A marriage license was issued yesterday evening to Melvin L. Smith and Miss Mabel M. Kloster, both of this city.

The Wexford and Ye Liberty are enjoying a record-breaking attendance so far this week. Fine movies, for out of town visitors.

Mrs. Pearl Boasberby went to Portland yesterday to meet her mother, who arrived from Indiana for a visit with her daughters.

Notice--The Moose dance, which was to have been held in Moose hall Thursday evening, will be held at the armory instead.

Can you see any difference in this batch of bread? There isn't any. The same invariableness runs through every batch made from Olympia flour. Every loaf of bread is the same--it's as good as can be. See Edgar, the grocer. High and Court streets.

The funeral of Thomas McCoy was held this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's church. Solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father A. Moore.

Fifty-three boys yesterday took advantage of the offer of the Y. M. C. A. to furnish free instruction in swimming. School children are being instructed daily at 4 p. m.

It is astonishing how many fine watches are ruined each year by being placed in the hands of poor and inexperienced workmen for repairs. See Rollins, the expert, with Red Cross Pharmacy.

Every trimmed hat that Mrs. Curtis is offering this week at reduced prices is the creation of expert designers and workers. Such policy marks the success of the Curtis millinery parlors. High street, Masonic building.

That droopy lot of poultry will soon show signs of new life when using that reliable lice and mite killer to be had at F. E. Shafer's, the saddle and harness man, 126 South Commercial street.

"Yakima Best" recommendation is the multitude of particular housewives now using it. The best bread bakers use this best flour. Have you ordered your fruit jars. See Sperling, 311 N. Commercial street.

Many young ladies who expect to become housewives this summer are, with the aid of "Davis' Best," the popular flour, now learning the better sort of baking. At Sunset grocery, 121 South Commercial street.

The Capital Journal is in receipt of a calendar from the Buckbee-Mears Co., designers and engravers of St. Paul, Minn. It is artistically designed and the dates are large enough to be of handy, practical use.

The Frame Shop, at 279 North Commercial, has just received a line of exquisite graduation folders, decorated with the faintest of colonial maidens and garlands of tiny roses. See them soon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Church have returned from a visit with Mrs. Church's parents in Hood River. Mr. Church enjoyed some fishing at Oregon City on his return, and caught a big chinook salmon.

A hearing will be had in the supreme court May 26 on a motion for an injunction to restrain the foreclosing of a mortgage. The action is brought by Olive Hunt against Spencer Hunt, both of Marion county.

Patronize home industry. You appreciate good bread, pastry, etc., do you not? Ask your grocer for Cherry City Patent or Oak Blend. He will explain the difference. Don't forget to ask for Wheatola, manufactured by the Cherry City Flouring Mills.

Governor West is receiving many letters from women who are anxious to act as housekeeper, with a view to matrimony, for the widower who sought the aid of the governor recently. One says in her letter that if they should marry she promises that "his child, my child and our children shall not clash."

Antlered Herd from Eugene will buck the Salem Senators at League grounds tomorrow. They are some ball players as well as Moose and a cracker jack game is expected. Every Salem Moose should be on hand to assist in rounding up this invading army who have signified their intention of rushing Salem off the map.

Thursday evening the congregations of the First and Central Congregational churches are to have a union service at Ferry and South Nineteenth streets. The two papers which elicited such favorable comment at the women's hour at the association meeting in Hubbard are to be presented. The public is cordially invited.

The state land board today took action in behalf of John Rhodes, a settler on the McKenzie river, in southern Oregon, who has been unable to secure title to land. Rhodes was informed by the government when he settled on a quarter section of land that it was unsurveyed. When he applied for a patent he discovered that the land had been surveyed away back in the seventies and the tract belonged to the state. The board decided to let Rhodes have the land at $4.30 an acre, the price the land was worth when Rhodes filed on it.

Arthur C. Brown, of Seattle, has been invited by the administration department of the Salem Playgrounds Association to take charge of the playgrounds this season.
