

The End of the War Is in Sight

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Constantinople, Jan. 22.—The general council of the Turkish empire this afternoon almost unanimously agreed to the recommendations of the European powers for peace in the Balkans. The ports are expected to ratify the council's action later, and if this is done it means the end of the Turko-Balkan war.

The decision means that Turkey will cede to Adrianople, and at least a portion of the Aegean islands.

The terms suggested by the powers will leave Turkey in Europe only the district surrounding Constantinople, the Peninsula of Gallipolis and a narrow strip of land along the sea of Marmora and the Dardanelles. The Aegean islands, except those near the straits, will go to the allies, and the status of Crete and Albania are left to the powers.

WARDEN THINKS THE CONDEMNED MAN INSANE

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Sacramento, Jan. 22.—Acting upon the suggestion of Warden Johnson of Folsom that further steps should be taken to determine the mental condition of Charles Carson, condemned murderer, sentenced to be hanged February 14, District Attorney E. S. Wachhorst of Sacramento filed a petition in the superior court asking a rehearing in the matter.

Superior Judge Hughes set the hearing for January 21. For three years the condemned man, who took part in the 1906 prison break, has not uttered a word, and although previous tests of his sanity have been made, Warden Johnson and others are not satisfied. He has been twice reprovied.

RAILROAD MAN BEATEN AND ROBBED IN TACOMA

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 22.—William H. Lathes, aged 65 years, car inspector for the Northern Pacific railroad, was clubbed into insensibility early today in the local railroad yards. His assailant robbed him of a gold watch and $6 and left the railroad man on the ground to die. When he revived about an hour later Lathes started to drag himself, most of the time on his hands and knees, toward the police station a mile away. He was overcome by loss of blood and collapsed as he reached the central police station. Lathes probably will die. He was traveling inspector with offices in Tacoma and Vancouver, B. C.

An Idaho Town Swept by Flames

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
St. Anthony, Idaho, Jan. 22.—Fire is sweeping the Ross Hammer block, the largest building in St. Anthony, and as all water pipes are frozen, the entire town is threatened. Citizens are making a desperate effort to prevent spread of the flames but have not made any headway. The loss to the Ross Hammer building alone will exceed $250,000. The building is occupied by the First National Bank, the Consolidated Wagon and Machine company, with a stock of $100,000; Chase Furniture company, stock valued at $50,000, and the Bell Telephone company exchanges and offices.

FEDERATION OF LABOR HAS EXECUTIVE SESSION

The Federation of Labor was in session this morning behind closed doors in the Moose hall, and from the sound of some eloquent speaker's voice drifting through an opening when a member entered or emerged from the hall, some one or something was receiving either an Al lambasting or being lauded with much enthusiasm.

Nary a peek could The Journal reporter get through the portals of the hall this morning. A large man, just good fighting size, stood guard at the entrance, and, although very obliging as to answering questions to a certain degree, would not entertain a proposition whereby the reporter could gain some knowledge relative to the laboring man's idea on any subject.

WOULD MAKE EVERETT AN EDUCATIONAL CENTER

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Olympia, Wash., Jan. 22.—Provision for a $200,000 trade school to be located at Everett, is made in a bill introduced today by Senator Campbell. There is already a vocational school at Everett and this is intended as the next step in making this city an educational center.

To reduce the legal rate of interest in the state of Washington from 12 to 10 per cent, is the intent of a bill which was favorably acted upon by the judiciary committee of the House today and which will be brought up for a vote tomorrow.

CHICAGO GARMENT WORKERS EXPECTED TO STRIKE

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Chicago, Jan. 22.—A walkout of Chicago garment workers in sympathy with the New York strikers is expected momentarily. Union leaders this afternoon decided not to wait a week for the employers to break contracts with New York manufacturers as demanded earlier in the day.

When union representatives called at the shops here today they were turned down sharply. The leaders then decided the strike committee was empowered to call strike immediately.

The Bank Guaranteed Fund.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 22.—In the march of legislative events here little has been heard of a bank guarantee fund for depositors, but Senator Sanford has come forward with the plan by introducing a bill in the senate, and he backs it up with the declaration that it is endorsed by William J. Bryan, "the biggest man in the world."

Sanford's plan is just the same as the Oklahoma law. It provides that the superintendent of banks levy on stock of banks an assessment of 1 per cent of the average daily deposits, and that this fund be used to pay off depositors of insolvent institutions. National banks are given the right to come in if they care to do so. It is stipulated that banks organized subsequent to the act pay 3 per cent of the amount of the capital stock as a credit fund.

Will Test the Law.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
San Francisco, Jan. 22.—An attack on the constitutionality of the federal statute which takes citizenship away from an American woman who marries an unaturalized foreigner is to be made by Mrs. McKenzie Gordon, wife of the San Francisco tenor and vocal instructor. Mrs. Gordon tried to register as a voter Wednesday and was refused permission because her husband is a native of England and not naturalized.

The application was made for the purpose of forming a basis for a test case attacking the constitutionality of the law.

EDUCATORS URGED TO SPEAK ON CHILD LABOR.

Monday, January 27th, Will Be Child Labor Day in Schools and Colleges.

Every president of a college or university and 1500 school principals in large cities throughout the country have just been asked by the National Child Labor committee to observe Monday, January 27th as Child Labor Day in schools and colleges. This is a new feature this year of the Child Labor Day, which for seven years past has been widely observed by the clergy of all denominations. The National Child Labor committee believes there will be a general response to this appeal to the educators of the country, since it is coming to be universal recognized not only that child labor interferes with education, but that the attitude of the children themselves is a leading factor in the child labor problem.

Of the 6000 clergymen to whom the Child Labor Day appeal was sent more than 300 have responded with personal letters assuring their support of the plan. To each of the 6,000 a pamphlet of facts and statistics was sent, and the committee considers it significant of the increasingly intelligent interest of the public in child labor, that so many as 300 have asked for more detailed information about the laws in their own states.

Cordial endorsement of Child Labor Day has been received from The Union of Baptists and Free Baptists and the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

Bishop Israel, of Erie, has expressed his cordial approval as follows: "While an ardent believer in the observance of the Lord's Day as appointed in the church year and elaborated in the prayer book, I am so deeply interested in, and consider the subject of Child Labor so important a question, that I give my unqualified endorsement to the observance of January 27th (Sexagesima Sunday) as what has been termed 'Child Labor Day.'

"Surely the love our Lord manifested for children can be so emphasized upon this day, when we are preparing for the Lenten season, as to make most effective a sermon for the release of childhood from overwhelming burdens and the proper training and care of these 'little ones' physically, mentally and spiritually.

"The exploiting of children for gain is a burning question that every heart filled with the love of Christ must desire to give voice to an earnest protest."

Others who have been heard from are Bishop Gailor of Tennessee, Bishop Harding of Washington, D. C., Bishop

Scarborough of New Jersey, Bishop McCormick of Western Michigan, and Bishop Spaulding of Utah.

The Joint Social Service Commission of the Protestant Episcopal church has written to all diocesan social service commissions, urging them to bring the matter before the clergy in their respective dioceses.

A COUNTRY WITHOUT RAILROADS

How Humboldt, California, Plans to Profit by the Coming of the First One.

Eureka, California, is the largest town in the United States without a through railroad, and, except in the summer months, wholly dependent upon the sea for intercourse with the outside world. It is a wide-awake city of 13,500 inhabitants, with electric lights, a local transit system, and the other equipment of an up-to-date community; but the first railroad from San Francisco is now building to it, and will not be completed for another year.

Meanwhile the business men of Humboldt county, of which Eureka is the chief town, have raised a fund of $50,000, and engaged Rufus R. Wilson, late secretary of the Seattle Commercial club, to conduct a three-year publicity campaign Humboldt, the western county in the Union, and larger than the state of Connecticut, is one of the most picturesque sections of California, and a country also of wonderful timber, mineral and agricultural resources. It hopes to profit immensely by the opening of the Panama canal, for it boasts the largest body of redwood in America, all with an easy access to Humboldt bay.

Another of the county's potential assets is an extensive area of what experts declare to be orchard land, which, up to the present time, has been used only for grazing purposes.

WILL TRY THE RECALL ON SAN FRANCISCO JUDGE

Stitt Wilson, mayor of Berkeley, today allied themselves with San Francisco clubwomen who are circulating a petition for the recall of Police Judge Charles Weller. A series of public meetings are to be arranged at which Dr. Aked and Mayor Wilson will uphold the women in their efforts to oust Weller.

Leaders of the recall movement announced today that they expect to get sufficient signers to the petition by Monday to insure a recall election.

When a woman wants to be entertained without cost she goes shopping.

COUNTY CLERK WAKES UP ISSUES MARRIAGE LICENSE

Becoming suddenly conscious of the fact he had not assisted one minister in this county for two days, County Clerk Gehlhar today pulled down his marriage license record and issued one of the precious documents to Wm. E. Lyons, of Turner, and Jessie Stapleton, of Salem. "Smatter," said the genial county clerk when questioned as to the whereof of the sudden drop or leakage in the marriage license department. "Don't know. Suppose all the marriageable ladies are working at the state house, or don't give a whoop whether they marry or not. It don't make much difference now. Since equal rights have been established, leap year is not looked forward to. When a voting woman wants a man she just goes and grabs 'em. 'Tis a shame, though, this falling off of marriage licenses, when you consider there are hunting and fishing licenses two to one more plentiful."
