BODY FOUND IN THE RIVER TODAY

About 1 o'clock today Bridge Tender R. O. Donaldson discovered the body of an unknown man in the Willamette river just below the wagon bridge and on the west side of the river. Corner Clough was notified and went immediately to the scene. He found the body and at once began an investigation. His identity had not been discovered at press time. Inquiry revealed the fact that about 3 o'clock this morning the engineer on one of the donkey engines used in the construction of the bridge, heard a splash as if some object as large as a man had been dropped into the river. A search of his clothing did not reveal anything as to his identity except that he is supposedly German.

There is nothing that would indicate that there was foul play, but it is clearly a case of suicide.

Darby and December 9 is set for the hearing for Mrs. Snyder to show cause why a guardian should not be appointed.

work after being wounded. While being dressed it was necessary to use restoratives, as the pain was very severe.

Loss Will Be Light.

The loss sustained by the fire amounted to about $3000, all of which was on the stage and equipment of the theatre auditorium. No damage was done to any of the walls of the building.

The fire caught from an electric wire under the floor of the theatre stage and spread rapidly. The fact that there was no wind was very much in favor of the firemen, who, with the assistance of the convicts, made a splendid fight to save the building.

The auditorium was built by the convicts at a cost of $10,000, and was dedicated Christmas day, 1911.

What the exact loss is cannot, of course, be determined yet, for, outside of the loss known, the damage to the building cannot yet be told, nor can it be until after a thorough examination, but that it will be much above the figures given above is probable. While the monetary loss is not so great as was at first anticipated, the fire itself was spectacular, and, from its location, and the possibilities that were liable to happen, such as an outbreak of prisoners, made it one of state-wide interest.
