[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Chicago, March 6 .- With fifteen department store and mail order house heads scheduled to testify, the "white slave" and "starvation wages" probe being conducted by a state senate committee will be resumed here tomorrow.

Lieutenant-Governor O'Hara today asked the attorney-general of Illinois whether in his oninion employers can be compelled to furnish their books for examination by th probers, intimating that some of the bosses subpoenaed might resist.

Julius Rosenwald, head of the great mail order house of Sears, Roebuck & Co., probably will be tomorrow's first witness. "During the last week I have resceived 1000 letter commending the work of the committee. Some of them were from women now married telling of their struggles in earlier days with agents of the white slavers. Others were from employes confessing that they work for starvation wages and adding that they will welcome the day when law will compel the payment of a fair day's pay. "We are determined to strike at the root of this evil and will let the interest of no man, or no coterie of men, stand in the way."
