THE ROUND-UP.

Lake county is arranging to hold a big fair this fall, but the details are not yet worked out.

All ready all the seats in the grand stand at the Pendleton Round Up have been sold, and the 3000 extra bleacher seats provided, it is thought will be insufficient for the big crowds now assured.

Seaside had a splendid dahlia show last Thursday.

Medford is arranging for a big fair to be held September 9-13.

Oregon City has declared war on speeders, and has a special officer mounted on a motorcycle that can catch any old auto, whose business it is to arrest speeders.

An Irish picnic at which $300 in prizes will be given away, will be held at the Hog Ranch, Samas Prairie, Lake county, September 1.

Lake county will try to get rid of the jack rabbit by catching a couple of hundred, inoculating them with some rabbit disease, epidemic in character, and then turn them loose.

Lakeview is to have a hospital "modern in every respect." It will be ready for use about September 15, and will be in charge of Dr. and Mrs. J. Irving Russell.

For a slogan good enough for the new and lusty municipality of Molalla the editor of the Pioneer offers a year's subscription.

With a school of whales off shore and plenty of summer girls on the beach, the Signal says Newport is managing to keep on the map as an attractive summer resort.

Among articles sealed up in the cornerstone of the new Masonic building at Tillamook were a package of local picture post cards, and some current booster literature.

Baker Herald: While the people back in bleeding Kansas will have been closing their places on account of the heat, people in Baker county were getting out their winter underwear.

The Stayton Mail has reports of a number of surveyors at work on both sides of the Santiam. The Mail does not know to what organization these men belong, but it presumes their presence means another railroad in Stayton.

To make La Grande the best lighted city in the Northwest, to insure construction of the Second street subway at a cost of considerable over $30,000, and to rush the construction of a big 2,250,000 gallon reservoir were improvement transactions of the city council of La Grande at its last regular session.

TWO RAILROAD CELEBRATIONS ARE SCHEDULED FOR WEEK

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Eugene, Or., Aug. 27.—Two railroad celebrations are scheduled to take place in the upper Willamette valley during the first week in September. The first will be the basket picnic at Monroe, September 3, to celebrate the completion of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern tracks between Eugene and Monroe and the consequent connection through Corvallis with Portland, and the other is set for Saturday at Noti, 20 miles west of Eugene, to commemorate the beginning of rail transportation on that portion of the Willamette-Pacific company's line between Eugene and Coos Bay.

For the Monroe picnic excursion trains will be run from Eugene and Corvallis and the dinner will be served in Wilhelm's grove. Return trips will be made during the afternoon, and thereupon regular service will be begun between Eugene and Corvallis, to connect with the trains to Portland, Albany and to Yaquina. State and county officers are scheduled to speak. The chief purpose of the excursions is to give Eugene and Corvallis business men an opportunity to see the territory which is thus being opened up as trade zones for the respective towns.

A woman is awfully disappointed when her worst suspicions fail to come out.

The Markets

There is no change in the wheat situation, prices remaining unchanged and the market very dull, buyers and sellers alike waiting developments. The same statement might be made as to hops, a waiting policy being the tactics of both grower and dealer. Fruits of all kinds are in good supply and it is suggested that those having these for market get them in not later than Friday morning, as Monday is Labor Day and there will be nothing doing for two days. Eggs are slightly higher and are quoted at from 25 to 28 cents. Another advance in sugar is expected in the near future. Favorable weather for hops is reported in England. It looks threatening in the Willamette valley hop section, and rain is predicted. Hops, like Josh Billings' monkey, are uncertain because you never can tell what they will do next. Unfavorable weather here ill undoubtedly seal the price up.
