, Mr. Bispham has not been able to withstand the potent lure of the concert platform and has, during the last few years, devoted a greater part of his time to concert and recital work. His all-conquering art is as supreme on the concert platform as on the operatic stage, for he is as great an actor as a singer. His repertoire is enormous, comprising upwards of thirty operas and more than one hundred oratorios and cantatas, and his concert repertoire includes a thousand classical and modern songs.

With the exception of three, who were unable to attend all of the guests invited by Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Reid for the song recital last Monday evening, responded with their presence. This is one other mark of growing interest in music in Salem. The studio was filled with an audience most appreciative of the good voices. Mrs. Reid is rapidly recovering from the severe cold contracted a few weeks ago, and appeared in fine voice, singing her group of songs most artistically. The particular tones of each were especially suited for her voice, and the interpretations were exceedingly beautiful. Miss Klitzke's delightful contralto, well trained and of excellent range, was most cordially received. Mrs. Reid's rendition of "The Rosary" was splendid. The same can be said of the singing of David Bispham's new song, "Nothin' But Love," by Carrie Jacobs-Bond, which Mr. Reid gave most beautifully, in addition to his group.

Miss Edna Estes, of Willamette university, assisted as accompanist, adding pleasure to the recital.

The programmed number for the evening were:

(1) "The Land of the Sky-Blue Water," Cadman; (2) "Her Rose" Coombs; (3) "Slave Song," Del Riego, Mrs. Reid.

Remarks on voice culture, Mr. Reid.

(1) "Kashmiri Love Song," Lindin; (2) "At Dawning," Cadman; (3) "Sappho Ode," Brahma, Miss Klitzke.

(1) "Ah! Love But a Day," Beech;

A preliminary meeting of the Oratorio society was held Wednesday evening at the Salem Vocal Studio, 649 State street. The first rehearsal of "The Rose Melden" is called for November eleventh at eight o'clock, sharp. Mr. Robert Boice Carson, of Portland, will be director, giving one evening of the week for that work. Fifty copies of this cantata have been secured and the interest shown in the undertaking is very satisfactory. A number of voice teachers are sending their pupils to join and there is every reason to expect a society well qualified to represent our growing city. Mr. Carson would like one hundred voices, and the invitation to attend Monday is general. Rehearsals will be held at the Salem Vocal Studio.

Madame Harriet Labadie, who is to appear in Portland under the auspices of the Portland council, Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers' association, will give, in Salem, November eighteenth, a dramatic interpretation of "Tomorrow," by special permission of the author, Percy Mac Kaye.

The "Gleaners" of the First Congregational Bible school, will be sponsors for the entertainment.

Madame Labadie is a famous interpreter of the classics and the greatest of artists in her line of work. Of her personality, a correspondent says:

"Madame Labadie is American born and a member of the Daughter of the American Revolution. Her husband, Francis Labadie, whom she married early in her career, is of French parentage and with the artistic temperament and intuition of his race, he was quick to recognize her great gifts and encouraged the development of her dramatic ability. To his able management is due the success of her present world tour, which has already covered the first part, being devoted to the United States and Canada.

Madame Labadie is a member of the National Geographic society and of the Browning society of Philadelphia, one of the largest and one of the most influential literary societies in America, and representative at large of the American Playgoers' association of New York, and she is associate member of the Drama League of America.

"Immediately following her appearance in New York, April 26, 1912, before the Century Theatre club, the American Playgoers elected her their representative at large. After her dramatic interpretation of "Tomorrow" she was the guest of honor of the club at a lunch given at the Astor hotel. A special article on her work appeared in the August number, 1912, of "The Theatre," a magazine published in New York and devoted to the best dramatic and operatic events of each month."

On the evening of Friday, November first, the Perea class of the First Methodist Sunday School accepted the hospitality of Miss Etta White and Miss Elsie White, who entertained in their home on Cheneketa street. The rooms were gaily decorated in Halloween fashion, and All Saints' games made sport for the evening. Appropriate refreshments were served.

Another happy church affair was the All Saints' party given in Jason Lee Memorial. The parlors were decorated for the occasion and the members of Lucy Lee and Progressive classes and their friends, numbering about fifty, enjoyed games and fortune telling and refreshments complimentary of the day.

The Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church, after their regular business meeting Monday night, entertained most pleasantly with games and music in the church parlors.

Miss Elsie Cotterman and Miss Clara Neugebauer were the committee on arrangements.

About thirty guests enjoyed the entertainment and refreshments following.

The teachers and pupils of Central Howell school entertained with a musicale on Friday evening of last week. Over one hundred and fifty parents and friends gathered in the assembly hall to enjoy the following program: Piano selections from opera "Martha," Miss Baker; Chorus, "America"; Piano number, Vera Otjen; chorus of girls from advanced room; reading, "Is It Anybody's Business?" Miss Leighty; chorus, "The Brook and the River," primary girls; reading, Opal King; selection by Boys' Glee Club, under direction of Mrs. Miller and Miss Baker.

The program was followed by a short address from Mrs. Miller. The entertainment closed with a luncheon.

While the girls of the D. M. C. club were busy embroidering last Wednesday evening, at the home of one of the members, their men friends surprised them by invading the house disguised as "knights of the ties," and camped on the rug by the fireside. Each in true "hobo" fashion, had his appropriate lunch tied carefully in a bandana and slung from a pole over his shoulder. In due process of time, these repasts were devoured; and after the grease paint and other disguises had been removed the surprisers proved to be Mr. John Savage, Mr. Arthur Wallace, Mr. Frederick Broer, Mr. John Broer, Mr. Lucas Smith, Mr. Brock Henderson, Mr. Perry Jones.

HOW GIRLS MAY AVOID PERIODIC PAINS

The Experience of Two Girls Here Related For The Benefit of Others.

Rochester, N. Y.—"I have a daughter 13 years old who has always been very healthy until recently when she complained of dizziness and cramps every month, so bad that I would have to keep her home from school and put her to bed to get relief.

"After giving her only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she is now enjoying the best of health. I cannot praise your Compound too highly. I want every good mother to read what your medicine has done for my child."—Mrs. RICHARD N. DUNHAM, 311 Exchange St., Rochester, N. Y.

Stoutsville, Ohio.—"I suffered from headaches, backache and was very irregular. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of two bottles I found relief. I am only sixteen years old, but I have better health than for two or three years. I cannot express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had taken other medicines but did not find relief."—Miss CORA B. FOSNAUGH, Stoutsville, Ohio, R.F.D., No. 1.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for their daughters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

eration will hold its annual meeting in Portland, November thirteenth to fifteenth, inclusive. The official program has not yet reached this department. Some new and up-to-date features will be introduced which it is hoped will make the session both entertaining and instructive. The social side of club life will be delightfully blended with the business, as several large affairs have been planned. The delegates will be entertained in the homes of club members, which will create a social atmosphere which cannot exist when the homes are not open to guests. The local committee is as follows: hospitality, Mrs. J. W. Tift; trains and baggage, Mrs. A. Stiles; music, Mrs. H. Heppner; credentials, Mrs. G. M. Glines; information, Miss C. Kline; entertainment, Mrs. B. Neustadter; pages and ushers, Mrs. A. Giebach; decorations, Miss C. Dowling; press, Mrs. Godding. A number of clubs have sent in the names of their delegates and it is the request of those in charge that they may be sent in as rapidly as possible, as it relieves the congestion of work that must of necessity crowd the officers and committees as the opening time approaches.

It would be a kindness to the hospitality committee if those delegates who intend stopping with friends would state that fact when sending in their cards, as it is a disappointment for the hostesses to prepare for and expect guests and then have them not

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child—the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

The certificate plan will be used in securing railroad rates, therefore it is absolutely essential that the delegates ask for their certificates when they buy their tickets, if they expect to get reduced rates. A number of inquiries have gone to the Portland officers regarding the alternate's cards, the most frequently asked question being whether these cards should be given
