

SOCIETY

Society has centered about two charming Salem guests, Mrs. Frank Snedecor, who was Miss Breyman before she was married, and is the daughter of Mrs. Eugene Breyman, and Mrs. Snedecor's friend, Mrs. W. P. Montgomery, who accompanied her for the first time to this city.

Besides numerous small affairs that were not found their way into the society columns, these young matrons have been in the inspiration for bridge parties and picnics during their short stay in Salem; for three weeks were engaged by a journey—a motor ride to Clear Lake. The visitors are leaving about the fifth of next month and will pass a few days in Portland the week of Mrs. Rudolph Prael.

Mrs. William H. Boat entertained last Saturday with a charming luncheon at her suburban home on South Salem, making Mrs. Frank Snedecor and Mrs. W. P. Montgomery guests of honor.

The daintily appointed table was laid with a woody picnic spot under the outstretched arms of evergreen trees, and was graced with a mound of fragrant white and pink flowers, and Indian baskets of verbenas and asters carried out the same color scheme.

Added to the genial hospitality were beautiful surroundings and a perfect day.

The groups of friends asked in comment to the honor guests were Mrs. Mark W. Gill, of Portland, president, Mrs. Eugene Breyman, Mrs. Z. P. Coffey, Mrs. E. E. Waters, Mrs. A. N. Ab, Mrs. W. H. Byrd, Mrs. William Knighton, Mrs. Rouben P. Boise, Jr., Mrs. Charles L. McNary, Mrs. Frederick Waters, Mrs. Charles Popp, Mrs. George Bennett, Miss S. Bush, Miss Lucretia Soughton, Miss Elsie Hamilton and Miss Lillian McBride.

Miss Carmen Tracy, a charming side-guest was surprised Thursday evening with a linen shower given by the Nellie Scott, in her home, 235 Shan street.

Pink and white was the scheme of the occasion, developed with a profusion of dahlias.

The honored round quantities of fifty household linen, after a long search throughout the rooms. These inclusive articles were gifts from the guests and Miss Lerah Wilson, Miss the Prince, Miss Eva Scott, Miss Grace Hill, Miss Lorain Staley, Miss Myrtle Tracy, Miss Eva White and Miss Vera Brookins.

Music, games and dancing were the entertainment and refreshments served two lasses, Marion Tracy and Vera Hill, in white frocks and pink ribbons. The wedding date has been set for tomorrow, when Miss Tracy will become the bride of Ernest Scott.

Mrs. William C. Knighton presided Tuesday at a pretty auction bridge for the pleasure of Mrs. Frank Snedecor and Mrs. W. P. Montgomery, of Birmingham, Alabama. The game was played at three tables, and additional guests, the greater number old time friends of Mrs. Snedecor, called later and enjoyed tea.

High scores gave the dainty table favors to Mrs. William H. Boat, Mrs. George Bennett and Mrs. George E. Waters and similar gifts complimented the honor guests.

A shower of lovely handkerchiefs surprised the charming hostess, for a whisper among her friends traveling rapidly, suggested this celebration of her birthday.

Decorative flowers in the drawing room were roses of a thousand beauties, and immense fluffy pink asters. For the living room, a high cluster of white hydrangea, Carolina Testout roses, marigolds and banking the open gate were blossoms of golden glow.

The dining room coloring was pink, and roses were the flowers. Lace covered the mahogany board which was further adorned with broad bands, and bows of pink moire ribbon, tall silver vases of the "thousand beauties" and twinkling lights of candles in rose bud holders.

Mrs. William H. Boat, and Mrs. Mark W. Gill, of Portland, president, Mrs. John H. McNary, Mrs. Frederic S. Stewart and Mrs. Frederic R. Waters assisted.

In honor of Mrs. Frank Snedecor and Mrs. W. P. Montgomery, five tables of bridge were arranged for Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. John H. McNary hostess.

Later, a number of guests besides who were, with few exceptions, Mrs. Snedecor's girlhood friends, dropped in for a call and luncheon. The high score card gift was awarded to Mrs. William C. Knighton, Mrs. McNary's lovely home was made still more attractive with a setting of beautiful flowers.

Great raggedy pink dahlias, of the R. W. Jansen variety, pink lilies and golden glow graced the living room. In the library and dining room were African merigolds and sweet peas in diversity of colors.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. William C. Knighton, Mrs. Charles McNary and Mrs. Frederic P. Waters. Every expected guest responded to the invitation and the afternoon was delightfully informal.

Little David Jordan, of Portland, who has been rusticated for a few weeks with his great grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McBride and his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Boat, was given a picnic dinner before returning to his home a week ago Wednesday. Every thing dear to a child's heart was contributed for his pleasure, and over the coffee, for this was a truly dinner, Jordan gave an extemporaneous speech which was admirable if not verbose, and reflected his great grand father's ability as an after dinner speaker.

In Portland on Wednesday, August twentieth, Miss Zelma Hesson, formerly of Dale, Indiana, became the bride of Frederick Ellis, D. D., of Salem, Reverend Delmer H. Trimble, of Centenary Methodist Episcopal church reading the marriage service in the presence of a few close friends. The bride's gown was of white, brocaded voile, elaborated with lace and embroidery, and worn with white picture hat. Her flowers were white lilies. There were no attendants.

Doctor and Mrs. Ellis left immediately for Salem where they are at home at 300 Meyers street.

Doctor Ellis is associated in business with Doctor J. C. Griffith.

Mrs. Lydia Thompson was the recipient of a pretty compliment last Wednesday evening when her associate nurses at Salem hospital gave a lawn party in her honor and presented her with a Haviland plate as a loving gift.

The lawn was gay with Japanese lanterns and the long table with places for eighteen was brightly decorated with golden and crimson dahlias.

During the evening Miss Margaret Wishart entertained with piano selections and Doctor A. Anderson gave a vocal rendition of Mendelssohn's "Spring Song."

Miss Thompson has occupied the position as head of the hospital during Miss McNary's absence on a vacation.

Miss Elva Smith chaperoned several young people who started out two weeks ago to camp at the North Falls of Silver creek.

In the party, besides Miss Smith, were Miss Gertrude Eakin, Miss Lucille Emmons, Miss Gladys Luthy, Miss Ruth Hodge, Harold Eakin, Howard Jewett and Carl Emmons.

The joys of camping in the open, and fishing for ones breakfast in the delightful hours of early morning were greater than they had anticipated.

A number of short tramps were taken to harden tendons and muscles before the merry crowd, with the exception of Miss Smith and Miss Emmons who remained to keep the bears away, walked in one day a distance of eleven miles to House Mountain Rock and return. From that locality a magnificent view of the surrounding country presented seven or eight Cascade peaks, the Three Sisters, Mount Hood, Adams, Jefferson and Rainier. The party returned without mishap last Thursday.

Reverend F. M. Jasper read the lines of the marriage service on Wednesday evening, August twentieth, when Minnie Sophia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Zosel, at Liberty, became the bride of Claude Henry Stevenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stevenson, of Liberty.

The ceremony was performed in the bride's home, beautifully decorated with ivy and white chrysanthemums, and the vows were spoken under an arch of the ivy and chrysanthemums. Miss Gladys Stevenson, a sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid and wore a lovely gown of white voile with baby Irish crochet motifs. Her flowers were white roses. The pretty bride was charming in a robe of ivory silk with touches of lace. She carried a great cluster of white chrysanthemums.

Mr. Walter Zosel, the bride's brother attended the groom. Mr. and Mrs. William R. King and Mrs. J. W. Sadler were graduated from the same college in the east, and have been life long friends.

In honor of Mrs. Frank Snedecor and Mrs. W. P. Montgomery, five tables of bridge were arranged for Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. John H. McNary hostess.

Rheumatism

Is A Constitutional Disease. It manifests itself in local aches and pains—inflamed joints and stiff muscles—but it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires constitutional treatment, and the best is a course of the great blood purifying and tonic medicine Hood's Sarsaparilla which corrects the acid condition of the blood and builds up the system. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsataba.

Flowers and congratulations are finding their way to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Parker, upon the advent of a baby boy, August twenty-sixth; just five years to the day of his only brother's birth. This second son has been given the name of Delbert Loraine.

Miss Winifred Byrd is planning to give a piano recital some time in the near future. Miss Byrd studied at the Boston Conservatory for five or six years and coached for a year in Berlin under Madam Carreno, a pianist of world wide fame.

Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush, Jr., today are joining a week end house party in Portland at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Christie Walsh celebrated the eighth anniversary of their marriage and the fifth birthday of their son, Clark, last Tuesday, August the twenty-sixth. Mr. and Mrs. Walsh were married in Heidelberg, Germany, where they were students in the university.

Special permits for the marriages of foreigners in that country are very difficult to obtain; the laws are tied with a great amount of red tape, and foreigners usually journey to England or France for a marriage ceremony. Owing to an intimate friendship with the American consul in Germany, Mr. and Mrs. Walsh were granted a special permit for the interesting event.

Mrs. Edward Weller and daughter, Helen, arrived home Thursday evening from their outing at Seal Rocks. Mrs. E. E. Heulat and Mrs. J. W. Bickford and her daughter, Miriam, left on the same day for Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Miles entertained this week, Mrs. S. Coffin and her companion, Miss Luella Jones, of Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Coffin is first cousin of Mr. Miles, and mother of Howard Coffin, of the Hudson Automobile company.

Mrs. Paul Zinkhan, who has been passing the summer in Portland, as house guest of Mrs. E. E. Harlan, returned to Salem last week.

After enjoying an outing at Agate Beach, Miss Ellen Thielsen arrived home Tuesday evening, and left yesterday for Astoria to join a crowd of young people who will camp for a few days on Saddle Mountains.

Doctor and Mrs. W. S. Mott are entertaining Mr. Mott's niece, Mrs. Blanche Johnson or San Francisco, who will remain indefinitely.

Mrs. C. P. Bishop's guests, the Misses Eleanor and Maud Green, left on Monday morning over Shasta Limited for their home in Sacramento, California. Miss Maud is teacher in the high school.

Miss Lillian McNary and her niece, Elizabeth Dyer, are returning home Monday after several weeks recreation.

Mrs. E. Cook Patton entertained for a few days this week, Miss Edith Titcombe, of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush, Jr., and little son, Asahel Fifth, returned Wednesday night from The Breakers, Long Beach, Washington, where Mrs. Bush and her babe passed an exceptionally delightful outing of several weeks. The usual seaside entertainments were augmented by two colored musicians from Portland who were artists in their style of music and were notable attractions. One week of tennis tournament was an etta Calvin, of Oregon Agricultural College, will give an address. For guest day, which comes in April, Miss Minnetta Magers has been asked to furnish the musical program. This compliment has been extended for four seasons, which fact proves Miss Magers and her pupils to be entertainers of excellent merit.

Miss Alice Dodd, of Salem, will speak before the woman's club in May. The annual meeting for election of officers occurs in June. The calendar is not entirely completed, but will be ready for the printers within a short time.

The necessity for a rest room in this city has many times been the topic of discussion among the members of Salem Woman's Club, and ways and means that might bring about desired results have been subjects for argument. It is hoped to make such a movement purely civic. A plan has been devised by which an experiment is to be tried for one year. The rest room will be secured and individuals asked to pledge a certain amount to be designated by themselves, for their share of a year's support. An amount of five hundred dollars is already available, and in a short time announcement will be made of a meeting when arrangements may possibly be completed for the long desired rest room where women and girl may find comfort and conveniences impossible at the present time to be secured outside of hotels and rooming houses.

PERSONAL MENTION.
