Illiehe Club May Get Arid

Unless the Illiehe club can succeed in getting special legislation through three readings at the last meeting of the old city council Monday night, the organization will, in all probability, have to do without a bar in its new quarters on Liberty street. The floor space of the new quarters is too small to come under the provisions of the existing ordinance, and it is reported that Mayor Lachmund informed the officials of the club that if they established a bar he would have them arrested.

By special legislation an ordinance was passed allowing a bar in any club house occupying 6000 square feet or more of space. This allowed a buffet only in the Illiehe club, there being no others of sufficiently large dimensions in the city. The new quarters of the club occupy 4500 feet of space.

New Council Dry.
 The new council, which will be sworn in at the meeting Monday night, after the old council has held a brief session, is largely dry, and it is extremely doubtful if the new aldermen would pass an ordinance permitting a bar in a club house. There is a bare possibility that such a measure could be made to pass the present body.

Again it is said to be doubtful if the Illiehe club members, as a majority, would vote for a bar. The club has taken in many new members in recent months, among them many citizens who are opposed to saloons and the liquor traffic. Many have refused when first approached, to join the club because it had a bar. President C. L. Dick, in an address before the Board of Trade some time ago, in urging all substantial citizens of the city to join the club mentioned this objection. He said he had met the objection with these words:
 "Well, if you don't want a bar in the club, vote it out."
 The fact that by no means all of the members want a bar, together with the improbability of special legislation Monday night makes the establishment of a buffet in the club doubtful.

The Caucus Did Not Agree on Anything

Notwithstanding that a motion was passed to keep secret all matters considered by the new and hold-over members of the city council at the caucus held last night, it is known that the candidates for the police force and those recommended by the chief of police were not entirely supported by the 1913 council, and that several changes in the administration of the city affairs will result when the body meets either next Monday night or a week from then.

Secret Session!

The caucus held last night was strictly secret insofar as newspaper men and unofficial taxpayers were concerned. However, the body failed to arrive at any definite conclusion regarding the recommendations made by the new chief of police of patrolmen and the upshot of the meeting was, the regular appointment of the new officers will be made in open meeting within the next week. In the meantime, Chief Shedeck will be granted the privilege of selecting his help temporarily, and when the council meets next Monday evening there are good prospects of disension as to who shall be the officers to complete the new patrol force.

It is understood that there are other changes to be made in the city administration by the new council. About the only office subject to entire approval was that of City Health officer Dr. O. B. Miles. This office, it is said, received the entire approval of the new city administration together with words of praise by the hold-overs and it is more than likely that Dr. Miles will be supported strongly when the final conclusions as to the maintenance of public officials are arrived at.

Trouble Brewing.

There was considerable disension resulting when the many applications for several city offices were introduced, according to statements made by members of the new council, and the wishes of most of the officers to serve for the city this year were disregarded in many ways. Although the appointment of new police officers was a matter of much strife, other applications and endorsements brought forth a storm of protests and showed dissatisfaction among the members at the caucus. Charges and counter-charges were made against certain candidates for the police force and other offices and, according to an attendant not much of anything was accomplished toward establishing a new city administration.

Hope deterred has given many a man cold feet.

His Talk Shows He Is Still a Dangerous Man

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 4.—"If they give me anything they'd better give me life. Then I won't have a chance to get back at them."
 This was the surly declaration today of Carl Riedelbach, alias Warr, who is a prisoner in a steel cell at the county jail awaiting another trial on a charge of depositing dynamite in a public building. Riedelbach is the one-armed little German who terrorized the central police station several weeks ago with an infernal machine. A jury that tried him last week disagreed, standing 10 to 2 for conviction.

"They say I'm a dangerous man," Riedelbach continued. "Well, maybe I will be a dangerous man if they send me up for two or three years. I guess if they let me off now I would not have the heart to do anything else."
 "I would not have blown up their old police joint, anyway. I just wanted to force them to bring me Paul Shoup. He's president of the Pacific Electric, and I wanted to make him raise his men's wages. Anyway, I've seen lots of railroad boys smashed up, and it would not hurt the higher up guys to get some, too."

Four Auto Bandits Get Busy

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 Chicago, Jan. 4.—Scouring every part of the city, 50 detectives today endeavored to locate the four automobile bandits who invaded the downtown district, after robbing a North Side jewelry store of diamonds worth $1200.

The thieves fought two battles with the police, firing recklessly into crowds of shoppers on one of the city's principal streets.
Two suspects arrested, Thomas Brady, aged 32, and Frank O'Brien, aged 37, denied all knowledge of the crime.

Woman Doctor Is Opposed to Vaccination

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 Portland, Or., Jan. 4.—Vividly exercised by attacks made on vaccination by Mrs. Laura C. Little, medical lecturer, with whom he was publicly debating on a vaccination issue, Dr. Calvin S. White, secretary of the state board of health, arose in his place on the platform and challenged Mrs. Little to spend four hours in the post house with him to see who would contract smallpox first. He is today not only a victor in the debate by popular acclaim but his challenge is turned down.

The moment Mrs. Little had finished her impeachment of vaccination, Dr. White rushed to the front of the platform and strongly insinuating that she had made misrepresentations, faced her and hotly declared:
 "I am vaccinated, Mrs. Little, and you are not. I challenge you to accompany me to the post house where we will forego all precautions in openly treating smallpox cases, to see who contracts the disease first."

Mrs. Little gently but firmly declined the invitation.

Took Stomach from Corpse at the Funeral

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 San Francisco, Jan. 4.—Because of suspected poison the funeral of Miss Annie Fitzgerald, a stenographer of Dr. Herbert Law, who died here suddenly New Year's day, was interrupted today by coroner Leland, and the stomach removed and sent to the city chemist for analysis.
 Miss Fitzgerald partook of an Italian dinner New Year's eve. Next day she died.

Dr. B. S. Bergon declared his belief that death resulted from ptomaine poisoning.

 To the face with regular features this classic hairdressing is very becoming, but the woman with a plain or even merely a pliant face should beware of so severely simple a style.

WHEN A ROOM IS STUFFY.

Closeness May Be Overcome When Windows Can't Be Opened.
 There is no greater purifier of air than open windows, but sometimes in sickrooms this method of changing the air is impossible.
 Have you ever tried overcoming closeness by carrying a rolled burning newspaper through a sickroom? Equally good is a tablespoonful of vinegar ignited over an alcohol lamp.
 An atomizer for spraying cologne can be used with toilet water or witch hazel with refreshing effect.
 There are special spirit lamps that have a connection with a platinum ball attachment that are excellent to permeate a room with purifying odors. There are special mixtures for burning in these lamps, but a good cologne or toilet water answers.
 The lamp burns until the platinum ball grows red hot; then the flame is extinguished. The vaporization of the cologne is increased by coming in contact with the heated metal, and the room is soon fragrant.
 A quick way to cool a room is to wet a small crib sheet with cologne or water highly scented with perfumed bath tablets. Hang in a draft of air or shake the sheet lightly while still wet.
 Burning lump camphor is favored by some nurses, especially in sultry weather, as mosquitoes avoid the odor.

The Trousers Coat.

Extremes in juvenile styles are to be met with on every hand, but probably the limit has been reached in the coat illustrated, which is decidedly "French."
 The material used is a moire poplin in a lovely shade of tan. Belt, cuffs

FRENCH MODEL OF SILK AND MOLESKIN.
 and narrow turned down collar are of moleskin.
 As you see, the coat is exceedingly abbreviated at the bottom and narrows into almost the width of a man's trousers leg. On a tall, stylish child this coat is stunning.

Substitute For Hot Water Bottle.
 The following suggestion is taken from the Farm and Fireside, where it is published in the housewife's department: "For people with steam heat old magazines stuck in the radiators will be found a fine substitute for hot water bottles. Magazines so heated never burn and when placed in a bed or a baby's carriage hold the heat for a long time."

A woman can't help looking indignant every time she sees a chicken incubator.
 According to a story in the Oregon Journal the government will very soon take over the locks at Oregon City.

They Killed and Feasted on Planters

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 Sydney, N. S. W., Jan. 4.—News has just been brought in by friendly natives of New Guinea that two planters, James and Herman Webber, brothers, whose plantation lay in the heart of the "bigger country," were set upon by a savage tribe which came from the unexplored regions of the interior and killed them. No trace of the bodies have been found, and it is understood the blacks, who are known to be cannibals, ate them. The tribe has been carrying on a campaign of butchery throughout the district.
 A punitive expedition has been formed with the idea of teaching the murderers a lesson.

Guggenheim Smelters Are Closed Down

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 El Paso, Texas, Jan. 4.—Unable to secure fuel or ore on account of a strike and the freight embargo on all Mexican railroads, the Guggenheim smelters at Chihuahua, Montere, Aguas Calientes and Velardena are expected to close down tonight until more quiet conditions are restored.
 This action would render 50,000 Mexicans idle, and probably would augment the ranks of the rebels.
 Mines employing thousands of persons depending on the smelters to handle their ore, probably will also be forced to close.

TO SELECT THE SITE FOR FRENCH EXHIBIT

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 Medford, Ore., Jan. 4.—Dr. Jean De Pulligny, chief engineer of highways and director of the commission of French engineers to the United States, left Medford this morning on the Shasta limited for San Francisco to select a site at the exposition grounds for the French building. He stopped here to gather data concerning highways and horticulture.

"Sit Tight, Say Little, Keep Busy"

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 New York, Jan. 4.—"Sit tight, say little and keep the organization intact."

This, in effect, was the watchword agreed upon here today by Republican leaders who conferred preliminary to the "rehabilitation banquet," to be held by Republicans here tonight, and at which President Taft will deliver the principal address.
 Committeeman Mulvane, of Kansas, said the party's future is safe and predicted Republican success in 1916. Others predicted that the administration of Woodrow Wilson would be a failure, especially in regard to the tariff and the trusts.

The Champion Light-Weight Wants a Match

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 Medford, Ore., Jan. 4.—Bud Anderson, champion lightweight of the Northwest, accompanied by his manager, Dick Donald, left for San Francisco today, where Donald hopes to secure some worth-while go for his boy. A deft will be issued at once to Harlem Tommy Murphy.
 "We are ready for the best of them" declared Donald, "any reasonable offer of a 10 or 15-round go will be taken up without question, backed by the $1000 put in Coffroth's hands some time ago."

SAYS COMPANY REFUSED TO CARRY HIS BAGGAGE

Alleging that the Portland Railway, Light & Power Co. has refused to carry his baggage from Portland to Estacada, C. G. Sutherland, a traveling salesman of Portland, has filed a complaint with the State Railroad Commission.
 The plaintiff says that on account of the refusal of the company to carry his baggage, he is unable to show samples in the town of Estacada, and consequently is handicapped in making sales to the merchants of the town.

Strikers and Police Have a Hot Mixup

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 New York, Jan. 4.—Many strikers in the big garment workers' strike here, mostly women, are today nursing cuts and bruises, following an attack made by them upon the five-story loft building of the Washington company, where the president of the concern was barricaded in his office.
 The police reserves, after a rough and tumble fight, succeeded in driving the assailants from the top floor of the building to the street.

AVIATOR'S WIFE WANTS A DIVORCE

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 San Francisco, Jan. 4.—Charging that Lincoln Beachy, the daring aviator, who figured prominently in the international aviation meet here, treated her with cruelty ever since their marriage in 1906, in Detroit, Mrs. May B. Beachy, filed a divorce complaint against her husband today. Beachy was served with papers today.

Many Hurt in a Southern Train Wreck

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
 Mobile, Ala., Jan. 4.—Because an engine of a New Orleans, Mobile & Chicago railroad passenger train proved too heavy for a trestle at Leaf, Miss., causing the structure to collapse, two persons are known to be dead, and a score injured.
 From reports received here, it is feared there may be more dead bodies buried beneath the wreckage.

Rough Day on Horses.

Today has been the worst day of the winter for horses driven on the paved streets. Scores of them have fallen on the pavement though none have been reported injured beyond slight sprains.
 Most of the thoroughbred animals have been kept in their stables today, the owners being fearful lest a fall on the pavement might result in permanent injuries. All forenoon the pavements were so icy that it was almost an impossibility for horses, unless very sharp shod, to keep their feet.

The government did a big, thorough job in the dynamite conspiracy case. Leap year has passed, but 1913 will be "just as good" a year for women with attraction and tact.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child—the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.
