

ALUMNI AND VARSITY PLAY AT WILLAMETTE

First Football Contest of Season Is on and Beefy Varsity Men Are Picked to Win.

SOME FAST MEN ARE ON OLD-TIMERS' TEAM THIS YEAR

Varsity Men Unwilling to Admit Possibility of Defeat Before Contest Commences.

The first football contest of the season is taking place on Willamette field this afternoon, the alumni and the varsity teams holding forth in their annual contest.

The alumni, because of their superior weight and experience, have been selected as the easy winners. Their line-up contains all the stars that the local university has turned out in the last 15 years. Among them are Burgess Ford, principal of Estacada high school and one of the best backs that ever graduated from the local university; Grover Francis, of last year's senior class, now an Eugene attorney. Roscoe Fawcett has called Francis the best all-around football man in the northwest.

Another prominent alumnus in the line-up is "Rube" Saunders, now an instructor at the Chemawa Training school. He is a strong punter and one of the best line-plungers ever seen on the local gridiron.

John Turner, coach of the local high school's team, is another member of the alumni's lineup who will be heard from before the contest is over. He is one of the best linemen on the coast and has a practice of making the alumni games a time for showing the high school hopefuls how to do it.

Chauncey Bishop, of the Salem Woolen Mills store, is captain of the alumni team and, according to his personal testimony, has been staying awake nights planning trick plays with which to befuddle the varsity men.

The varsity boys, who have been practicing both afternoon and evening for the past week in preparation for the game, are not at all certain that the alumni will win, and went into the contest to use their speed and team work to all the advantage possible against their heavier opponents.

Dr. Sweetland's line-up appeared somewhat as follows: Torleson, a new man from Astoria high school, left end; Noustal, from last season's second squad, left tackle; McClelland, left guard on Oregon's eleven last season, left guard; Pfaff, of last year's second team, Ferris, a new man at the game, right guard; Bolt, one of the two men on the team playing in their last year's position, right tackle; Fliegel, recruit from Jefferson high school, Portland, right end; Booth, member of first squad for past three years, quarter; Homan, last year's quarterback, left half; Donne, of last year's second team, right half; Carly Howland, the other member of the team, playing his last year's position, fullback. Backfield subs, Small of last year's first squad and Larsen, a new man from Astoria high, promoted because of his drop-kicking ability; sub-linemen, Lund of last year's first squad; Vandervort, of last year's second team and Toeters, recruit from Weiser, Idaho.

GIRLISH, WRINKLE-FREE SKIN EASY TO HAVE

(From Pilgrim Magazine.) Since its remarkable astringent and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the world have been using the squalite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw flabby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels much firmer. The skin tightens evenly all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagging. The formula is: Powdered squalite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, 1/2 pint. Another wonderful facial beautifier and rejuvenator that has become quite a rage in the United States, as in Europe, is mercolised wax. Druggists report a great demand. The wax literally absorbs a sallow, blotchy or withered complexion, giving the fresh, vigorous healthy-hued young skin underneath a chance to "breathe" and to show itself. Applying the wax at night, like cold cream, washing it off mornings, will completely renovate a poor complexion in a week or ten days. One ounce usually is sufficient.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS IS OF IMPORTANCE

The religious census is to be taken tomorrow by concerted action of the churches and Sunday schools. Practically it will amount to a general census and should have at least the sympathetic co-operation of all citizens, helping to secure the desired information. Ten dozen canvassers are to call in pairs representing different denominations, at every house in the city. A little card is to be used. The badge by which the workers may be known is a yellow ribbon.

Promptly at noon or slightly earlier it is desired that the canvassers go to the most convenient of the thoroughfares named below, where autos will call for them and take them to the noon luncheon and conference and then, later, back to their sections. The streets on which the autos will pick up the canvassers are North and South Commercial, State, South Twelfth, Asylum avenue, Garden Road, Fair Grounds Road.

The executive committee is to have headquarters during the day at the Y. M. C. A. Automobiles to be used in the canvass should report here. Also all inquiries concerning the work should be referred to this committee.

Tonight a rally and conference of the workers is to be held at the First M. E. church. It is highly important that all participants attend at this time to meet their team-mates, secure badges, receive instructions and so on. Mr. Phipps, state worker of the International Sunday School Association is also to be present at this gathering and make an address.

After the cards have been returned, the data is to be tabulated by clerks and results given to the churches and public through the papers. Much useful, valuable and interesting information will be secured and provided to the people.

"JACK OF HEARTS" OF PHOTOPLAYERS JOINS U

The announcement from Universal City that Warren Kerrigan had joined the force of the Universal company, and would immediately appear as star of a new series of pictures, had caused a thrill of interest in motion picture circles. There are few men in the great realm of motography who enjoy a greater popularity than "Jack" Kerrigan, as he is familiarly known to his friends. He combines with a handsome figure and a classic cast of features an all-around ability as horse-man, marksman and swimmer and general athlete.

DEEPENING OF CHANNEL OF COLUMBIA BOOSTED

Mayor Steeves to Appoint Committee of Fifteen to Work With Commercial Club and Portland.

MINTON URGES SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

Says if Situation Confronted California There Would Be $20,000,000 Voted to Deepen Channel.

The city council last night adopted a resolution, introduced by Councilman Minton, providing that a committee of 15 citizens shall be appointed by the mayor to work with the commercial club in a campaign to assist Portland in securing the deepening of the channel of the Columbia river. Mr. Minton told of the immense commerce promised with the opening of the Panama canal, the necessity of having a channel which would permit the largest sea vessels to reach Portland, and insisted it was a matter of vast importance to the state at large and the Willamette valley in particular. He declared that all should take an interest in the plan. In Norway passengers have engaged transportation on vessels for three years following the canal opening, and new vessels are being built to handle the rush expected. It was a question of getting ready now or endeavoring for 25 or 50 years to regain the advantage lost. He said in Hamburg a canal 93 miles long was constructed, and it is one of the greatest ports in the world. Montreal is constructing a canal 90 miles in length.

"If this was California, instead of Oregon, there would be a call for a special session of the legislature, and it would appropriate $20,000,000 to deepen the channel," declared Minton.

Hatch wanted the committee increased to 25, if it would not make the budget over 10 mills. Minton's resolution was passed.

Bond Bids Accepted

Bids for bonds were accepted as follows: J. H. Albert, $24,000 at one-half of one per cent premium and K. H. Melson $3000 at one per cent.

The delinquent improvement list, consisting of those who have failed to bond, was turned over to the city attorney for collection.

The application of D. A. Madison for a liquor license was reported favorably.

That a more complete plan was needed before commencing work was the explanation for delay in construction of bridge shutments on Mill creek at Liberty street.

The sum of $1070 was transferred to H. O. White, treasurer of the park fund.

Petition of Rural avenue residents for a sidewalk was granted.

Engineer's progress estimates on Fairmount, Statesman and Washington streets were adopted.

George N. Patterson's application for a retail liquor license was read and referred.

Ordinance Is Killed

The ordinance providing for the vacation of Trade street, east of 12th was killed upon recommendation of a committee.

Assessment ordinances for Statesman, Twelfth and Church streets were passed.

An ordinance segregating the assessment of Peter Blinn was passed.

The necessity of sewers on the block adjoining Mill creek, between Church and Cottage, was pointed out by Health Officer Miles. Several houses had no sewer facilities. Minton believed an emergency existed, and the work should be done and paid for next year. Jones declared the health officer should have declared an emergency existed. He did not like to be hasty in view of the opinion of the city attorney, that the council could not do anything. However, he rapped the city attorney for drawing an ordinance for the mayor, and afterwards declaring that he knew it was illegal, but the mayor had insisted.

Middle Over Assessment

When an ordinance assessing Mrs. M. Fox $11.65 for a sidewalk constructed in front of her premises was read, Councilman Turner objected, and it was referred. He declared that Mrs. Fox built the walk herself, and he could not see how the street commissioner had included it in his list of work done.

Because Monday is a legal holiday, Columbus day, adjournment was taken to a week from tonight.

The session was very short, the council being in session a little over an hour.

Conceded

"So you broke your engagement with him."

"Yes."

"What for?"

"He's a conceded thing. I simply couldn't stand him."

"I never heard him brag. What makes you think him conceded?"

FATHER OF PHRENOLOGY.

Dr. Gall at One Time Had the Whole of Europe in a Furore.

The first public notice of the "Father of Phrenology" appeared in Weiland's "Dutch Mercury" on Aug. 14, 1798.

Gall was a practicing physician of Vienna, and early in his career he became a firm believer in the idea that the talents and disposition of men are dependent upon the functions of the brain and, furthermore, that they may be inferred with perfect exactitude and precision from the external appearances of the skull.

Gall was an able man. He set forth his theory in a graphic, unctuous manner, and in a very brief period he had all Europe at the top notch of excitement. The idea spread like wildfire, and in all grades of society people were discussing "the greatest of all discoveries." The new theory had to meet the customary opposition from the custodians of truth and the preservers of morality, but the opposition only increased the popularity of the theory, and Gall's celebrity increased by leaps and bounds. His lectures were interdicted, and he was threatened with the direst penalties unless he ceased his "immoral and atheistical" teachings, but he kept on with his propoganda, visiting all the large towns of Germany and the continent, and by 1805 all of Europe was interested in the Vienna doctor.

In 1828, the year of Gall's death, phrenology was in vogue everywhere. But after a great and glorious nootide of popularity it began to wane, and today it is but seldom heard of.—New York American.

BANISH THE RATS.

They Are Not Only Disease Carriers, but Thieves as Well.

Almost unbelievable are some of the things done by the rat—the squealing, filthy, gluttonous all-pervading, all-destroying brown rat. Rats often gnaw the hoofs of horses until the blood comes. They have been known to attack fat hogs and eat holes in their bodies, causing death. They will fight human beings if cornered. They often steal valuable articles to use in building nests.

The following were found in a single nest: Three bedroom towels, two serviettes, five dust cloths, two pairs of linen knickerbockers, six linen pocket handkerchiefs and one silk handkerchief. This same rat, which was a model of industry and thrift, had carried away and stored near its nest a pound and a half of sugar, a pudding, a stalk of celery, a beet, carrots, turnips and potatoes.

In the last dozen years over 5,000,000 human beings have died of plague in India alone. The India plague commission, after careful inquiry, found that bubonic plague in man is entirely dependent on the disease in the rat.

Marvelous in its destructiveness is the common house mouse, closely related to the rat, and, like it, imported from Europe. The field mouse, too, is highly destructive, the most destructive to agriculture of all the rodents.—Farm and Fireside.

Missed the Bird and Lost

The Glasgow News records a singular incident during a lawn tennis tie.

The two players, who may be termed A and B, were very evenly matched. The game was long, and sometimes one and sometimes the other narrowly led. At length when A was within a stroke of defeat he returned a ball softly, and it looked as if his fate was sealed. So it would have been, but just at that moment a bird flew across the court in a line parallel with the ball.

As all good tennis players can well understand, B mistook the bird for the ball and "smashed" at it vigorously. It swiftly rose and he missed it by a feather's breadth, and ere he could recover his balance the ball had dropped on his court.

This stroke proved the turning point in the tie, as A thereafter played up strongly and ran out winner.

The Sheep in the Grass

Lord Palmerston once inspected "Summer in the Lowlands," a picture by Sir John Watson Gordon. "Look here," said Lord Palmerston to the artist, "why should the grass in that field be so long when there are so many sheep in the field?"

"My lord," replied the artist, "those sheep were only turned into the field last night."

Lord Palmerston bought the picture at a high price.

Maurice, aged six, was weeping bitterly, and mother inquired as to the cause of the deigne.

"I bought two warts from Vincent for a penny," he wailed, "and Vincent hasn't given me the warts and won't give my penny back."—Indianapolis News.

Round and Square

"The mode of expression plays a very important part in diplomatic negotiations."

"Yes, but there is not much use of trying to make a well rounded sentence take the place of a square deal."—Washington Star.

IF CHILD IS CROSS, IFFEVERISH AND SICK

Look, Mother! If Tongue Is Coated, Cleanse Little Bowels With "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

SNARES IN ENGLISH.

Puzzles For Foreigners Who Are Learning the Language.

It is hard for the person to whom English is his native tongue to realize what a struggle the foreigner has to understand some of the peculiarities of our spelling and pronunciation. One foreigner gives the following description of his first lesson in an English class.

We have been given a book to learn the letters. I arrive at the class, having learned them perfectly.

Soon, in the course of the lesson, we have the word lo-w. "Love," I pronounce it, thinking the w has the sound of v.

"No; it is pronounced 'lo,'" says the teacher.

"Then why is the w there?" I inquire, mystified.

"It is there because that is the way the word is spelled," responds the teacher, "but it is silent. Never mind why; it is sufficient to know that it is there."

Before long we come to n-o-w. "Pronounce it," says the teacher.

"No," I reply.

"Why will you not?" she asks me.

It is some time before she understands that I am trying to pronounce the word when I say "No." Then she declares that although lo-w is lo, n-o-w is now.

"If you want to make it no," she explains kindly, "you put it before it." You may believe I am bewildered. However, I memorize that n-o-w is now. The next word is s-n-o-w. I pronounce it like now with an s before it. The teacher laughs. The w is again become silent, apparently for no reason, and the word is called sno.

But that is not all. Later I find that if you drop the s from snow you can pronounce it whichever way you like.—Youth's Companion.
