derived from the minstrel show will be used to give a Christmas dinner to children of the city who would otherwise be forgotten. Young Men's Christian Association of the University assisted by the Salvation Army will have the affair in charge.

Under the direction of Mr. Peterson, violin teacher at Salem, assisted by Mrs. Grace Wheelock, orchestras have been organized in all the public schools and are daily playing for the marches. On Tuesday evening December seventeenth, the various orchestras will combine and assist in a musical program at the open meeting in Highland school. Music in all its phases as developed in the schools in Salem will not only broaden the education of pupils and give them pleasure in life, but will make Salem a musical center in the future.

Miss Joy Turner, instructor in piano and violin at the Willamette College of Music, presented a number of her pupils in recital yesterday afternoon. The program was very interesting and the work exceedingly well given. Miss Turner should feel greatly elated over the results of the work at this recital. The pupils presented Miss Gretta Jennings, Miss Anna Hyson, Miss Eleanor Tall, Miss Smith, Miss Marie Digness, Miss Lola McCadden, Miss Marguerite Hoering, Miss Luette McCully, Miss Marie Wolla, Miss Grace Fugate and Miss Lena Mallet.

The average man nearly always manages to get caught in the act when he has occasion to perform a charitable deed.

Loss, and quartermaster, A. W. Draper.

Mrs. F. W. Wilson, whose home is about four miles from Salem in Polk county entertained with a dinner and afternoon of sewing for the Ladies Aid society of Summit Methodist church. Much work was accomplished and the society has finished many aprons for use on various occasions. The members are intending to have a sale in the near future—probably at some place in Salem.

Interesting news for her many friends comes from the University of California, where Miss Jennie Edginton recently captured first prize in the musical contest. Miss Edginton attended Willamette university and was a student in the liberal arts and school of music. Her special course at the University of California, is domestic science.

The sale of needle work and candy arranged for this week by the Junior Guild of St. Paul's church, was a financial success. A few articles remain and will be disposed of at the rectory, where they will gladly be shown.

Mrs. John McClain was hostess Friday of last week for Salem Heights' Ladies Aid society. It required but a short time to complete the quilt which was under way. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to Christmas work. Miss Orra, the hostess' daughter, served a very dainty luncheon, which added to the pleasure of the affair.

During a business session plans were developed for a chicken pie supper to be given last evening in Salem Heights hall. Members agreed to discontinue the society's meetings until after the holidays.

Enjoying Mrs. McClain's hospitality were: Mrs. B. Morris, Mrs. William Sawyer, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. J. Higgins, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Lucille Noell, Mrs. J. Perkins, Mrs. H. Pascoe, Mrs. W. Gordon.

On Friday afternoon, December sixth, in the parlors of the First Christian church, was held the Woman's Missionary meeting with Mrs. Davis Errett, Mrs. John Gremmels and Mrs. J. D. Barber entertaining. The program on this occasion was a paper on Mormonism, Mrs. J. E. Cliffe; paper, Mrs. Jennie Watson; vocal trio, Mrs. Wenger, Mrs. Davis Errett and Mr. Errett; poem by Miss Nellie Clark, read by Miss Esther Gremmels.

Lavender, the society's color, was displayed with the luncheon, and fruits from Mr. Everett's brother's ranch near Fresno were added to its charm.

Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Gibson were received into the society at this meeting.

The Woman's club of First Baptist church entertained Tuesday with a delightful social evening for members and friends of the church. Light refreshments were served and the following program greatly enjoyed: violin solo—"Song of the Soul," Miss Mary Schultz; vocal solo, Mrs. O'Neil; Reading, Mrs. Bjork; vocal solo, Mrs. Bernice Sauter; vocal solo, Mrs. Theodore Roth; reading—"A Christmas Experience," by Elizabeth Trice, Mrs. Vera Byars Glover; vocal solo, Miss Ermine Breshnell. Mr. H. S. Gile gave an interesting talk of the Baptist convention, which he recently attended in Chicago. The songs were all delightful and heartily received as also was Miss Bjork's reading.

Mrs. Glover's splendid recitation demanded a double encore. Miss Schultz' beautiful selection was followed by a "German dance" as encore. The men of the church declare their intention of entertaining for the next meeting of the club.

The bazaar and program given by the ladies of the First Congregational church was a decided success socially and financially; a large number of members and friends visiting the church during the evening. The Pretty booths were presided over by Mrs. G. G. Brown, fancy work; domestic science, Mrs. R. B. Duncan; doll and infant belongings, Mrs. E. A. Miller; home cooking, Mrs. L. J. Fry; candy, Mrs. W. I. Staley.

Luncheon was served at the noon hour and the following program immensely enjoyed in the evening: Piano solo—La BelleAme, Mrs. Bernice Sauter; reading—"A Christmas Experience,"—Elizabeth Price, Mrs. Vera Byars Glover; solo, Creole Love Song—Smith—Mrs. Julia Cross Pinnell; violin solo—Humoresque—Miss Pearl Vereker; accompanist, Miss Mable Smith; reading—"A Big Mistake," Miss Hazelle Erickson; piano solo—An Elegy—Nollet, Miss Mable Smith; solo—Hindoo Chant—Venberg, Mrs. Julia Cross Pinnell; reading—"From a Far Country," Mrs. Vera Byars Glover.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yates asked friends for five hundred on last Wednesday evening. Playing at the tables were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Ely, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Griggs, Mrs. Grace Lansing and Mr. Edward Piro.

The rooms were decorated with clusters of roses in vases. A lovely luncheon rounded out the evening.

The Ladies of the Leslie Methodist church held their Christmas bazaar last week beginning with Friday evening when refreshments were served from a national booth, with its flags and bunting decorations, under direction of Miss Nellie McIntyre, and tea and waifers were served by Mrs. Alvan Ulrich in Japanese costume and surrounded by appropriate settings. Aprons of all description and fancy work in beautiful pieces were sold to many buyers. For pleasure of the visitors, Miss Mary Bishop sang "Four Leaf Clover," Mrs. Grace Thompson recited "The Stolen Watermelon" and Miss Nellie McIntyre sang "The Rose." On Saturday there was a cooked food sale and needle work articles left from the previous day, were disposed of. The generous sum of money resulting from this bazaar will be used to pay interest on the new church edifice.

Social Club Notes.

A few social clubs are continuing their meetings, but the majority have postponed cards and sewing until the rush of holiday excitement has subsided.

Miss Alina Thompson was hostess for the Kensington club with Wednesday afternoon sewing. Additional guests invited were Mrs. Robert R. Benham, Mrs. Dean Hays, Miss McClain, Mrs. W. J. Hall and Mrs. Paul Zinkhan.

The Cherry City Social club enjoyed a pleasant evening with Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Downing Wednesday. High scores gave prizes to Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wain. Playing five hundred besides the club members were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burton, Doctor and Mrs. W. S. Mori, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith and Miss Klitie Harbord.

Among the many card clubs in this city, none have merrier gatherings than the "Junior Five Hundred," recently organized. Doctor and Mrs. Paul Zinkhan entertained last Wednesday, in the hospitable home of Mrs. Zinkhan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miles, at Salem Heights. Five tables were arranged for the evening's game and high scores gave Mrs. Harbord and Mr. McGilchrist card favors. Mrs. Miles and Mrs. Poisal, assisted with serving the delightful luncheon. Members of this club which meets every other week on Wednesday evening, are Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Harding, Doctor and Mrs. Paul Zinkhan, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Johnson, Mrs. James Walton and Miss Verna Cook were guests besides on Wednesday evening.

Another five hundred club as yet without a name has joined the ranks of amusement lovers. The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Van Winkle, 48 North Seventeenth street.

Playing at the tables are Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Poisal, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. La Flar, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bollinger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Burdall, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Billingsly and Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Van Winkle, Mr. and Mrs. La Flor entertained last week. Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., and Mr. Bollinger captured card favors.

Mrs. Stanley L. Morgan entertained the re-organized sewing club yesterday afternoon with Mrs. George Simeral (Miss Margaret Klein) as honor guest. For tea, twelve young women circled the pretty table centered with chrysanthemums reflected from a mirror rest.

In compliment to Mrs. Helen Bolen, Mrs. Heysor's mother who has been visiting in the east and is journeying to Los Angeles, stopping in Salem for a few days, the Central club met yesterday instead of on Thursday as is customary. Mrs. H. H. Hunter, whose home is on Union street, was hostess for the pleasant afternoon and served a lovely luncheon assisted by Mrs. Charles Parmenter and Mrs. Louis Bechtel. Members of the club who enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Bolen were Mrs. Frederick Bynon, Mrs. Frederick Heysor, Mrs. W. T. Hoffmiller, Mrs. C. J. Olmstead, Mrs. O. G. Shellberg, Mrs. Frank Skinner, Mrs. T. W. Holler, of Corvallis, Mrs. O. F. Purdy, of Ohio and the honor guest.

Woman's Club Notes.

The December meeting of the club is held today in the auditorium of the new library building. Mrs. William E. Kirk will entertain with notes from the National Federation meeting at San Francisco.

The five thousand red cross seals sent from Portland to the Woman's club were disposed of on Monday and ten thousand more were ordered. This lot arrived in Salem Wednesday and were almost entirely disposed of by last evening. Today's sale will probably finish the fifteen thousand, giving Salem again second place in the state. Last year's sale resulted in the largest amount excepting Portland's.

Under the successful management of Mrs. Harry Clay and Miss Sophie Catlin, who supplied red cross stamps for sale in the booths at Ladd & Bush bank, H. W. and M. L. Meyers' and the book stores, the sale was unprecedented. Many prominent club and society women joined in assisting to dispose of stamps, and the result at six o'clock last evening was most gratifying.

Personal Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hayes (Miss Rosalia Friendly) and Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Benham came from Eugene to attend the Lircaley-Roberts party Tuesday night, and were guests of the Clifford Browns.

Mrs. R. B. Houston and her daughter, Miss Florence, were in Portland Wednesday, attending the matinee. Walker Whiteside in "The Typhoon."

Mrs. Ada Strong and her little grandson, Henry Wesley Thielsen, returned Monday evening from a few days' visit in Portland with her niece, Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, at the Desendorf apartments.

Mrs. George F. Simeral of Pixley, near Bakerville, California, is passing the holiday season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Klein, 1118 Oak street. Mrs. Simeral will remain for Christmas. Mrs. Simeral's father and her sister, Miss Emmaline, returned to Salem with her.

Mrs. M. A. Plamondon, of Portland, arrived in Salem last Saturday and will be over Christmas guest of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Pape.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Rose were Portland visitors with friends this week.

After a delightful two weeks' stay at The Dalles, guests of Mrs. Frederick Waters' mother, Mr. and Mrs. Waters returned home Wednesday.

Mr. Frederick Erickson has gone to Manhattan, Kansas, to be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Erickson, for Christmas. Mr. Erickson is to pass six or eight weeks traveling and visiting in the state.

Mrs. John Gremmels is entertaining as house guest Miss Emma Krause of Amherst, Ohio, who will make a lengthy stay.

Many ladies in Salem will be glad to learn that Mrs. C. R. Thompson will again visit this city with a display of beautiful Oriental work which will be exhibited at Hotel Marion on Monday only.

Miss Frances Adams, of Silverton who was house guest of Mrs. George G. Bingham, attended the party Tuesday night, returning home the next day.
