A PERENNIAL PARADISE

Another month will see the tourist travel headed for this beautiful little city, and it is proper that people who are contemplating their summer vacation should be informed as to what Newport and Nye Beach have in store for them. Nature has provided Newport with most everything that the pleasure seeker could ask for. The true sportsman will find fishing and hunting the very best. Deep sea fishing for rock cod, ling cod, halibut, perch, flounders, etc., are plentiful. Clams of different varieties, crabs and rock oysters are in abundance and a gunny sack can be filled in a very short time. In the winter months Yaquina Bay is alive with ducks and geese, while in the fall of the year huckleberries cover the hills by the ton. Newport is also noted for the beautiful agates and precious stones that are picked up daily on the beach. The U. S. government lighthouse on Cape Poul-weather is only a short distance away and is open to the public two days each week, also the government life saving station, at the entrance of the bay. Thousands of people visit these places of interest each year. The noted Punch Bowl, Seal Rocks, Jump Off Joe and especially Nye Beach are beautiful places of interest to one who has never visited them. Hacks and carriages are always ready to take the tourist to any of these places. Beautiful scenery, pure mountain water and the best beach on the Pacific coast are what the city of Newport is blessed with. This city is wide awake and up-to-date in a good many things, such as good public schools, electric light plant, commercial and civic improvement clubs whose secretaries are always busy answering outside inquiries; the best up-to-date groceries and drug stores, general merchandise, picture theaters, bath houses, butcher shops, bakeries and other lines of business are plentiful here and one's appetite is always satisfied. Newport is well provided with hotels that are well conducted and up-to-date, among which are the Hotel Kelley, Abby, and Nicoli. The new three-story Ocean House is under construction, but whether it will be open to the public or not this coming season, the writer is unable at this time to say. Hotel rates are within the reach of all and guests can rest assured of fair and courteous treatment at all times.

Newport has a population of 1,250 to 1,500, has a city council, fire department, owns its own water plant, parks, etc. The Western State Bank is located here and its stockholders are sound business men, which is always a credit to any city. The people of Newport, as a whole, are wide awake, good natured, and are always ready to extend the glad hand of friendship to those who enter her beautiful gates. "Mr. and Mrs. Stranger," come to Newport for your vacation, locate permanently if you wish; the true saying is, you will never regret it.

JOHN W. KELLY.

A Building Boom

Newport, Nye Beach and Agate Beach are witnessing the greatest activity in their history and there is no doubt but that the present season will record wonderful advancement.

Over one hundred new houses have already been built in these localities and plans are under way for many more. The hotels have all been renovated and improved and their proprietors look forward to a very prosperous season. Improvement and progress is to be seen everywhere and it is all on a conservative, substantial basis. The Newport Commercial Club is especially active and with such live wires as Mr. Blanchard and Mr. Wygant leading the bunch of excellent boosters composing the organization, there is little doubt but that much progress will result. The people of Salem not only have a most kindly feeling towards these sections, but they take a pride in their advancement. The policy of The Capital Journal being to boost, a great deal of publicity will be given our neighbors on the coast during the coming season—in fact, The Capital Journal will exert every effort to inform those of its readers who do not know, of the recreation, the good times, the natural advantages, and the excellent business opportunities to be found at these different resorts.
