

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under its personal supervision since its infancy.

Chas. H. Fletcher

Allow no one to deceive you in this. All counterfeits, imitations and "just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

WILSON'S INAUGURATION

(Continued from page 1.)

Capitol grounds. Preceded by a squad of 100 mounted motorcycles and bicycle policemen, the head of the parade extended eight blocks to the Peace Monument, at the foot of Pennsylvania avenue, before President Wilson, Vice-President Marshall and fifty carriages filled with members of the supreme court, senate, house, inaugural committee, and political leaders filed in front of the Capitol after the formal inaugural ceremonies there.

President Wilson with former President Taft seated at his left, occupied the foremost carriage. It drew away from the Capitol reviewing stand with the Essex cavalry troop as an escort, while Vice-President Marshall, escorted by the Culver Military Academy "Black Horse Hussars," of Indiana, drew in behind.

In front of the presidential carriage and its escort was Major General Leonard Wood, grand marshal of the parade, his staff and thirty aides. Wood wore a voluminous white sash. Red sashes were worn by his staff. Lieutenant-Colonel H. T. Allen, chief of staff, and Lieutenant-Colonel H. C. Hodges, adjutant-general. The aides, including high officers from each branch of the army and navy service, wore white sashes. All were resplendent with gold lace, medals, plumes and wore astride richly caparisoned mounts—the finest horseflesh in the "service."

As the grand marshal approached the peace monument, cheering swept in mighty volume up the entire length of Pennsylvania avenue. It broke into an uproar when President Wilson's carriage appeared. The cheering excitement was forced continually to acknowledge the plaudits of the throngs packing both sides of the avenue, a sea of waving flags and bunting.

Following custom, ex-President Taft sat with his hat on throughout the ride, even ignoring an occasional and faint shout for the outgoing Republican executive. Tradition and custom decrees that the outgoing president shall regard every particle of the demonstration as given his successor, and shall not even appear to note it. Nevertheless, the Taft smile, as of old, was in evidence as he heard Democratic exuberance but ill-concealed in the shouts of triumph with which they acclaimed a president of their faith.

Behind carriages carrying President Wilson and Vice-President Marshall, came vehicles carrying Mrs. Wilson and the three Wilson daughters. Following that of the Wilson family was the Marshall family. Then came the automobiles and carriages of other distinguished participants.

Slowly the procession to the White House began. The carriages proceeded at a walk, to afford a good view of the president to the crowds in the stands and windows. Soldiers stood at "attention" all along the avenue, spaced every few feet in front of sparsely stretched ropes holding back the sidewalk crowds.

Green and white was the official color scheme of the decorations. Lining the streets were tall pennants of those colors, their staffs supporting festoons of electric bulbs for the illuminations tonight.

When the march from the peace monument began a salvo of 101 guns—the national salute—was fired by a battery of artillery on the White House Ellipse. It was followed by the presidential salute of twenty-one guns and the vice-presidential salute of eighteen guns.

The Parade Itself.

The post of honor in the parade was given the cadets battalion from West Point Military Academy. Their band of fifty pieces headed the 500 gray-coated, black-plumed cadets with stiffly starched white sashes—the personification of military "spick and span" neatness. A fluttering of feminine hearts and shrill cheers and loud hand clapping from feminine throats and hands marked the progress of the West Pointers.

Following the cadets were troops and bands of infantry.

By the time President Wilson reached the White House the avenue was filled with swarms of blue-coated soldiers and sailors, artillery troops and cavalry.

While the presidential and official carriages flowed through the "Court of Honor" and into the White House grounds to deliver their occupants for the formal luncheon to the new executive, the parade was halted at the north side of the treasury department building, at Fifteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue.

"Close ranks" were the order sent down the avenue by madly scurrying mounted aids. The various sections of the parade, forming into line from side streets near the Capitol for a dozen blocks in all directions, were then marched to mass tightly. They waited an hour while luncheon was served in the White House to the new president and his party.

When President Wilson, at 2:45, ascended into the presidential reviewing stand in front of the White House the parade was started again.

"Halt to the Chief" were the strains of the opening march, played by the famous Marine Band—the "President's own." Grand Marshal Wood and his staff first passed by the president's box, with swords in salute and "eyes left" to view the new commander-in-chief. The music of the West Pointers swelled louder as the cadet battalion approached with their guns at "port" and their "eyes to the left."

Every member of the military branches in line "presented arms" as they passed through the "Court of Honor" and under the eyes of the new president and his staff.

By careful advance orders use of "Halt to the Chief" played by almost every band in past inaugurations upon passing the president, was limited to the Marine Band. "Maryland, My Maryland" was played by the Fifth Regiment Band of the Maryland militia; "Tammany" by the New York bands and other distinctive state airs including some rag time, furnished a musical medley.

First Division.

With thunderous tramp, the thousands of military marchers proceeded up the avenue. This first "grand" division, headed by Major-General W. W. Waterspoon, U. S. A., included the following:

West Point cadets and band—500 men.

First Battalion of Engineers and band—500 men.

Seventeenth United States Infantry and band—700 men.

Provisional Regiment, Coast Artillery and band—1000 men.

Brigade of Naval Academy midshipmen and band—1000 men.

Regiment United States Marines and band—1000 men.

Regiment Navy "bluejackets" and band—1000 men.

First Squadron Fifteenth United States Cavalry and band—300 men.

Second Battalion, Third Field Artillery—300 men.

The first brigade of army marchers, was headed by Colonel James Farrar, of the Fifteenth Cavalry, at Fort Myer. The naval contingent was commanded by Captain Charles C. Marsh, U. S. M. C., and the auxiliary brigade by Colonel John T. Van Osdale. Major Fred Slayden headed the West Point cadets, and Commander McCullum the "mid-dies."

About 5000 militia, infantry, cavalry, and artillery were in line. Their commander was Brigadier-General A. L. Mills.

Heading this division were every militia company and the naval reserves of the District of Columbia. The entire national guard and naval reserves of New Jersey—President Wilson's native state—were also in line.

The Militia.

Following were other militia companies in line:

Pennsylvania—3000 men.

Georgia—Two regiments.

Delaware—One regiment.

Connecticut—One regiment.

Massachusetts—Five infantry regiments, two corps cadets, cavalry squadron, ambulance corps, and three companies of naval reserves.

Maryland—Five infantry regiments, hospital and cavalry troops and naval reserves brigade.

South Carolina—Twenty-four infantry companies.

North Carolina—Wilmington Light Infantry and reserves.

Virginia—One thousand men.

Michigan—Three infantry companies.

Rhode Island—One infantry company.

Maine—Two infantry companies.

West Virginia—One battalion and band.

Following the militia were a half dozen cadet corps from various military schools and high schools. There were 250 Indians from the Carlisle Government School, and companies from the Purdue University, Citadel Cadets, the Virginia Military Institute, and the Washington, D. C., High School Cadets, white and colored.

Veterans March.

The third "grand" division was composed of aged and youthful war veterans. At its head was the civil war veteran, General James E. Stewart.

From the local National Soldiers' Home a brigade of blue-coated veterans marched. Their fife and drum corps was the signal for wild applause. No section of the parade got more recognition than the "Boys of '61."

Patriotic societies, including the Women's Relief Corps, Patriotic Sons of America, the Society of the Cincinnati, and other organizations, on foot and mounted, interspersed frequently with bands, then marched by.

Confederates in Line.

Gray-coated representatives of the "Stars and Bars" of the Confederacy were a feature of the veterans' section. Side by side with former foes, the Dixie veterans marched. It was the first appearance in any inaugural pageant of Confederate soldiers. Company B, a famous Confederate veteran organization, of Nashville, Tenn., wore battle scarred uniforms and carried their ancient muskets.

Civilian Marchers.

More spectacular than the army and navy contingents was the fourth grand division, composed of civilians. They furnished the comedy of the pageant. Colonel Robert N. Harper, of the local inaugural committee, was the commander. Governors of thirteen states and the staffs, gallily uniformed, paraded in this section. The governors came from Virginia, New York, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri and Delaware.

Colors of practically every college and university of the country were flashed in the intercollegiate section. Graduates and alumni made the avenue roar with their college "yells." Princeton university was represented by 2000 men, all carrying umbrellas of the Orange and Black "Tiger" colors.

Greek letter societies, glee clubs and marching clubs from fifty colleges lined up with the Princetonians. The college men were all uniformed. They wore broad shoulder sashes of their respective college colors, gaudy hat bands and many carried umbrellas. Despite an official embargo against use of horns, the college men had bells, horns and every conceivable noise-making device.

"Original Wilson Men."

"Woodrow Wilson" clubs galore contributed hundreds of marchers. Among them were clubs from Princeton, Lexington, Mass., Philadelphia, Louisville, Trenton, N. J., Atlanta, Ga., Newark, N. J., Chicago, New York, Boston, Buffalo, Baltimore, Richmond, St. Louis, and a dozen other cities.

One delegation was labeled "Original Woodrow Wilson Men."

Tammany Hall sent 2000 Tammany "braves," carrying red, white and blue umbrellas.

Green umbrellas were carried generally by the political marching clubs from fifty cities.

Wild West a Feature.

One of the features getting instant applause and wild war whoops was a band of American Indians, dressed in native costume from Maricopa county, Arizona. An Indian band and two hundred cowboys were the Indiana's escort, forming the "wild west" section of the parade. They represented the Democratic central committee of Maricopa county.

Crimson-coated huntmen of the United Fox Hunt, clubs of America, accompanied by yelping fox hounds were another popular feature. Among the riders were society leaders of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Virginia.

Marching Clubs.

Others in the civic section were: Central Democratic Club of Pennsylvania, two hundred men.

National Fraternity of Pages, Washington, five hundred.

Duckworth Club, Cincinnati, two hundred.

Levington, Mass., Minute Men, one hundred.

That Corn Is a Sure 'Gonner,' Now

"GETS-IT" the New-Plan Corn Cure, Gets Any Corn Surely, Quickly.

You'll say, "It does look all too quick 'GETS-IT' got rid of that corn. It's almost magic!" "GETS-IT" gets every corn, every time, as sure as the sun rises. It takes about 2 seconds to apply it, the corn shrivels up, and it's gone! Ever try anything like that? You never did. There's no more fussing with plasters that press on the corn, no more salves that take off the surrounding flesh, no more bandages. No more knives, files or razors that make corns grow and cause danger of blood poison. "GETS-IT" is equally harmless to healthy or irritated flesh. It "gets" every corn, wart, callus and bunion you've got.

"GETS-IT" is sold at all druggists' at 25 cents a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Democratic Club and Band, Reading, Pa., five hundred.

Gottfried-Kreuger Association, Newark, N. J., two hundred.

Jefferson Club, Philadelphia, three hundred.

Princeton University Club, one thousand.

Moss Green Club, Louisville, Ky., two hundred.

Brunswick Braves, Brunswick, Ga., two hundred.

Woodrow Wilson Club, Trenton, N. J., two hundred.

Tenth Ward Democratic Club, Wilmington, Del., one hundred and fifty.

Spalding Grays, Griffin, Ga., one hundred and fifty.

Democratic Club, Seat Pleasant, D. C., two hundred and fifty.

Junior Order American Mechanics, two hundred.

Bands were brought by a score of the civic organizations. One of these was the Boy Scouts' Band, of Scranton, Pa.

Bringing up the rear was the Temperance Pioneer Drill Corps, of South Bethlehem, Pa. It executed fancy drills all along the avenue.

The "rear guard" of the parade was a provisional troop of forty mounted men of the Engineer Corps, to prevent disorganization and straggling, an unfortunate feature of former ceremonies.

It was nearly 6 o'clock before the President and the thousands of spectators, eye-weary, saw the end of the parade approach.

Past the "Court of Honor" the entire parade marched to Washington circle, where the marchers were reviewed by Grand Marshal Wood and disbanded. They returned to waiting trains and barracks by back streets, many leaving for home at once.

THINKS LAW NOT POPULAR IN MARION

County Judge Bushey is doubtful of the working ability in Marion county of the law created by the present session authorizing the county court to establish assessment road districts. He believes the law is a good one in most places, but thinks it will not be a success in Marion county on account of the opposition of the people to bond issues. The bill provides that road districts may be laid out, and bonds sold for their construction.

EVERY CHILD SHOULD BE GIVEN THIS TONIC

When children have no appetite; when they are continually peevish and irritable; when they are restless in their sleep it is almost a certain indication that their digestive organs are troubled with worms or other parasites. This is a very common ailment and easily remedied. Physicians will tell you that nearly every child is so troubled at some time, and, in fact, many adults suffer in the same way. Among adults this trouble is invariably referred to as indigestion, when in reality it is due to a small parasite which infests the intestinal tract.

For children, Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed, as it is not only destructive to these parasites, but completely removes the nests in which their young are deposited. Seldom does it purge, and the improvement in the health of the child will be the first and best indication of the beneficial results of the medicine. Not only will the Vermifuge destroy all the parasites, but its wonderful tonic effects will restore the digestion which has been impaired.

For children, the addition of a little sugar will make it so palatable that they will take it readily. Millions of parents have praised it for more than eighty years. Insist on Jayne's; accept no other. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Wednesday $ Shipley's $ Wednesday

SWEATERS

Children's Wool Sweaters, sizes 24 to 34, military collars, cardinal, grey, white, navy

SPECIAL, $1.00

New Coats and Suits For Your Inspection

HAIR GOODS

Special Sale All Week

QUALITY POPULAR

U.S. Shipley Company

HERCHANDISE LIBERTY STREET BETWEEN STATE & COURT PRICES

Instant Relief from Eczema

You can stop that awful itch from eczema and other skin troubles in two seconds.

Seems too good to be true—but it is true, and we vouch for it.

Just a few drops of the simple, cooling wash, the D.D.D. Prescription for eczema, and the itch stops instantly. We give you a trial bottle—enough to prove it—for 25 cents.

Now if you have tried a great many cures for eczema and have been disappointed, do not make the mistake of refusing to try this soothing wash. All other druggists keep this D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but if you come to us, we will give you the first dollar bottle on our positive no-pay guarantee, that D.D.D. will stop the itch at once.

J. C. Perry, Druggist.

THREE PERISH IN FIERCE BLIZZARD IN NEW YORK

Buffalo, N. Y., March 3.—Three persons are dead here and 11 injured after one of the worst blizzards in years. The wind reached a maximum of 78 miles an hour, and with the temperature about zero the sufferings of those exposed to the storm were intense.

Idaho Pensions Mothers.

Boise, Idaho, March 3.—The state senate today passed a measure providing for the pensioning of mothers in needy circumstances, whose husbands are deceased or confined in state institutions. The bill had previously passed the house, and now goes to the governor for his consideration.

The Lighthouse Bill.

Washington, March 3.—The house today passed the general omnibus lighthouse bill, carrying $1,600,000. The items provided include: Cape Elias, Alaska, fog signals, $15,000; Orford reef, Oregon, light vessel, $125,000; North Parallon, Cal., light house, $100,000; Point Vincent, Cal., lighthouse, $75,000; Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, lighthouse, $80,000.

"Blue" Feeling

When you feel discouraged and all the world seems to be against you—that's your system's way of telegraphing you that something is WRONG and needs HELP.

It may be that your liver is tired and refuses to work, or your digestive organs have had too much to do and need care. Perhaps you have been eating the wrong kind of food, and your blood is too rich or impoverished. What you need is a tonic.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

will give the required aid. Tones the entire system. The weak stomach is made strong. The liver vibrates with new life. The blood is cleansed of all impurities and carries renewed health to every vein and nerve and muscle and organ of the body. No more attacks of the "blues." Life becomes worth while again, and hope takes place of despair.

Dr. J. C. Pierce

President, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Plan Your Trip Through CALIFORNIA

The Land of Sunshine and Flowers

via the

A Thoroughly Enjoyable Route

YOU CAN SEE IN CALIFORNIA:

Attractive seaside resorts, famous hotels, hot springs and outdoor sports. At Pasadena the world-famed ostrich farms and magnificent homes. At San Bernardino and Riverside the Orange groves. At Catalina, the wonderful submarine gardens, and at various other points attractions that delight the eye and inform the mind.

LOW ONE WAY OR ROUND TRIP FARES:

Round trip tickets to Los Angeles on sale daily with long return limit and stop-overs at will. If you wish to go still further south or east, tickets via all rail, or rail and steamer through New Orleans can be secured at reasonable rates.

Further particulars on application to any Agent. Ask for descriptive literature on California, or "Wayside Notes," describing trip San Francisco to New Orleans.

JOHN M. SCOTT, GENERAL PASSENGER AGENT, PORTLAND, OR.

ORRINE for Drink Habit

TRY IT AT OUR EXPENSE.

We are in earnest when we ask you to give ORRINE a trial. You have nothing to risk and everything to gain, for your money will be returned if after a trial you fail to get results from ORRINE. This offer gives the wives and mothers of those who drink to excess an opportunity to try the ORRINE treatment. It is a very simple treatment, can be given in the home without publicity or loss of time from business, and at a small price.

ORRINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1 secret treatment a powder; ORRINE No. 2, in pill form for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. Costs only $1.00 a box. Come in and talk over the matter with us. Ask for booklet. J. C. Perry.

This Will Interest Mothers.

Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children, a certain relief for feverishness, head-ache, bad stomach, teething disorders, move and regulate the bowels and destroy worms. They break up colds in 24 hours. They are so pleasant to the taste children like them. Over 10,000 testimonials. Used by mothers for 23 years. They never fail. Sold by all druggists, 25c. Sample mailed FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

"We have the Philippines; let us pray, 'Good Lord, deliver us from Mexico!'"

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Had Tuberculosis of Glands; Now Well

If you are a sufferer from Glandular Tuberculosis, no know of anyone so afflicted, it might be well to investigate this case, where the writer declares after a year of suffering, he found permanent relief and full recovery to health by using Eckman's Alternative, a medicine which has been effective in many cases of Tuberculosis.

227 Laroston St., Phila., Pa.

"Gentlemen—In March, 1909, I was taken sick and my doctor pronounced my case Tuberculosis in the Glands. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon