NEW AEROPLANE BALANCER

At a feté given in honor of President Elect Poincaré at the Louis le Grand lycée in Paris recently Rene Quinton, president of the French National Aero league, announced that a secret automatic device for the stability of aeroplanes had been discovered. This, said M. Quinton, was great news.

The inventor, named Moreau, made experiments on an aeroplane in the presence of war of ace officials and flew with a passenger for forty-five minutes without touching the controlling levers of the aeroplane except for the purpose of rising and descending. On this occasion the wind sometimes blew twenty-five feet a second.

Also Device to Tip Them Over. General Hirschauer of the flying corps has received a communication from the inventor, Dr. Cousin, a scientist, who has recently been experimenting on a device with Jules Vedrines, the aviator. He informs General Hirschauer that the apparatus, which is small and simple and can be carried in a soldier's knapsack, by provoking disturbance of the air will cause any type of aeroplane to capsize, even if it has ascended to a height of more than 9,000 feet.

FOUR LEAFED CLOVER IS LATEST ITEM ON MENU.

Broadway Restaurant Serves Fashionable Nibble, Which May Oust Potato.

Four leafed clover salad is the latest fashionable nibble and eventually will be introduced as a food rival of the potato. It was placed on the menu of a Broadway (New York) restaurant recently and was served at 40 cents a portion.

In days to come there may be acres of the vegetable, which has a genial taste suggesting the artichoke, the yam and asparagus, yet having an individual flavor of indescribable delicacy. The basis of the new food is the firm, white root of a variety of European clover known as oxalis.

The discoverer is Max Schling, a botanist and florist of New York. He brought over many plants to this country several years ago and by elimination produced the present plant. While working over the plant Mr. Schling plucked off a leaf and put it in his mouth. He detected a peculiar and agreeable flavor.

NO PERFECTLY MATED PAIRS.

Newly Wed at Eighty-two Finds Fault With Marriage Laws.

"There is not a perfectly mated couple on earth."

"The marriage laws are wrong because evil is at the bottom of them, but they are the best that can be had under the present condition of society."

"Perfect marital happiness is approached closer by those who marry in the sunset of life than by those who marry young."

"What we call married happiness is simply ignorance of something greater."

"These are a few of the beliefs on marriage presented by Dr. James McLean, an eighty-two-year-old bridegroom, who is living with his seventy-two-year-old bride. McLean was married in Los Angeles recently after a courtship lasting several months. Both had been married before."

YOUNG MADERO VENGEFUL.

Youth in Cornell is Heartbroken Over Brothers' Deaths.

"My brothers shall be avenged!" declared Evaristo E. Madero, a student at Cornell, when he heard recently his brother Emilio had been killed by Huerta's troops.

The young man, who is nearly prostrated, denied, however, that either he or his brother Carlos, the youngest of the family, who is in school near Milwaukee, had any plans to lead a revolt against Diaz and Huerta.

Carlos wired his brother that he would join him in Ithaca. They expect to hold a conference and await instructions from their relatives.

Evaristo Madero was in a pitiable condition. He was confined to his room in the Spanish-American club, and his clubmates refused to allow any one to visit him.

HOUSE SENT BY PARCEL POST

Is Mailed Brick by Brick to Exhibition in Chicago.

A house has been sent by parcel post to Chicago, where it was to be one of the exhibits at the Clay Products exposition, Feb. 26 to March 8. The building was made from 25,000 bricks, sent from every brick plant in the United States.

John M. Campbell of Passaic, N. J., forwarded the first brick to be used in its construction.

Sending the 25,000 bricks through the mails is done to test the parcel post system. A record was kept of each brick from the time it was mailed until it reached Chicago.

Snow Halts Balkan War.

A heavy snow which fell recently along the whole of the Bulgarian lines at the front prevented military operations for some days.

Makes Rheumatism Promptly Disappear

Chronic, Crippled-Up Sufferers Find Relief After a Few Doses of New Remedy Are Taken.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter all the poison from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome urinary disorders.

A Woman Who Looked Like an "Animated Christmas Tree."

Grace Margaret Gould, fashion editor of the Woman's Home Companion, writes in the April number of that periodical an article entitled "Types I Have Seen." Following is an extract:

"So anxious was I to get out of town for a week-end not long ago that I actually arrived at the Grand Central station a full hour before my train pulled out.

"Realizing that I had a whole hour just to sit and wait, I put my head back and closed my eyes for a moment or two; but there was no rest for me. Above the roar and din of the customary sounds I heard an incessant jingle. Perpetual motion seemed to be moving closer and closer toward me. No; I was not asleep and dreaming of sloth bells. Not a bit of it. Instead I opened my eyes wide.

"The perpetual motion was sitting beside me, and the moment I spied her she was intently powdering the tip of her upturned nose. Every time the little lamb's wool puff touched the already whitened nose, there was a musical accompaniment, which came from four bangles on her right wrist and fourteen danglers in her left hand. From powdering her nose she proceeded to look long and lingeringly into a tiny mirror and fuss up the little wisps of golden hair that peeked out from her close-fitting hat.

"Then there was a noisy search for her railroad ticket, which eventually turned up in the eleventh hour. I was not at all surprised when she began sniffing at a vinaigrette. Surely, I thought, she must need it; and if she didn't, I did. In another minute, I felt, I should begin to do the same things she had been doing. And then I knew I would not, for I started really to look at her. She reminded me of an animated Christmas tree and I was fascinated.

She seemed to delight in hanging things on herself, and though she was not very large she gave the impression that there was always room for one more decoration. She wore about her bare neck, for her dress was cut low, a string of gay-colored beads and then a chain from which a big imitation jewel dangle was hung. She had pinned to the cover of her coat a bunch of artificial flowers, and fastened to the front of her dress was a large velvet bow held by an almost equally large hair pin. She wore earrings, animated earrings, of course, and even her glistering spiral hatpins seemed alive. "If this be fashion, get thee hence!"

HIS OWN CARELESSNESS CAUSED HIS DEATH

That William Hartman, the electrician's helper, who was electrocuted near Oroville yesterday, came to his death through negligence on his own part, but that in the future the Oregon Electric company should take greater precaution to safeguard employes working in damp tunnels, is the opinion submitted to the State Railroad Commission by

W. C. Earle and R. H. Dearborn, engineers of the commission, who were dispatched to investigate the accident.

It is said that Hartman was a careful workman ordinarily, and thoroughly understood the risk of working in the damp tunnel where his duty took him. It had been his custom to make the wires safe before entering the tunnel. On the morning of the accident, however, he failed to take his usual precaution.

Art Features and Music are Contributed by Jessie Wilcox Smith, Marion Powers and John Rae.

The regular departments for Home Decoration and Handicraft, Cooking, and Young People are up to their usual high standard of interest and serviceability.

A special word should be spoken this month about the fashion department, conducted by Grace Margaret Gould. The department is full of time-saving and money-saving ideas for women to use in preparing their spring wardrobe. Miss Gould's underlying idea in editing her department is to present way and means for women to provide themselves with clothes which shall be beautiful and fashionable but at the same time economical and in no way extravagant. She carries out this idea with extraordinary directness and success.

Spring may come more haltingly in Oregon than in the sunny South, but Oregon never sends out harrowing news of destruction-dealing tornadoes.
