

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK SOMEWHAT DOUBTFUL

Willamette Has Big Games Scheduled and Will Be Weakened If Department Are Removed.

Merwin Paget, manager of Willamette's football team for next year, announces that an excellent schedule is being arranged for next season.

The first game, which will of course be with the Alumni, will occur in the early part of October.

The next game will be with Oregon on Oct. 28. The date of the O. A. C. game is not set definitely, but will in all probability be some time in the early part of the season. A tentative agreement has been reached with Washington State College and it is quite possible they will also be on the schedule.

Another very strong possibility is that Whitman will be here for the Thanksgiving game. Just whether the faculty will allow of the proposed Montana trip for a return game with the University of Montana is doubtful, so that all arrangements for it are up in the air.

With two or three games with conference colleges practically assured, there is little doubt that the 1918 schedule will be the best and heaviest of several seasons. If Oregon, O. A. C. and Whitman can be scheduled for games in Salem, the local followers of the sport will see a great improvement over the one-sided class of games played here the past season.

But now that we are assured of a good schedule, the question is being frequently asked, "Will we have as good a team as we had the season that has passed?"

There is a large chance that the team next year may be materially weakened, for if the college of medicine and school of law are to go, what has heretofore been the source of the most valuable football material will be shut off.

Of last season's eleven, seven men were from the medical and law colleges, namely, Captain McRae, Captain-elect Francis, Rowland, Erskine, Day, Bellinger and Watson. The loss of these men would make a place on the squad that it would be exceedingly hard to fill.

However, there is one thing very much in favor of the team, and that is that Dr. Sweetland will in all probability coach it, and this fact alone will be more than enough to bring in much new material and to perhaps cause some of "Doc's" old standbys to register in the college of liberal arts and continue under his tutelage.

Anyway, the pen is mightier than the sword when it comes to muck-raking.

COUNCILMEN EXPLAIN.

raise in the city attorney's salary, but that it was to be expended in cases requiring assistant counsel.

"I want the people to know where I stand on this city attorney salary business," said Councilman Waring this morning, "and I want them to know I don't pretend to uphold the city attorney insofar as the amount of work he is required to perform and furthermore if the council is of the opinion the present raised salary is too high, I will be in favor of reducing it."

"Let the salary be cut if it is found the city attorney is not earning the money, but under the present conditions I will stand for no hiring of outside counsel in cases interesting the city. Let City Attorney Page employ his assistants if he wants to and pay the expenses out of his own pocket. There is not much difference between raising his salary outright and setting aside $300 for assistant help in conducting cases and attending to other legal affairs of the city."

Ex-Councilman Walter Low explains his position in voting for the extra $300 by saying he did so under the impression it would go to enable the city attorney to hire assistants in carrying on the legal work of the city. Although he was not aware that the additional sum was to be exactly a raise in the salary of the city attorney, declares Mr. Low, it amounted to about the same thing. In any event, he says it is understood by him at the time he voted for the extra sum that the city attorney would be made personally responsible for all indebtedness incurred through the transaction of city legal affairs.

City Is Loser.

Unless more success in transacting legal affairs of the cities by hiring deputies is met with in the future, the city of Salem will not be a great deal better off, according to former records now on file with the city recorder.

In 1912, there was $30,000 due the city on improvements of various characters. Although the city council appropriated $500 in addition to the $1200 then being drawn by the city attorney for deputy hire, it is claimed the city lost $1800 in interest by reason of belated work on the part of the collection department in the city's legal office. Interest at the rate of 6 per cent on outstanding indebtedness amounts to much in view of the expensive improvements being made by the city, and the records also show that many thousands of dollars were lost to Salem following the completion of the East State street improvement on account of slow collections piling up interest due, and the inability of the legal department to bring about a settlement.

Journal Want Advs. Bring Results.

The Capital Journal invites public discussion in this department—Let both sides of all matters be fully brought out—It is not the purpose of this newspaper to do the thinking for its readers.

People vs. Legislature.

The Oregon voters are now quite well satisfied that they must retain the initiative and referendum. If any change be made it should be to enlarge their law-making and law-repealing powers rather than have them curtailed.

The operation of the direct rule of the people may appear a little cumbersome and expensive, but, as things now run in this state, it is not only economical, but absolutely necessary, to safeguard the people's rights.

The members of the present state legislature were elected to represent the people in the enactment of necessary laws and making needful appropriations to meet the expenses of the state on a basis of economy.

Some of the members have tried faithfully to merit the confidence which their constituents reposed in them. But insidious forces have been at work. Undue influence has been exerted through lobbyists and other channels which has resulted in changing the avowed policy of economy to one of extravagance.

Why should those members of our state legislature, who accompanied the special excursion into the state of Washington to be shown a stretch of an automobile boulevard, have permitted themselves to be placed under the undue influence of good roads promoters. Who paid the expenses of that special excursion and why was that "glorious" trip arranged? Was it intended to bring about certain definite results in the enactment of laws favorable to some private interests, or was it an act of some philanthropist whose identity has not been disclosed?

Those who have been watching this and other activities with reference to shaping the course of our legislature are quite convinced that the people of Oregon must retain the initiative and referendum power in order that they may protect themselves against certain laws which their representatives may already have passed and enact such other legislation as may be for unknown reasons, passed by.

INTERCOLLEGIATE BALL GAME TONIGHT

Tonight occurs the first intercollegiate basketball game of the season, Willamette meeting O. A. C. on the local floor. The boys from Corvallis are picked to be the winners, but the opinion of the local students is that Willamette will give the "Aggies" a run for their money.

Coach Sweetland, who was never known to state that he expected his team to win, says that he expects to get badly beaten. The game will be called at 8 o'clock.

Hints on Hair Health

If you use our treatment, we will either stop your hair from falling or pay for the treatment ourselves.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe, which if not removed causes baldness. This microbe often comes from a comb or brush belonging to someone else.

If you are troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair, or baldness, we believe that Resal "93" Hair Tonic will do more than anything else to remove the dandruff, destroy the germ, restore the scalp healthily and stop falling hair, and, if there is any life left in the roots, also promote growth of new hair.

We believe that probably 65 per cent of the cases of baldness could be overcome if people would only use Resal "93" Hair Tonic for a reasonable time, as directed.

We don't want you to take our word for this. We want you to test the merits of Resal "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. If you use it and it does not give satisfaction, just come back to us and tell us, and we will immediately hand back to you the money you paid for it. You promise nothing, sign nothing and your name will be taken for it.

We are dependent upon your confidence and patronage, and we would not make these claims, or make this offer if we did not believe that Resal "93" Hair Tonic is the very best hair preparation you can use. Two sizes of bottles, 50c and $1.00.

You can buy Resal "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our stores:

GRANDMOTHER USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HER FADED OR GRAY HAIR

MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT MAKES HAIR SOFT, BEAUTIFUL—CURES DANDRUFF.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of sage tea and sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But the brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky so insist upon getting Weyth's, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well known down town druggist says his customers insist on Weyth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

What's Sam Going to Run For, anyhow?

Col. Bush, prominent citizen and heavy taxpayer of Bull Run, was on motion of Senator Day of Multnomah, extended the courtesies of the senate yesterday afternoon. The colonel was all puffed up over the honor.

SENATE DEFEATS EIGHT-HOUR DAY FOR WOMAN

Largely through the influence of the Malarkey minimum wage bill, which has been signed by the governor, the bill introduced by Representative Lawrence, providing for an eight-hour working day for women, with a limit of 48 hours a week, was defeated in the senate yesterday afternoon.

Three reports on the bill were returned by the committee. In a minority report Kiddle, Day and Wood recommended the defeat of the measure on the ground that the minimum wage bill rendered the bill unnecessary. Senator Moser explained his vote against the bill on the same grounds, and said that he had been visited in his office in Portland by a delegation of working women, who had impressed upon him well-grounded arguments against the bill.

Dimick submitted a minority report recommending the passage of the bill, while Smith of Coos and Curry, recommended its passage with amendments. There were 19 ayes and 10 nays.

Wherabouts of Karl and Frederick Mayer Are Unknown—Denver Trust Company Searching.

The Capital Journal today received a communication from the German American Trust company, of Denver, Colo., requesting that this newspaper assist in the location of Karl and Frederick Mayer. The presence of these two men, it is stated in the communication is necessary in order that the estate in Germany, left them by their grand parents, can be settled.

An investigation has been made by The Journal but no such name can be found in either the city directory or on the tax roll at the court house. The letter in part is as follows:

"We are looking for the heirs of a certain Mr. Gottlob Mayer, who died in Denver about 10 years ago and whose children are supposed to live in Salem, Oregon, according to investigations made here in Denver.

"The names of the children are Karl Mayer, born December 8, 1889, and Frederick Mayer, born March 24, 1891. This is for the settlement of an estate matter in Germany due to them from their grandparents.

"As we have been instructed by our friends in Germany to find out the whereabouts of these two persons, we would ask you to kindly put a publication in your paper in order to find out the present addresses."

College Play Selected.

The affiliated juniors of Willamette University held a meeting yesterday afternoon for the purpose of choosing the play the classes will present this year. "The Importance of Being in Earnest," by Dean Wyles, was decided on. It will be presented on May Day.

Many Elks Participated.

Albany, Ore., Feb. 20.—(Special)—One hundred and twenty-five members of the Elk lodge of Salem assisted the Albany lodge to celebrate the fourth anniversary of the dedication of the temple in this city last night. The Capital City Elks came in a special train, and were met by the Albany lodge and its band. In all, 600 Elks participated in the event, there being 120 members of the order coming to the Hub City from Eugene.

Two features of the meeting were the reading of a poem by Judge P. H. D'Arcy and another by wire from Graham P. Taber, of Salem. Both of these gentlemen received a hearty applause for their originality and cleverness in preparing the poetic greeting.
