Dr. F. L. Utter, dentist, suite 415-416-417 Masonic building.

A pleasant auto ride to Portland and back was enjoyed last Sunday by A. J. Edwards and family.

Attorneys Carey Martin, H. H. Turner and C. L. Watt, returned yesterday from Newport, where they spent a few days by the sea.

Perfectly fitted glasses will cure headaches and eye-strain. Free consultation. Dr. James Smith, rooms 303-304 Masonic building.

The funeral of S. B. Clark, of Dallas, was held yesterday from the Rigdon & Richardson undertaking parlors and the remains were laid to rest in City View cemetery. The deceased died in this city July 19.

The jury hearing the case of Elizabeth Arnold vs. E. J. Arnold returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $800 yesterday. The suit was brought to collect $1293, alleged to be due from the defendant as borrowed money.

Alleging that the rate charged by the Portland Railway, Light & Power company for conveying passengers on its line from Twenty-third and Washington streets in Portland, to Calvary cemetery is unreasonable, 130 residents of King's Heights have petitioned the railroad commission to lower it. A fare of 10 cents is now being charged.

Oscar Johnson, the well known State street clothier, is now a benedict. Oscar stole a march on his friends yesterday morning when he quietly became united in marriage with Mabel Carter Bolan, Rev. R. N. Avison officiating. Mr. Johnson is an old-time business man of Salem and his many friends congratulate him. The same congratulations are also given to Mrs. Johnson, a charming woman who also has a host of friends in this city.

Great excitement prevailed in Portland recently among the lovers of flowers over a sweet pea which was found bearing four blossoms. The pea was declared a freak, a new creation and something wonderful. It developed today, however, that P. W. Reynolds, the local stock buyer, has a good-sized field of sweet peas, and each stem is sporting four blossoms. Peter don't think them so wonderful, but he can't make out why such a big sensation should be created over just a little sweet pea.

Henry Josse, of Gates, Or., paid this office a pleasant call this morning.

All the aids to comfortable dressing are to be found at the Toggery. Read their ad in this issue.

Though most men abhor perfume, all are fond of the essence of comfort. There's a lot of it bottled up in every suit now offered at the Toggery. Have you read their offering in this issue?

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Bach and daughter, of Lebanon, motored to Salem Sunday, returning Sunday evening. Mr. Bach is one of Lebanon's most prominent citizens. He is president of the Lebanon bank and is one of the principal stockholders in the Lebanon water and light plant. While in the city the visitors called upon Peter Bach, his brother.

So it may enlarge its business, Corporation Commissioner Watson has authorized the issuance of $400,000 bonds by the Wheeler Lumber Company, of Wheeler, Tillamook county. The company has increased its capital stock from $52,000 to $1,000,000. About $350,000 will be expended in enlarging the mill, according to John E. DuBois, of Pennsylvania, principal stockholder, who was here a short time ago.

The members of Sedgwick Relief Corps No. 1 are invited to meet with Mrs. Louise Forstner, 265 North Commercial street, Thursday afternoon, July 24. Ladies will please bring their own sewing or fancy work, as Mrs. Lizzie W. Smith announced there is no work ready for the corps to sew on.

Mrs. Florence Spencer is at the Dalles for a few weeks and cannot return in time to entertain with her sister, Mrs. Clara Grubbe, Mrs. W. G. Ackerman and Mrs. H. Rosene, as expected. Miss Gladys Bartholomew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Bartholomew, is quite sick at her home in Yew Park. Gladys is the granddaughter of Comrade Pascoe, therefore Mrs. Pascoe did not care to entertain this week, either. All these ladies hope to be ready to meet the corps at "The Baker" on Ferry street for the next afternoon of sewing.

MATTOX IS BOUND OVER FOR HIS CRIME

C. H. Mattox, the man who is charged with robbery while armed with a dangerous weapon, was given a hearing in Justice Webster's court this morning which resulted in his being bound over to the circuit court under $250 bonds.

Edward Schar, his brothers and sisters, and the men who were called upon by Miss Josephine Schar to protect her when Mattox made threats of violence in the attempt to collect money alleged to have been due on a quantity of lice-killer were in court and each one testified that the defendant held them up at the point of a gun and threatened to shoot them if they attempted to molest him and demanded the money.

Miss Schar testified that Mattox swore that he would have the money and that she becoming frightened and fearing violence rushed out and called the farm hands. Then she said, Mattox backed up against a building and drawing a revolver, demanded that everyone throw up their hands and that he be given the $4 for his goods.

Other witnesses for the state corroborated Miss Schar's testimony, Edward Schar testifying that after he was ordered to throw up his hands by Mattox, he told his sister to get the money, which she did.

Mattox on Stand. The defendant then took the stand at his own request. Mattox testified that he gave Miss Schar a thorough demonstration of what the lice-killer would do and that she agreed to take a quantity of it for $4 and allow him to remain over night at the farm for the consideration of an extra gallon of the preparation. In the morning stated Mattox, Miss Schar stated that she had changed her mind and did not want the lice-killer, and that if he (Mattox) would give her fifty cents, she would call everything settled, the money being for the keep of his horse. Then, testified Mattox, he grew angry and said that by God he would get the money and started for his rig with the intention of getting his horse and driving to town for the purpose of consulting an attorney. Mattox stated that he forgot a grip which he had left on the Schar porch and was in the act of returning for it when the men on the place approached him and ordered him off the place. The defendant declared that he then drew his six-shooter and made the men throw up their hands and when Edward Schar attempted to go into the house he held him up also with the demand to halt. Mattox said that he reassured he demanded Schar to halt for a few weeks and cannot return in time to entertain with her sister, Mrs. Clara Grubbe, Mrs. W. G. Ackerman and Mrs. H. Rosene, as expected. Miss Gladys Bartholomew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Bartholomew, is quite sick at her home in Yew Park. Gladys is the granddaughter of Comrade Pascoe, therefore Mrs. Pascoe did not care to entertain this week, either. All these ladies hope to be ready to meet the corps at "The Baker" on Ferry street for the next afternoon of sewing.

Free speech is all right from the view point of the fellow who wants to do the speaking, but all wrong when the other fellow indulges in it.

The Oakland Equivocal says "the Progressives of California have the right to demand that Johnson run again." This is a self-evident fact that will not be denied, even by Johnson.

Dr. Marie Equi, being a woman, of course, changed her mind. She will not leave Portland, but will remain and stand trial, which shows that she is no friend of Oregon.

FORMER WIFE GETS INSURANCE CARRIED

Legal Wife Cannot Get $2000 Because Her Name Does not Appear in Policy of Dead Man.

Holding that though Evelyn Cummings was not the legal wife of Harry Cummings that she was entitled to a $2000 insurance policy taken out in her favor, and that his legal wife Sophia Cummings was not entitled to it the supreme court today reversed the circuit court of Multnomah county in the case.

Cummings had become separated from his legal wife though not divorced. After the separation he began living with a woman and she assumed his name. He took out an insurance policy with a New Jersey insurance company in her favor, designating her as Evelyn Cummings, his wife. When he died the legal wife sought to secure the insurance, and the Multnomah court held in her favor. The supreme court, however, holds that the policy was in the nature of a contract, and that it must be upheld in favor of his paramour even though it may have been his moral duty to make no provision for her but to provide for his legal wife and child. Justice Ramsey wrote the opinion.

COMPLETE REVERSAL OF POLICY PLANNED

Homesteaders Will Be Welcomed to Siuslaw National Forest, Says Chief Forester Graves.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Eugene, Ore., July 22.—Complete reversal of the policy of the forest reserve with relation to the Siuslaw national forest and the welcoming of homesteaders to the whole coast country of Oregon from Tillamook to Coos Bay was announced here today, following a week's inspection of the national forest by Chief Forester Graves. The policy of ultra conservatism is to give way, and not only is invitation to be extended to those settlers who in the past have had their applications for patent rejected, but new settlers are to be welcomed and given every assistance in securing places for homes.

"Any tract of land large enough and fertile enough to support a family will be opened to entry under the most liberal interpretation of the forestry laws," said Supervisor Seitz, of the Cascade forest, who has been interested with others in extension of the liberal policy to the Siuslaw forest.

"The policy is to utilize every bit of agricultural land in the reserve."

Applicants for homesteads in this forest are to be made to the forestry department office in Eugene. Government surveying crews will locate the newcomers free of charge, but there is no invitation to those seeking timber, for it is intended to preserve the purposes of the reserve. In determining the nature of land proposed to be homesteaded, it is planned to create local boards or commissions to pass on the question.

Of the 821,000 acres included within the Siuslaw forest 328,000 acres are already in private hands, but in the remainder there are thousands of acres of land chiefly valuable for agricultural purposes.

X-RAYS.

Dr. Equi laughingly tells of her standing off officers with a gas pipe, in the recent L. W. W. disturbances in Portland, says "the officers would not come within 10 feet of me. I was worse than a rattlesnake." This may please the Equine doctor, but it is a poor reputation for a woman to acquire.
