

PROPERTY OWNERS ARE URGED TO GET BUSY

Head of Street Department Says They Should Keep Outlying Sidewalks Clear of Weeds.

Street Commissioner Cornelius yesterday addressed the following communication to The Capital Journal: "Numerous complaints have been received from people who have occasion to use the sidewalks in different parts of town where grass and weeds have been allowed to grow to such a height on the parking strips and abutting property that they seriously interfere with the proper use of such sidewalks."

"Every year the street department is called upon to clear the weeds and tall grass away from sidewalks in order that pedestrians may use the same without having dusty grass and weeds brush against their clothes and spoil expensive wearing apparel, as well as seriously interfere with the convenient use of the walks."

"The department funds are limited, and as the proper care of the parking strips and adjacent lands is the personal duty of each property owner rather than an obligation of the public, the street department urges and requests all resident property owners and the agents of non-resident owners, to immediately have the tall grass and weeds properly cut and cleared away from the sidewalks throughout the city, in order that the street department may be relieved of the burden of this work."

"This department is at present engaged in constructing bridges and looking after the large amount of work incident to street paving, and has neither the men or the money to do this work, and therefore appeals to the pride and interest of every citizen to do his share without being personally notified or forced to do it by the city."

GOVERNOR WEST WILL TELL ABOUT PRISON PLANS

A provisional program describing the session of the National Conference of Charities and Correction which is scheduled to meet in Seattle July 5-12, has been received in this city announcing that Governor West will read a paper on the "Honor System of Prison Labor," at the session on prison and parole. Premier Richard McBride, of British Columbia, is planning an arrangement of his affairs so he can be present as chairman of the meeting on immigration. This will be one of the most important meetings as it deals with the problems that are confronting the nation and especially this coast.

Much interest is being manifested in the coming conference. Twenty-one states through their governors have announced that delegates will be sent to the conference. There will be 289 delegates, coming from all of the eastern states, some at the expense of the state and others at their own expense. Many have already written for hotel reservations and more letters are pouring in every day.

The Knocker.

Washington Star.
The old brass knocker seemed to smile. In a sardonic way. It gazed with him a little while. "What he might say," "Truth be: "A knocker's life's a bore. He helps to make a din And simply hangs outside the door And never quite gets in."

CHANGE TO SECURE PRIZE AT FAIR HERE

All That Will Be Necessary Is to Big Up in Comical Costume and Take Part in Parade.

Did you ever get any money for looking? Well, here's your chance to hook up with the Cherry Fair, and be presented with either $15, $7.50 or $2.50, and all you have to do is to rig yourself up as comical as you can and then show up Saturday evening, July 5, about 7:30 p. m., and take part in the comic parade that is going to be held. If you have the most comical make-up you will receive as first prize $15, if you come second you will be presented with $7.50 and last but not least, if you are third on the list you will fall heir to $2.50. You'd better scratch your head and get into the game.

MOTORMAN INHERITS BIG FORTUNE BACK IN OHIO

J. F. Wellman, motorman on the Seventeenth street car line, received a telegram yesterday saying that his uncle, F. J. Wellman, was dead in Cleveland, Ohio, and had left him $32,000. Mr. Wellman has been in this city for over a year, and has worked for the car company most of the time, but in the face of this unexpected happening he is undecided whether he will continue in his present capacity or buy a farm and live close to nature. While in Cleveland Mr. Wellman was closely associated with his uncle in the cattle buying business, and was naturally quite a favorite with the fond relative.

BEGINNING.

Charles Mackay.
A little stream had lost its way Amid the grass and ferns; A passing stranger scooped a well Where weary men might turn; He wall'd it in and hung with care A ladle at the brink. He thought not of the deed he did, But judged that all might drink. He passed again and lo, the well, By summer never dried, Had cool'd ten thousand parching tongues, and saved a life beside.

A nameless man, amid a crowd That throng'd the daily mart, Let fall a word of hope and love, Unstudied from the heart, A whisper on the tumult thrown, A transitory breath. It raised a brother from death. O germ, O fount, O word of love, O thought at random cast; Ye were but little at the first, But mighty at the last.

Trace of Robber Is Lost.

Roseburg, Or., June 21.—Nothing has been heard today regarding the whereabouts of Ray Diamond, the Glendale bank robber, and for the first time since the man hunt began the officers are today merely awaiting some word from the coast officials which will tend to substantiate the theory that he is proceeding in that direction. With all trails leading to the coast closely guarded by armed officers, Sheriff Quine maintains that Diamond will be captured when he emerges from the heavily timbered districts through which he is traveling.

Detective Stratton who is here in the interests of a Portland detective agency, said he believed Diamond had enjoyed more experience in crime than he was generally credited with.

Warsaw—Twelve leading newspapers here have been suppressed for printing a speech made in the douna by a Polish member, denouncing Russian tyranny in Poland.

Breslau—Sergeant Kuretz won a wife and a house and lot by drinking 30 pints of beer, and afterwards, to show his steadiness of hand, making seven bulls eyes out of 10 shots at an 800-yard target.

To Remove Scorch. To remove scorch from linen, use the juice of an onion. Bake a large onion and squeeze out the juice through a piece of muslin; mix with an ounce of fuller's earth a little finely shredded soap, and a wine-glass full of vinegar. Roll together till the soap has dissolved, leave till cold, and then apply the preparation to the scorched linen. Let it dry, and then wash in the usual way.

A Hemming Party. A bride-to-be is going to give a hemming party soon. She called her best girl friends over the telephone and invited them to spend an afternoon on her porch and incidentally remarked: "Everybody is to bring her thimble. The hostess will provide needles, thread and hemming." In the meantime she has bought material for her kitchen towels, and the girls will have the privilege of hemming them, and each girl may put her own initials in the corner if she chooses. This is a clever idea and one which the guests will no doubt enjoy.
