THE OPEN FORUM
 The Capital Journal invites public discussion in this department. —Let both sides of all matters be fully brought out—It is the purpose of this newspaper to do the thinking for its readers.

UP TO MR. SNODGRASS
 We note a letter "Up to Governor West," by M. K. Colvin, and we are sure the writer has given our executive ample time to explain any mistake he may have made. As an admirer of Governor West, we have patiently waited his reply. There is one idea expressed by the writer in the aforesaid letter wherein we do not agree with the author, inasmuch as we consider it up to Mr. Snodgrass to answer for himself, instead of shifting it onto one whom most people admire, and who is thus placed in a forward position by one who, it seems to me, should be, in his official capacity, among the foremost in carrying out our governor's happy prison policy.

Realizing that the majority of the people of the state of Oregon have our governor such tribute as they are of his years and position have received, and learning that he has so slightly offended in the matter of defending Mr. Snodgrass his me to his defense.

Through the columns of our state's daily newspaper we are advised that it is reported that Governor advised you, Mr. Snodgrass, to be guilty, as it was a put up job. Of course you should have plenty when even your superior prisoner testified that the prisoner delivered showed he had been beaten others testified in the prison half against you, but how was it up job? You are accused of being a drunken, defenseless man; you put up about that? Judge said put up fifty dollars; did that? Looks as if our governor to make us consider you a "bottle" too.

When you were appointed to the position of deputy warden, you were not hired to handle a school class, and from various sources you undoubtedly knew that under the influence of liquor you were responsible for either word or deed while undoubtedly you had to allow the carrying on of your business of buying a man's morals and muscles, you find its victim and then proceed to the fullness of your manly (?) and strike the face made truly ugly by your vote, his condition artificial power, and all because guage made offensive the drunken condition.

Like many other voters we should have a position created for the retention at our services of one whom we encourage to be such by our state laws and his own inebriation his appetite, and made us defenseless by your previous cowardly treatment.

We also demand reasons you should have a position created to fill, since as we understand a recent acquisition to the position when older men, men whose hair grows gray in the work, still in prior positions. We want to explain Governor West's obligation, of retaining you after your conduct. In gambling, "What have you up your sleeve you presume to hide behind me in this matter. Come out behind his skirts and fight like if you can—we aren't handling drunk, and though somewhat your weight, we are not afraid port has it that Governor West you are a man needed by the state since the state didn't want (ital punishment, you are). As usual with Governor West, we do not agree that you are in the most befitting the brilliant special talents and while they are ten by a most obscure subject state of Oregon, with a slight knowledge of what is "know office," and not to the people the bills, nor yet for political any way, shape or manner, we to give point to our argument will not even help nominate dog-catcher at the next election will hope the people will find a more befitting office.

Come out into the open, Mr. Snodgrass and if that liquor bottle manufactured any title that defect shows you haven't been us help put it past the poor next defenseless fellow cannot defend your refined sensibilities.

The taxpayers demand a your retention, or whatever causes your retention, as a special, as it surely cannot be for friendship on the part of West. We dislike to over criticize our chief executive, but persists in standing between the sentence of the courts, and sentiments of his subjects he cannot blame us, if in 1912 lodge the "nigger in the wood" hit by some projectile.

Be a man and save him from what you look like without the light of Governor West's presence.
