THE HOME RULE BILL MAY BE RESURRECTED

There is a strong probability that the Calkins-Bean joint resolution, to give the people of the state an opportunity to repeal the home rule amendment to the constitution in the 1914 election, which was killed in the senate yesterday, may be resurrected and reconsidered. If the resolution is reconsidered there is little doubt but that it will carry.

Senator Thompson, who voted against the resolution yesterday, is said to be favorable to giving the resolution another chance, because of the absence yesterday of Senator Hollis, though there is no indication that Thompson will change his vote on the measure. Should Senator Hollis declare himself against the resolution, which is not likely, no move to bring it up again will be made.

A VERY SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS CONTINUES

The Oregon Shoe Company, 175 N. Commercial street, has changed hands and management. The new management will continue in the shoe business under the same name, and will hold the high standard previously held by the company. A Portland concern is the purchaser of this large stock of reliable goods, and in the future will keep in stock nothing but the standard grades and makes of footwear, latest styles and the best shoes for wear, ease and comfort obtainable. For ladies, nothing excels the Krippeford & Dittmann, Utz & Dunn. For men all standard makes, the Edwin Clapp, Lewis & Crossett, Copeland & Ryder and Rice & Hutchins. This grade of footwear is what has made this store a lasting success. The confidence that you have had in this store in the past will not be betrayed in the future. We wish to extend to you one and all a hearty greeting and will appreciate your patronage. 1-29-21

ANYWAY HIS AUTO WAS BROKE TO LEAD

To be stuck in the mud due to a defect in his engine which he could not locate, and to be suddenly jerked out of his helpless state and snaked into town behind a big auto truck, was the somewhat disturbing experience suffered by Mel Hamilton yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Hamilton was on his way to the city from his home on the Fair Ground yesterday in his auto when his engine suddenly gave a snort and snuff and stopped dead still. He cranked with much vigor and used language unsuitable for print, with equal dexterity, but nary a spark could he get. After nearly twisting his crank off the hinges and all but dislocating his shoulder, Mr. Hamilton was hailed by Barry Cooper, the genial motorman on a big Federal truck, who hitched a hawser on the stranded sloop and snaked both the owner and it to Salem.

HOMEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

I do a general visiting and office practice, treating both acute and chronic diseases. I have many patients for asthma, dropsy, diseases of the heart and kidneys, gall stones, rheumatism, diseases of the skin and nervous disorders.

I have cured dropsy in patients after they had been pronounced hopeless by other able physicians.

I have cured gall stones after eminent surgeons had said that an operation would be necessary to afford relief.

Office practice: Cash. If you need my help, I am at your service.

The Good Roads Bill.

Senator Barrett's bill providing for road construction by bonding the counties consumed the greater part of the senate session yesterday. With the body in committee of the whole the bill was completed in debate section by section, and late last night was referred back to the roads and highways committee to perfect the title to cover the amendments—which were numerous.

The Seattle Water Front Is the State's

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Olympia, Wash., Jan. 29.—An investigation seems probable today, following the testimony of Erastus Brunner, former land commissioner and former editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, before the legislative commission yesterday which is hearing the charges of Representative Houser on the Seattle water front monopoly grab.

Houser charges that practically every water front lease in Seattle should be canceled by the state, because the terms of the leases have been violated. He further charges that the state now owns a large part of water front lands which have been grabbed by private interests.

Brainerd declared that, as a member of the state board of land commissioners in 1893, he voted against the proposed deal whereby the water front interests secured their stranglehold on Seattle.

SOME LITTLE THINGS OUTSIDE OF BUSINESS

A raw stunt was enacted in the senate chamber yesterday afternoon during an important discussion when a Portland lobbyist occupied the seat of a senator who was absent, and, without detection by the president or any of the senators, made a motion for the adoption of a report, and seconded another motion. He was noticed by one of the clerks.

The name of the man could not be learned. The legislation under discussion was not important, and the fellow did no harm.

The courtesy of the senate was extended this morning to former Senator U. S. Lowry, of Polk county, and to W. M. Cake, of Portland.

A bill in the senate provides for an appropriation of $65,000 for a chair on logging in the state agricultural college. An amendment is contemplated which will make it necessary for the professor who gets the job to wear calked boots, corduroy breeches and a flannel shirt, so as to lend dignity to the position.

It is whispered about that another bill will be introduced for a chair in the college to give instruction in the art of punching holes in washers.

Senate Deadlocked.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Washington, Jan. 29.—By a tie vote the democratic and progressive members this afternoon forced postponement of an executive session of the senate to break the deadlock incidental to the holding up by the Democrats of Taft nominations. The senate then began consideration of the educational bill.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE OFF AND WAR WILL BEGIN

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] London, Jan. 29.—Definitely breaking negotiations with Turkey, Premier Venizelos, of Greece, will leave London Friday, and will report to King George at Athens. The royal command came to Venizelos today. The other Greek envoys, Generals Danglis and Dr. Streit, were also ordered to leave.

The Bulgarian plenipotentiaries gave a "farewell" luncheon today to the other Balkan envoys before M. Grovitch, minister to England, accompanied by Envoy Novakovitch, of the Serbian delegation, delivered the joint note to Reschid Pasha.

Sir Edward Grey, England's foreign minister, was informed immediately of the note's delivery. The foreign ambassadors here, he said, plan to try and persuade the envoys to not leave London.

Dispatches received from Constantinople said Turkey's reply to the powers' note would be delivered to the Austrian ambassador there tonight, or early tomorrow. It will propose an entirely new basis for peace negotiations.
