

SPORTS
FOREMOST ATHLETES OF NORTHWEST GOING

Oregon and Washington Will Be Well Represented at Sports Held in San Francisco.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] San Francisco, Sept. 6.—The participation of some of the foremost athletes of the northwest will be one of the big attractions of the sporting carnival of the Portola festival, to be held here October 22 to 25.

This squad, including the cream of northwestern athletes, has on it some men who have represented Uncle Sam in the Olympiads, world record-holders and champions of the northwest.

Dunn's list reads: 100 and 250 yards—Baizer, Oregon Agricultural college; Turenne, University of Washington.

440 and 800 yards—Windagle, University of Oregon.

One mile—Clyde, University of Washington; McClure, University of Oregon.

Five miles—Chandler, Vancouver Athletic club.

High jump—Thomassen, Seattle Athletic club.

Pole vault—Bellah, Multnomah club, Portland.

Broad jump—Bellah, Hawkins, Multnomah Athletic club, Portland.

Javelin—Bellah, Hawkins, Multnomah club.

Shot, hammer and discus—Philbrook, Wolf, Multnomah club; Con Walsh, Seattle Athletic club.

The foremost men of Stanford university will participate in the Portola games, according to Captain P. B. McKee of the 1914 Cardinal track team.

McKee has announced that probably a full team will be entered, and fall training will be started earlier than usual, in order to prepare for the Portola championships.

It is expected that Stanford will be represented, among others, by Captain Campbell, McKee; Wilson, the miler, who broke the intercollegiate record last spring; Templeton, and others.

Crew Captain Phil Clover is preparing to enter a Stanford eight on shell in the aquatic part of the Portola program.

WOLGAST WILL NOT ADMIT HE IS BEATEN

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Still unconvinced that he occupies a front seat on "the toboggan," one-time Champion Ad Wolgast today is enroute from San Francisco to his ranch at Medford, Ore.

Jabs and Jolts

Willie Ritchie and Freddie Welsh have posted for the fight scheduled at Vancouver. Each put up $3750 of which $2500 was to guarantee appearance and $1250 to insure that the fighters would weigh inside the 135-pound limit at noon.

FRILL AND FLOUNCE WITH SASH BETWEEN

Three Fashion Fads Which Are Bound to Be Seen in Smartest Fall Modes of 1913.

QUEER COLOR COMBINATIONS STILL RAMPANT FOR FALL

Much More Subdued Scale Than During Summer Season, However, and Some Are Unique.

BY MARGARET MASON. (Written for the United Press)

New York, Sept. 6.—A frill and a flounce with a sash in between are the three fashion fads that are bound to be seen on the smartest fall modes for nineteen thirteen.

The best frocks are fashioned of soft crepe de chine, of linen or chiffon that is plain to be seen—through—and quite the most modish of colors is green in a soft shade of Baked, if you know what I mean.

Really and truly a dress simply couldn't be made these days without a flounce, a frill and a sash. By flounce is meant anything from a pleatum to a tunic or an overskirt. This is responsible for the new silhouette which shows width at the hips and narrowness at the heels.

Plaid as a trimming is a charming adjunct to many smart little fall frocks of blue serge or taffeta. If you are a canny lass with a Mae to your name you will chose your own personal clan plaid for your apparel and garnishment and thereby fill with envy those unfortunate who cannot thus turn their family crests to sartorial account.

All over plaid gowns of either wool or silk are also very good, but in combination with a one-toned material the bright coloring of the plaid is the most effective.

Queer Color Combinations. Queer color combinations are still rampant for fall, but on a much more subdued scale than what we have been lately suffering from.

For instance the combining of two odd shades is much more to be desired than a mad conglomeration of several. Violet with old blue is an artistic combination and black with emerald green very chic.

Gowns with a blouse of one tone and a skirt of a contrasting shade divided with Oriental looking girldes of the two colors are most unique. One with a copper silk waist and a dull blue skirt has the bodice fastened in front with a half dozen lapis lazuli ball buttons mounted in copper, a wide girde of copper and blue fastened low on the right hip.

The three-quarter sleeves are banded in the same material as the girde and an upstanding frill of ecrú net outlines the very low V neck.

Aprons of the inevitable low neck, the first cool days are hatching out ostrich feather boas and dog-collars of pleated tulle. Not by any manner of means are the ostrich boas of today the lengthy cumbersome affairs of yesterday, trailing their bulky lengths over fair shoulders to well below the hip line.

The smart little boas of today fitting about your throat snugly are fastened a trifle to one side of the back of your neck with the ends, one shorter than the other, falling down behind.

A useful and "different" wrap for the chilly days is a sleeveless cape of velvet. It is rich and effective over a light colored frock in black, taupe or a deep golden brown velour.

In the trousseau of a late August bride was a stunning afternoon gown of bright blue crepe de chine with a kimono bodice of rose flowered chiffon. The waist opened in front over a vest of ecrú, and lace with an upstanding frill of the same around the low V-shaped neck. Loose undersleeves of the lace showed below the chiffon sleeves for about five inches.

The soft draped silk was caught up high on the bodice in front with the new raised front waist line and fastened with a girde and flat pump bok of black velvet ribbon.

Nice Little Dancing Frock. In the same outfit was a dear little dancing frock of shadow lace. The decollette kimono waist was entirely of the lace and below the lace tunic of the skirt. The skirt proper of accordion pleated pink crepe de chine was fastened to a top of net. The normal waistline was simply girlded with a crush of the pink.

An adorable negligee of pale shell pink crepe de chine was cut short, and was open in front to reveal a dainty petticoat. It rounded gradually to a V-shaped dip behind and was outlined all around with a flounce of shadow lace headed with a running garland of pink and blue French roses.

A perfect finish was a delicate little French bonhoir cap of crocheted pink silk with a flat wreath of the pink and blue rose buds in front.

A striking coat suit of corded blue broadcloth and a perky little black velvet hat with a narrow turn down brim, a Tam-o-Shanter crown and two fan-like gouras crossed in the back added the finishing touches to an outfit bound to make this August bride augustly beautiful.

The deserving poor have troubles of their own—but so tire troubles.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

THE OPEN FORUM

The Capital Journal invites public discussion in this department—let both sides of all matters be fully brought out—it is not the purpose of this newspaper to do the thinking for its readers.

CITY AS A WHOLE SHOULD PAY FOR SEWERS

Editor Journal: I wish to give to the press a few reasons why the city, as a whole, should assume the entire expense of constructing, reconstructing and maintaining all public sewers within the corporate limits.

In the beginning the city adopted this plan, the people certainly must have been satisfied with this method, as there seems to be no records to show that they were otherwise.

Rumor has it that our city would be forever blighted should we add to our present bonded indebtedness.

Why should this be true? The city has carried a heavy burden in the past so far as bonded indebtedness is concerned.

Let us revert back to the times when Salem had a population of but three or four thousand and tax values of only a couple of million dollars. Compare these tax values and population with our present eighteen or twenty thousand population and thirteen million dollars of tax values.

By so doing you can learn if the prosperity of Salem was destroyed because it assumed the expense of constructing and maintaining its public sewers in the past. If this was the case why are we at this time boasting of our greatly increased population and wealth.

There seems to be a screw loose somewhere. Let us deal fairly with the proposition by viewing it from the several angles.

Let us suppose that the population and wealth of Salem will increase in the future years as it has in years gone by.

We have constructed trunk, tributary and lateral lines of sewer of diameters great enough to accommodate a city of more than twice the population of Salem.

Why did we do these things if we thought the future for the city was not bright? Why didn't we construct sewers with only sufficient capacity to serve our present needs? The expense would have lessened greatly by so doing.

The Markets

The wheat market showed much more life Friday and numerous sales were made. Reports from Europe had a tendency to stir things and to give the prices a slight boost. This was shown by an advance of a cent in most grades and a much livelier market. Barley and oats are unchanged but firm. Hop picking is at its height and an army of at least 40,000 is at work on the crop.

Reports from the continent Friday show still further reduction in crop estimates, and prices stiffened somewhat. Mold is reported in the English yards and the outlook is not promising. All reports indicate higher prices. Eggs are advancing steadily and poultry is in good demand. Dairy products show no change. The first Concord grapes arrived Friday, selling readily at 40 cents the box. The demand for peaches exceeds the supply and prices will be higher next week. The general peach market was from 40 to 65 cents, but a lot of Elbertas from Yakima sold readily at 60 to 75 cents the box.

JOE RIVERS TRIES TO TAP OAKLAND CLUB. [UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Oakland, Cal., Sept. 6.—Stunned by a calm request from Joe Rivers that he be given $3000 to box Joe Azevedo, who beat Wolgast, here in October, the management of the Oakland Wheelmen's club recovered sufficiently today to send offers to Harlem Tommy Murphy and Lutch Cross. They have no intention, however, of paying big money for an opponent for Azevedo, whom Wolgast fought for $2000. Envy a woman if you would make her happy.
