WIDNEY AND PARAMOUR MAY BOTH BE JAILED

Charge of Vagrancy Will Probably Be Brought Against Them as They Are Again Living Together.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] San Francisco, Oct. 2.—Arrest on vagrancy charges today confronts Robert J. Widney, former wealthy Los Angeles real estate broker, and Mrs. Vivien Lyons, according to the declaration here of Captain of Detectives Mooney.

"Widney and the woman are living together again," said Mooney today. "They should be driven out of town. They both are bad ones."

Widney and Mrs. Lyons appeared at police headquarters last night and declared that Mrs. Mary E. Vaughn, a social worker, recently indicted for an alleged attempt to blackmail Widney's father, had been turned over to a patrolman, but he released her because he had no warrant for her arrest. Widney wanted to prefer charges against the patrolman, but Mooney refused to listen to his complaint.

POLICEMAN ROUTED IN ENCOUNTER WITH PARROT

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] San Francisco, Oct. 2.—Patrolman Mike Haley clashed with a yellow-headed, sea-bred Mexican parrot in Portsmouth square here today and came out second best. Complaints that "something or somebody was swearing simply terrible" in the bushes about the square resulted in Haley being sent out to arrest the culprit. He did, but not until after a terrific fight. Polly nipped three pieces of flesh from Haley's right hand, brought the blood from a wound on his nose and tore a chunk of flesh from his lower lip.

As Haley left for the hospital to have his wounds treated, Polly gave him a final shot.

"If it hadn't been for yer color, yer sealawag, I'd a wrung yer neck."

STARS AND STRIPES BARRED IN CANADA

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 2.—Complaint has been made through David F. Wilber, American consul-general here, acting under instructions from Secretary of State W. J. Bryan, to the provincial government of British Columbia against the censorship of moving picture films which will not permit the exhibition in British Columbia cities of films in which the Stars and Stripes appear. W. J. Bowser, attorney-general and acting premier of British Columbia, gave but slight consideration to the protest of Consul-General Wilber.

"What would Mr. Bryan say," asked the acting premier, "if I attempted to muddle with the operation of moving pictures in Seattle and asked him to remove or add certain features?"

And there the matter rests now. The United States government has not yet answered the acting premier of British Columbia.

EASTER ISLAND.

A Deserted Land and Its Mysterious Crude Stone Statues. Huge and grotesque stone images stand and lie over the fertile surface of a deserted island far south in the Pacific. It is a place that Poe might have sung into existence or Rider Haggard created for the scene of some fantastic romance. Even its name—Easter Island—seems more literary than geographical. Easter Island, 2,000 miles from South America and 1,400 miles east of Pitcairn Island, has on all the forty-five square miles of its area less than 200 people. But it has other inhabitants, great masses of rock, 800 in number, each carved into the semblance of a human figure, the origin of which is a mystery. These statues weigh on an average from ten to twelve tons each, some of them reaching a weight of forty tons. A few of them stand on strong platforms 400 feet long, and many similar platforms stand untenanted.

THE NORTHERN LIGHTS.

It's a Mistake, Says a Scientist, to Say They Emit Sounds. German scientists are greatly interested in a discussion regarding new phenomena revealed by the aurora borealis, according to recent Norwegian and German observers. People living in the northern part of Norway maintained that they often hear sounds accompanying the northern lights. These sounds are described by some as similar to the crackling of flames. Accordingly German and Norwegian scientists started out to investigate the phenomena, and one of them, Olav Aabakken, has spent a long time at the Halde observatory in Finmarken. Aabakken thinks that it is very unlikely that any sound is to be heard from the northern lights. He maintains that the human senses are not to be relied on, especially regarding the phenomena of sight.

His Good Eye.

A man who had lost the sight of both eyes trained his hearing until he could tell by the sound of his footsteps on the sidewalks as he made his way about town whether he was in the middle of the walk or at one side, whether he was walking past a brick or a frame house or a fence or open ground. He knew in what part of the town he was not only by his memory or sense of general direction, but by the difference in the "tones" of his footsteps, and he walked about freely, seldom running into anything or anybody. Some one in his presence once called in question his total blindness.

"Which eye do you think I can see with?" he asked the skeptic.

"The left one, of course," was the reply. "I can see that the right one is blind."

Freaks of Nature.

Monument park, near Colorado Springs, Colo., contains some queer freaks of nature. Among the most singular is a group of light grayish-yellow sandstone pillars twenty or more feet high capped with a thin layer of dark colored rock which resembles the tops of giant mushrooms which have shriveled and partially dried up. The dark colored capping being of a much harder (ironstone) rock than the pillars has to some extent protected the latter from disintegration. Especially at nightfall is the traveler impressed with the weird effect of these gigantic and grotesque forms, which in the uncertain light assume the attitudes of huge human or animal shapes.—Argonaut.

A Life Saver.

"No," said the timid man, "I don't want any flying machines today. I'm afraid of them."

"Why, sir," said the persuasive salesman, "a flying machine might save your life."

"How?"

"You might be out riding in one when an earthquake takes place."—Washington Star.

All His Fault.

"Better lap up that split milk," said the first cat. "If the missus sees that mess you'll catch flu."

"Not me," said the second feline. "The woman I live with blames everything that happens on her husband."—Pittsburgh Post.

Much Harder.

"It is hard for one to have to live in the past," announced the melancholy man who had retired from business.

"Yes, but often it is harder to live down the past."—Buffalo Express.

Jesters must be content to taste their broth.—Latin Proverb.

"Finest fair-weather September on record, perhaps; let 'er rain when she's ready."

The country might be well satisfied to let Thew go clear if all the lawyers in the case could be sent to Mattawa.

WOMAN FEELS 10 YEARS YOUNGER

Since Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Louisville, Ky.—"I take great pleasure in writing to inform you of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was weak, nervous, and cared for nothing but sleep. Now I can go ahead with my work daily and feel ten years younger than before I started taking your medicine. I will advise any woman to consult with you before going to a doctor."—Mrs. INIZE WILLIS, 2229 Bank St., Louisville, Ky.

Another Sufferer Relieved.

Romayor, Texas.—"I suffered terribly with a displacement and bladder trouble. I was in misery all the time and could not walk any distance. I thought I never could be cured, but my mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I did.

"I am cured of the displacement and the bladder trouble is relieved. I think the Compound is the finest medicine on earth for suffering women."—Mrs. VIOLA JASPER, Romayor, Texas.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ANOTHER CONSPIRACY

ted today that he is acquainted with George E. Davis, accused by federal officers at New York with participating in the McNamara dynamite conspiracy.

"Davis was on the executive board of the iron workers before my time," said McManigal. "I think I saw him in the court room at Indianapolis during the trial of the men charged there with illegally transporting dynamite."

McManigal said that Harry Jones, secretary of the iron workers, arrested today at Indianapolis, once gave him some directions as to getting about New York, where they met. He professed to know little more about Jones.

Payment of $1000 Made.

Detective Malcolm McLaren, who arrested McManigal, said that Davis' name appeared on John McNamara's books as having been paid $1000, although the nature of the services he rendered was not set down.

McManigal has been held here since the trials at Indianapolis, the authorities asserting that no disposition has yet been made of his case. He is specifically charged with dynamiting the Llewellyn iron works here.

Sought for Long Time.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—George E. Davis, confessed dynamite conspirator, who, under arrest in New York, says he was the head of a gang assigned to blow up every non-union building in the country, that he was implicated in dynamite plots with the McNamara brothers, and who makes wholesale charges against officers of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was sought earnestly by United States agents during the federal dynamite investigation and trial here.

It was understood here that his confession says the iron workers' union hid him. His re-appearance was the result of a quarrel with the union's Pittsburgh local concerning a $26 initiation fee. Davis was working without a union card. The business agent ordered him off or to pay his initiation into the local. He asked for time and the agent refused it.

Robert Foster, a detective for the National Erectors' Association, secured his confession the day after his dismissal from his position.

Jones Furnished Funds.

The confession, it was learned, accuses Secretary-Treasurer Harry Jones of the iron workers, of sending him money while he was hiding and if discussing dynamitings with him in the east during the progress of a campaign Davis charges was waged for the widespread wrecking of non-union buildings.

penitentiary was served, not for dynamiting, but for assault and battery. There was a dynamiting charge against him but he was not tried on it. His arrest was in Somerset in 1908.

His alias was George O'Donnell, instead of McDonald.

ALL RECORDS FOR HOTEL MARION BROKEN

The The Hotel Marion last night housed 250 people. This is the record for not only the improved building, but when the structure went under the name of the "Hotel Willamette." Manager Crowe had beds prepared in every convenient place from garret to basement.

and today those who engaged quarters yesterday are anxious to retain them the rest of the week.

Tourists are coming in great numbers now, but all must accept what they are given. Y. L. Potter and wife, prominent New Yorkers, lay down on a bed in the hotel basement last night, and woke up this morning greatly refreshed and engaged the sleeping apartments for another night.

ELY'S CREAM BALM OPENS CLOGGED NOSTRILS AND HEAD—CATARRH GOES

Instantly Clears Passages; You Breathe Freely, Nasty Discharge Stops, Head Colds and Dull Headache Vanish.

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dripping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.
