Big Stunts Tonight at the Capitol

THIRD HOUSE WILL BURLESQUE SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES—PROGRAM OF FUN AND FROLIC—THE MENAGERIE.

Rip roaring and ludicrous will be the fun in the house tonight when the Third House puts on its burlesque session of the legislature before the senators and representatives. That it will be funny and filled with keen shots if the officials, stenographers and clerks carry out their program as planned and do not suffer with cold feet. Everybody at the capitol is already giggling.

The stenographers and clerks, mostly suffragettes, will occupy members' seats and pose as senators and representatives, while the real articles will sit back in the lobby and see themselves burlesqued. Grottesque bills and resolutions will be introduced and disposed of with sarcasm and comedy.

It had been planned to open the program with a tableau of a stenographer and clerk at work, but it was afterwards thought best not to shock the members of the legislature with the unusual sight of two working at once.

The fun will start with the election of a speaker and other officers. Senator Day, of Portland and Representative Westerlund, the 265 pounder of the legislature, will act as pages. After the organization is completed, and by invitation of the Third House, Representative Jay Upton, of Portland, will recite "Paul Revere's Ride," and Senator Joseph, of Portland will sing "My Wild Irish Rose," accompanied by Senator Kellaher, of Portland, on a Jew-harp, following which Representative Belland of Clatsop will give Mark Anthony's funeral oration, and Billings' Jubilee Stingers will sing "Noita Stood on the Interstate Bridge at Midnight."

During the above program the audience is requested to remain seated, but to throw with force and accurate aim. After the corpses are carried out the Third House will get down to business again. So much secrecy has been observed that the remainder of the program is unknown.

The menagerie will be a prominent side feature of the evening. Here will be seen Signor Dimick of Clackamas and his trained dog, which intelligent beast will tie itself in knots and twists almost unimaginable. Prof. Forbes of Crook county, one of the world's great animal trainers, will make Hawwood's goat do bewildering stunts. There will also be a cage full of Sysymbrium Altissimum, with Governor West in charge, which ferocious exhibits were plucked for the famous Mahm weed bill. The Irish Home Rule Felletation, a most wonderful brute. In charge of Representative Mike Murnane of Portland, will also frolic around. The famous Steam Roller of the house will run every fifteen minutes, with Hon. Reform Eaton of Lane county explaining how it is used.

U. S. PRODUCES ONE-THIRD OF WORLD'S BEEF SUPPLY

The Livestock News says: The world's cattle production and population have a very important influence upon the cattle feeding business, and a clear conception of world-wide influences will aid in forming a correct estimate of conditions. Geographic distribution. There are approximately 450,000,000 cattle in the entire world; in the United States here are (estimated) 71,000,000, or about 16 per cent. However, considering type and size of animals, it is estimated that the United States produces one-third of the world's supply.

Ratio cattle to population—the United States contains .77 cattle per capita; this in comparison to 4.27 in Argentine and .18 in Italy. Ratio of number of cattle to area in this country is 23 cattle per square mile, Belgium 164 and Canada 2.

Decline of American supplies, shown in exports and marketing at principal points. Exports have since 1906 shown a steady decline and must surely cease unless production increases. At 14 leading live stock markets in the United States, the decrease in 1912 was approximately 300,000 head.

To Celebrate Completion of Celilo Canal

The completion of the Celilo canal and the opening of the Columbia-Snake waterway to free navigation, coincidental with the completion of the Panama canal, is an event of such far-reaching importance as to justify in the opinion of many citizens, the holding of a special commemorative celebration.

In furtherance of this idea, the Lewiston, Idaho, commercial club, at its regular meeting August 6, 1912, authorized the appointment of a provisional committee of one hundred citizens to take practical steps for launching the Columbia-Celilo-Panama Waterways celebration, to be held in the early summer of 1915.

Not only is the opening of the Columbia-Snake waterway a project of great moment to the Pacific coast and the Inland Empire in particular, but its direct relation to the Panama canal gives it national and international significance of far-reaching scope. It is a more wonderful fact than we possibly will fully be able to grasp to state that the completion of these two great projects places the cities of the Columbia-Snake basin in direct all-water communication with every part of the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard of the western hemisphere. The importance which this subject at once assumes in its commercial and development aspects is obvious.

The whole world is interested in the imminent completion of the greatest engineering enterprise ever performed in the history of civilization, namely, the Panama canal. Justly so, for the opening of this artificial channel of trade will practically revolutionize the water-carrying commerce of the globe. The cities of San Francisco and San Diego are preparing to celebrate this event by exhibitions which it is admitted will be the greatest in history. The attention of government cabinets, of the great world transportation companies, of the world's merchants, manufacturers, statesmen and economists, and of the universal press is focused on these exhibitions and the enterprise which they will commemorate. Is it not a publicity opportunity worth while for us to celebrate in connection with the greater event the completion of what to this coast is the next most important government project, namely, the opening of the Celilo canal and the Columbia-Snake waterway? We should bear in mind that the Columbia river and its tributaries constitute the second great river system of the United States, the Mississippi being first. The improvement of this waterway (the completion of one unit of which we propose to celebrate) will represent an investment by the general government of approximately $25,000,000. The territory directly affected by this improvement is over 250,000 square miles in extent, an empire greater than all New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and Ohio combined. Is it presumption on our part to assume that the interest of the civilized world in this second great project will almost equal its interest in the greater and correlative project of the Panama canal? This question gives us a hint of the publicity opportunity which is ours.

No section of the Pacific coast will be stimulated by these events like the Northwest. Consider the facts: The California ports and inland territory cannot benefit like the northwest for two reasons. One reason is Galveston; the other reason is Arizona and Nevada. Galveston, now the

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Beatrice, Neb.—"Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."—Mrs. R. B. CHILD, Beatrice, Neb.

The Other Case. Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but my husband thought I had better write to you and I did so, stating my symptoms. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

third port in volume of business in America, with a magnificent system of railways already constructed, is near to Denver and Santa Fe than is San Francisco, and drains away the territory of the California ports. Arizona and Nevada, containing 224,000 square miles of barren land, fence in California like a wall.

In the Northwest, Seattle, Tacoma and Portland can ultimately have no competition as ports until their trade meets that of Galveston and San Francisco to the south and Chicago to the east. Their territory is opened inland by waterways for 600 miles. At one end of this water route lies Idaho, where according to the census of 1910, one acre produces more of all cereals, for instance, than twenty-seven acres of the country inland from the California ports. This great waterway bisects the Inland Empire of Oregon and Washington, famous for diversified agriculture, and must affect more or less interior points even as far away as northwestern Montana, northeastern Washington and southeastern Oregon. We need only to present and drive home these facts in order to stimulate the interest of the world in the Pacific Northwest.

The San Francisco and San Diego exposition will bring to the west millions of visitors. These expositions are too remote for the northwest to derive its full benefit therefrom unless we can focus public attention in advance. If we can create specific interest in the northwest in connection with the Panama canal as related to our waterways, visitors to the former will have a particular incentive to procure their routings through the northwest and will be disposed to single out for intelligent examination the exhibits of the northwestern states at the California expositions.

By the Columbia-Celilo-Panama celebration the effectiveness of our exhibits in California may be multiplied many times.

The "Oregonian" in commenting on this matter, said: "The events which Lewiston proposes to celebrate will open a new epoch in transportation throughout the northwest. The celebration should, therefore, be an occasion of rejoicing in which the people on both sides of the international boundary from the Rockies to the Pacific ocean will assemble."

The Officer Obeyed His Instructions

Covina, Cal., Feb. 6.—"Liar," heartily applied to Justice H. M. Wells by K. E. McMillan, followed by a threat to clean out the justice's court, resulted in a "K. O." in McMillan's record and his incarceration today in the city jail. McMillan, who is six feet two inches tall and weighs 225 pounds, answering to a charge of bigamy filed against him, and after applying the epithet to the justice, challenged the court attaches to combat.

Deputy Sheriff J. J. Saunders accepted, and was being wrothed when the judge, from a safe place on a bench, shouted: "Club him." Saunders obeyed, and McMillan was trussed and carried to jail. McMillan formerly lived at Spokane.

What Shall a Man Drink?

A question much in the public mind nowadays is "What shall a man drink?" Or rather, what may he drink? "Water," you say, "of course." But the purity of our water supply is the problem in every large city. As an old proverb puts it: "God defend me from the still water, and I'll keep myself from the rough." Quite recently the people of New York have been warned against the water by the head of the Health Department, and have been urged to boil it before drinking. Have you ever thought of the enormous cost and labor this would involve, if it were carried into general practice? The fuel, the implements, the lifting, fetching, the serving and replenishing on every floor of every tenement; in every restaurant and office; in public places and drinking fountains. Truly it is a "counsel of perfection," which is practically hopeless.

Why Drink Water When You Can Get SALEM BEER

"It is in the breweries that sanitation has been brought to as nearly perfect condition as it is possible in a food-producing establishment. The water used in the material is distilled. The hops and malt are absolutely clean before being permitted to enter into the manufacturing process. The vats, pipes, etc., are not merely washed, but scalded and thoroughly sterilized. And as if that were not enough, when the beer is placed in bottles it is pasteurized by being run through hot water, which would kill every germ which might have escaped the warfare conducted against it in the process of manufacture. The person who opens a bottle of beer is assured absolutely that what he has before him is a product absolutely free from germs and perfectly clean. It is also true that he may know that he has before him the only manufactured food article which may be said to be absolutely clean."

Salem's Famous Bottled Beer is especially brewed for domestic use. Its alcohol contents are just sufficient to pleasantly stimulate and invigorate.
