RINGLING BROTHERS COME HERE AUGUST 23

Spectacle of "Joan of Arc" added to Show and It Is Bigger and Better Than Ever.

With an entirely new outfit, a domineering, and a parade rebuilt more than ever elaborate scale, Ringling Brothers' circus will give two spectacles in this city on Saturday, August 23. In connection with the performance in the main tent will be given the great spectacular word-play, "Joan of Arc," enacted on a stage bigger than a hundred theatres with a cast of 1200 characters, a trainload of special scenery, costumes and properties. This spectacle alone Ringling Brothers $500,000 and is an instance of unheard-of extravagance in dramatic production. Each season finds this circus larger and better. The progress that will be noted this year is exceptional. It manifests itself first in the new pageant, built by foreign artists and designers at the European workshops of the show in Stoke-on-Trent, England. When visitors approach the show grounds the size of the city of tents fills them with amazement. The menageries has been increased and the main exhibition tent is thelargest in the world. It is a labyrinth of stages, rings and gymnastic and aerial equipment, filling the arena from ground to dome. There are 375 performers. Over 300 of them are Europeans. There are at least fifty sensation acts on the long program.

The magic touch of the Ringling management is evident throughout every department of the circus. New York City unanimously through its newspapers, stamps this show as the best ever seen in Manhattan. The program is delightfully fresh and new, and varied enough to suit all tastes.

This is the thirtieth year of the Ringling Brothers as showmen. On April 3, 1883, they gave their first performance in the public park of their native city, Baraboo, Wis. The tent was homemade. The seat planks were borrowed from a neighboring lumber yard. The boys made their own ring properties and gave the performance. They had but one horse. They all doubled in brass. It would be impossible to begin in a smaller way. They had the right stuff in them and they did not know there was such a word as "fail."

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. E. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

SIGHT OF DOG MOVES MURDERER OF THREE

Boy of 14 Years, Who Killed Wife of Benefactor and Two Babies, Finally Breaks Down.

SECOND JERKILL AND HYDE SAYS ONE OF HIS GUARDS.

Messenger in Prison, But He Has to be Watched, Especially When He Has Sullen Look.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Joliet, Ill., Aug. 2.—Fourteen years of age and sentenced for life. Granting that Herman Coppes, a mere baby, lives to the average age of prisoners, this youth who calmly shot to death, for no apparent reason, the wife of his benefactor and crushed the heads of two babies with an axe, today is looking forward to the 50 years he must still serve behind prison bars before death liberates him.

Herman Coppes is a tousle-haired, under-sized boy, just like hundreds to be found on corner lots playing baseball or at the "swimmin' holes" taking a stolen plunge. There will be no baseball or swimming, however, for little Herman Coppes.

"The most baffling study in juvenile criminology that has ever come to my notice," was the characterization of the Coppes boy expressed today by Warden Edmund M. Allen, of the Illinois state prison at Joliet. And alienists, criminologists and penitentiary officials who have examined this strange little fellow, echo the warden's statements. All are agreed that it would be a menace to any community for the boy to be free in it. All are agreed that the boy suffers from homicidal mania of the worst type. The alienists—at least some of them—say the boy should be sent to an institution for the insane for treatment, but they admit that his condition is such that to be treated at such an institution some freedom would have to be given him. At any time, they say, during one of the periods of apparent sanity, he might cunningly plan and succeed in satisfying what they call his lust to kill. Penitentiary officials admit frankly they haven't the slightest idea what to do with the boy. Never before, they say, have they been forced to "turn a cell into a nursery."

Queer Little Fellow. "He is a second Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," said one of the guards, in whose cell block he sleeps. "He's the queerest little fellow I ever did see, and I have some youngsters of my own, about his age, who are not white angels. One day he'll be as happy as a kid with a baseball bat. The next day he hangs his head, mopes in his cell, marches into the dining room with eyes half shut, and eats barely enough to satisfy the hunger of a kid one-fifth his age. He will refuse to talk even when we talk to him of the things he likes. Then, the next day, he's happy and smiling and cheerful again."

When he was barely 13 years old, the Coppes boy was sent to the St. Charles state reformatory because his father declared him to be incorrigible. Ten months ago he was paroled and given into the custody of Manny Sleep, a farmer living near Elgin.

One evening when Sleep was away from home, the boy shot the farmer's young wife. With an axe he dashed out the brains of her two babies, Sarah, aged 4, and Ertile, aged 2. Removing the cover from an abandoned cistern under the kitchen he pushed the dead mother and her dead babies into the well. Then he carefully and so cunningly erased all signs of the triple murder that no trace of the killing showed when Manny Sleep returned to his home.

Finally Confessed. During the five days that Sleep and his neighbors engaged in frantic search for some sign of the woman and her babies, Herman Coppes went about his minor tasks. He calmly ate his meals on a table which sat on the disused cistern top. On the sixth day Sleep, distracted, begged the boy to tell what he knew of his missing wife and children. "I killed them. They are down there," he answered calmly, pointing to the old well. Then, under severe sweating, the boy confessed everything—except why he did it. "Why did I do it? Oh, I dunno," he would invariably and indifferently reply.

Shows No Remorse. The boy was rushed to trial, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to a life term. He showed absolutely no remorse and exhibited very little interest in the proceedings. He arrived at the penitentiary wearing short trousers, the youngest prisoner ever admitted to Joliet, and excepting Jesse Pomeroy, Joliet, and excepting Jesse Pomeroy, nearly 40 years ago, one of the youngest ever given that penalty in the United States. After he had been photographed and his measurements taken in the Bertillon department, a deputy warden handed a suit of prison gray.

"Say, this ain't so bad, is it?" said the boy. "I've wanted to wear long trousers and they never would let me. How much did this suit cost?" Warden Allen has made a messenger of the boy on various occasions and in some sense he is treated as a trusty but he has to be watched constantly, especially when he awakens in the morning with that sullen, gloomy look on his face.

"A visitor of the warden's brought a dog into the latter's office a few days ago," said one of the guards, "and the boy stopped to pat it on the head. When he looked up there were tears in his eyes, and he sobbed openly as he went back into his cell. For the next three or four days he wouldn't leave his cell and we had to make him eat what we took to him."

BUILDING WORK GOES ON

and as soon as the remainder of the appropriation is at hand, the landscape around the structure will be leveled off and placed in the best condition possible.

With the completion of the annex Salem can well boast of having one of the finest civic centers in the world. Hundreds of visitors from the east have praised the city highly on its civic center and local people should be proud to possess such a rare location for its public buildings.

Civic Pride.

Much is being said by local and other people in regard to the parkings in the city. It is declared that there are many parkings in the residential districts that are not kept up as they should be, especially on South Commercial street. On the east side of this thoroughfare but a few blocks from the business district, the parking is sadly neglected. It is covered with rank grass and there has been no effort made by those owning property adjoining to place it in a slightly condition. These conditions prevail in other parts of the city also according to several people who have taken an interest in the work of beautifying the city.

It is the general opinion that where the property owners demand a narrow street and wide parkings, that they should be compelled to keep up the latter and not permit the same to be the dumping grounds of those who respect a clean, green lawn but fail to pay any attention to the dirty parkings.

The following records of real estate transfers were filed in the county recorder's office during the past week: Sarah B. Lume et ux to L. Pick et ux, 45 acres in Highland addition to Salem; $10.

Daniel Lotus and wife to M. M. Aker et ux, land in Silverton; $6000.

A Great Bargain

Here is the greatest Real Estate Bargain ever offered in Salem. I have just received authority to subdivide a splendid farm into ten-acre tracts, located in the prairie belt south of Salem. It borders upon a good public highway, and has a good school near the farm. There is a nice stream and a nice spring of water upon it all the year. It is offered at the very low price of $75 per acre. Just think of it, $75 per acre in 10-acre tracts for good farm land near Salem, all in cultivation. There never has been such a Real Estate Bargain offered. Don't be foolish enough to think you can come in, in a week from now and get this land. Come in early Monday morning and let us show you the land so that you can get first choice. There are less than 150 acres in the tract, and it will be sold within a few days at the very low price asked.

We have a reputation of not advertising anything but bargains. This is certainly one of them. It is up to you, get busy.

"BLOOD IS THICKER THAN WATER"

Without good red blood a man has a weak heart and poor nerves. Thinness of the blood, or anemia, is common in young folks as well as old. Especially is it the case with those who work in ill-ventilated factories—or those who are shut up indoors in winter time with a coal stove burning up the oxygen or emitting carbonic (oxide) gas. This blood, or blood which lacks the red blood corpuscles, in anemic people may have been caused by lack of good fresh air breathed into lungs, or by poor digestion or dyspepsia. Sometimes people suffer intense pain over the heart which is not heart disease at all, but caused by indigestion. Whatever the cause, there's just one remedy that you can turn to—knowing that it has given satisfaction for over 40 years.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

is a blood cleanser and alterative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to manufacture rich red blood which feeds the heart—nerves—brain and organs of the body. The organs work smoothly like machinery running in oil. You feel clean, strong and vigorous instead of tired, weak and faint. Nowadays you can obtain Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery Tablets, as well as the liquid form from all medicine dealers, or tablets by mail, prepaid in 31 or 50c size. Address: Dr. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

Locomotives or Any Other Kind of Machinery can be Sold by Advertising

It is really surprising what advertising will do. Reports in trade papers say locomotives have been sold by advertising.

And it is generally known that all kinds of farm machinery are sold by advertising very day.

Dealers in machinery—and those who have old pieces of machinery for sale—have proved the fact for themselves.

In fact "machinery" is one of the big regular departments of the "Want Ad" pages of The Capital Journal.

It is open to everybody. Those who want to buy machinery glance there to see if anything is offered that they can use.

Those who have machinery for sale advertise to catch the eye of him who needs machinery.

These two—buyer and seller—combine to keep up the interest.

Join them, no matter what side of the fence you are on. If you have machinery to sell or want to buy write an ad about it, and then mail it or
