

IN SOCIETY

traction of Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons and evenings, St. Joseph's hall was a scene of animation; crowds of members and friends of the church availed themselves of the opportunity for securing holiday gifts and enjoying three delightful suppers. The fancywork booth was elaborately arranged in a scheme of burnt orange crepe paper, setting off to perfection the daintily colored bits of ornamentation and valances. Mrs. Eckerlin, Mrs. Seelye and Mrs. Hamilton were in charge. Mrs. Seymour Skiff and Mrs. August Hockett used pale pink decorations for their attractive cooked-food stand.

A typical country store was in charge of the women of the Catholic Order of Foresters and over its counters were sold all manner of articles necessary and foolish, to hundreds of customers.

Ios cream and candy were dispensed by the members of the Sodality society. Mrs. John Gantenbein was director of the fascinating bean-bag throw that caused a heap of fun; and from a simulated well surrounded by shrubbery, with a painted scene for background, Mrs. O'Brien and Miss Petzel loaned fish rods for a small sum, and the crowd watched for everyone's catch.

The suppers were excellent. In charge of Mrs. John Nowd, who with a dozen assistants, gave a bevy of pretty girls plenty to do each evening, when they served great numbers of people.

A voting contest for the most popular young woman in the church made a whirl of excitement, which resulted in Miss Olive McGee carrying off the first prize, a fine dress pattern. Miss Helen Barr, second honor, a picture, Hoffman's "Head of Christ"; and Miss Marie Campbell third prize, a beautiful shawl.

It is needless to say that the bazaar was financially a success.

Sedgwick Post, Grand Army of the Republic, with its auxiliary, the Woman's Relief Corps, are giving a dinner at noon today in the armory, Department Commander T. B. McDevitt and Assistant Adjutant General Williams will be guests.

All civil war veterans are invited.

The Misses Atha and Estie Prime, nieces of J. S. Prime and John Milson, of Salem, spent a few days visiting relatives and friends in Monmouth. During their stay, Miss Tena Brown entertained one evening in their honor, music being the special feature. Several solos by Mr. Milson were very much enjoyed as was also the selections given by a four-piece orchestra. At a late hour the guests departed having spent a most enjoyable evening.

Social Clubs.

The W. R. T. Club was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Connell Dyer, on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Grimshaw, Miss Rita Steiner, and Miss Margary Marvin were additional guests, and Mrs. Curtis Cross and Miss Sophie Catlin assisted. Mr. Frederick Slade captured the five hundred prize.

The music department of the club will meet at Mrs. John H. Albert's home in Yew Park on Thursday afternoon, December twelfth, at two-thirty o'clock. Mrs. Seymour Jones will present the story and illustrations will be given by choice Victrola records, loaned to the club through the kindness of a Portland music house.

Mrs. Caroline J. Gleason of Portland, who is a member of the social survey committee of the Portland Consumers' League, will address the Woman's Club Monday afternoon at four o'clock in the library building. A general invitation is extended to the women of Salem outside of the club membership. Mrs. Gleason will talk upon the minimum wage for woman's work. A bill covering this ground will be presented at the coming legislature, and the consumers' league is bending every effort to have the scale of wages for women arranged in such a manner as to eliminate much distress that now prevails.

Church Bazaars.

The Junior Guild of St. Paul's church will hold their annual Christmas bazaar in the Guild house on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Besides beautiful pillow slips and towels, there will be for sale aprons and all sorts of articles in fancywork.

Lots of home-made candy and a quantity of Christmas holly will be added to their stock.

The ladies of the Unitarian church are having a sale of aprons, towels, pillow slips and many other useful articles, together with cooked food, at Buren and Hamilton's this afternoon.

On the afternoon and evening of Friday, December thirteenth, the ladies of the Central Congregational church will conduct their bazaar and cooked food sale in the church parlors.

The ladies of the First Congregational church have planned a bazaar for Friday afternoon and evening of next week. Booths will be arranged for the sale of dolls, baby layettes, fancywork and domestic cooking.

It's surprising how fat a fat woman is.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bad habits. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child—the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with some difficulties by day or night.

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and draughty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that we do, nor ride in street cars when we should walk.

The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make the necessary repairs.
