GOVERNOR SULZER IS FOUND GUILTY BY COURT

MORE THAN TWO-THIRDS OPPOSE HIM

Impeachment Articles Disposed of at Executive Session Today.

ARGUMENTS DELAY VOTE ON QUESTIONS

Desire to Get Speeches in Record Takes Time at Afternoon Session.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 16.—The Sulzer impeachment court this afternoon found the governor guilty of the first impeachment articles against him, in which he was charged with filing a false statement of his campaign expenses.

The galleries were packed with spectators this afternoon when Chief Justice Cullen, of the court of appeals, called the court to order for a final vote on the question of removing the governor. Senator Argetsinger, the first to vote, favored a verdict of guilty. Judge Bartlett, next on the roll, was for acquittal. Senator Brown, Republican leader in the upper house of the state legislature, voted guilty.

Brown explained his vote briefly, saying he considered Sulzer's failure to take the stand in his own defense a confession of guilt.

Judge Chase, the second member of the appeals bench to cast his ballot, voted not guilty. There was no question of Sulzer's moral guilt, he remarked, but he did not regard that as sufficient to warrant a verdict of guilty.

The Tammany senators voted solidly for conviction.

William Sulzer's political career began with his election to the New York state assembly in 1887. It seems extremely likely that it will prove to have ended with today's vote by the impeachment court.

The fallen executive had the comfort of the consideration, however that he is still in the prime of life and that he was not debarred by the verdict, from holding office in future. He may even run for the governorship again, if he chooses. His friends, in fact, asserted that he would be a candidate next year. Failing to secure the Democratic nomination, they said he would run independently.

He will issue a statement tonight or tomorrow attributing his removal to the fact that he refused to accept orders from "Boss" Murphy of Tammany.

Leaders of the Republican state organization believed they had won an important strategic advantage in the form of the verdict. It was at their suggestion that the impeachment court's decree did not include disqualification from future office-holding.

Acting Governor E. Glynn became actual governor tonight, succeeding Sulzer. His only statement, on taking the helm, was that he would be governor of "the whole people."

WORLD'S CHAMPION ROSE FEVER VICTIM

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—Ralph Rose, world's shotput champion, winner of the shotput at the Stockholm Olympic games, and an attorney here, died today of typhoid fever.

Rich Roasted by Fearless Bishop

Says System of Taking From Meek and Giving to Greedy Must End, and Church Must Act.

New York, Oct. 16.—Bishop Franklin S. Spalding's bitter denunciation of the rich and declaration for an industrial democracy were admittedly today the sensation of the Protestant Episcopal convention here.

"I hate our system of giving to the greedy and taking from the weak," declared the Utah bishop, in an address last evening. "It is unchristian. It is ungodly. It must end. The church must awake and ally itself with the movement for an industrial democracy. There are rich men at this convention who don't care how they get their money. They haven't a particle of feeling for the workmen beneath them."

"The laboring classes produce this country's wealth; yet they are suffering untold tortures from poverty. Seventy-four per cent of our population own only four per cent of our wealth. The workers are forming their own religion, just as they are forming their own political party, away from the capitalist parties."

SAYS ATTEMPT WAS MADE BY CARMANIA

Captain of Volturmo Declares Rescued Ship Lowered Boat as Soon as It Arrived on Scene.

New York, Oct. 16.—Informed by wireless of Second Officer Lloyd's statement that the Carmania made no attempt to send a boat to the Volturmo, Captain Inch wirelessed a contradiction from the Kronland today. Captain Barr, he said, lowered a boat as soon as he reached the scene of the disaster, but the terrific sea made it impossible for the little craft to reach the burning vessel. Captain Barr, in his wireless messages, told a similar story.

Twelve of the Volturmo's survivors, landed by the Rappahannock at Halifax, were on their way here today on another ship.

BELGIUM MEN ANXIOUS TO SECURE HOP LANDS

Traffic Manager Skinner, of the Oregon Electric, is in correspondence with a number of parties in Belgium who are hop raisers, and who are making preliminary investigations as to prices of cleared and uncleared hop lands in the Willamette valley. It appears that there are several parties interested in securing a large tract suitable for the culture of hops, and specific information relating to propositions of this kind will be entertained. A request has been made to the commercial clubs in the hop district of the valley for reliable information that can be sent to the Belgium correspondents.

NEWSPAPER MAN ROARS OVER ROAST HE GOT

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—President A. T. Baum, of the Pacific Coast League, announced here today that he intends to make a thorough investigation of the charges lodged against Peter O'Rourke, of the Venice club, by C. E. Brazier, a Sacramento newspaper man. Brazier accuses O'Rourke of conduct unbecoming a gentleman, following a tirade of abuse he alleges O'Rourke hurled at him just before yesterday's game at Sacramento.

"Personal differences have existed between O'Rourke and Brazier for two years," said Baum. "However, if I find that Brazier's charges of misconduct are true, I certainly will take action."

BELIEVE HUERTA WILL CONTINUE AS TYRANT UNTILL HE IS KILLED

Representative From Texas Says Provisional President Is Desperate.

ANY MEASURE LIKELY

Will Stop at Nothing to Maintain His Power and Save His Own Life, According to Hardin.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Prediction that Provisional Huerta, of Mexico, would maintain his present dictatorship over the affairs of the country until he is assassinated or forced to flee was voiced here today by Representative Hardin, of Texas, following a visit to the White House. "Huerta is a desperate man," said Hardin. "He is likely to take any measures to maintain his power and save his own life."

LEE IS ARRESTED WHILE WORKING DAYLIGHT HOLD-UP

Andrew Lee was arrested by the police this afternoon at the corner of Ferry and Liberty, while engaged in robbing George Armstrong, a well-known local character. Lee had secured a bottle of whisky from Armstrong in a previous raid and was frisking him of his money when taken in charge. Armstrong was also locked up. The latter was intoxicated.

GOVERNOR BOOSTS STATE

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 16.—Governor Francis E. McGovern, of Wisconsin, was the guest today of the Commercial Club of Hotel Oakland. The governor told in interviews of the prosperity of his state and remarked upon the splendid future in store for this vicinity. He was taken in an automobile to points of interest.

SLAVE PLAY BARRED.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 16.—George Scarborough's white slave play, "The Lure," which has been presented in various Pacific coast cities, was prohibited in Sacramento by action of the city commissioners today. The play was scheduled for tonight and tomorrow night, and the house had been sold to capacity.

Reed college manifests true progressiveness by abolishing that relic of barbarism—hazing.

PREFERS MARRIAGE TO 50 YEARS IN PRISON

Ontario, Cal., Oct. 16.—Manuel Allyn Neidiver, claiming to be the descendant of an old Spanish family, today chose a marriage ceremony in preference to fifty years in prison. Neidiver, who was arrested in Salinas, Cal., by local officers, was found guilty of a statutory offense against Miss Ysabel Martinez, a minor. Judge J. R. Pollock offered him the alternative of marriage or a fifty-year sentence. Neidiver chose marriage, and Miss Martinez became Mrs. Neidiver. Judge Pollock performing the ceremony.

RUSSIA AN OUTCAST

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 16.—"The Bellis case is proof conclusive," said Rabbi David Phillipson here today, in an address on "The Tragedy of the Jew," "that Russia should be considered an outcast from the family of civilized nations."

SURVIVORS ARRIVE.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—The German tramp steamer Seydlitz, with 36 survivors from the liner Volturmo, docked here this afternoon. The immigration authorities took immediate charge of the Volturmo's passengers.

TANK LINER WHICH HELPS IS HONORED

London, Oct. 16.—The tank liner Narragansett, which sprayed oil on the waves about the burning steamship Volturmo last Thursday night and Friday morning, quieting the sea to such an extent that lifeboats succeeded in reaching the distressed craft and taking off its crew and passengers, arrived at Tilbury dock today with its share of the survivors. A tug, with a brass band, met the big tanker at the mouth of the Thames and escorted it to its berth, the band playing "Hail, the Conquering Hero."

ADMIRAL'S WIFE ON TRIAL FOR MURDERING HIM WITH ARSENIC

Prosecutor Describes His Last Hours and How She Guarded Him.

POISON IN HIS STOMACH

Prosecutor Says Professor Whitney Found Evidence of Murder in His Examination.

Plymouth, Oct. 16.—The trial of the wife of the late Admiral Eaton on a charge of murdering the admiral, commenced here today.

Prosecutor Katzmann asserted that Mrs. Eaton's jealousy and the influence of her daughter, Mrs. June Keyes, were the causes of the murder. He charged that she had accused Admiral Eaton of poisoning their adopted baby boy and later charged him with trying to poison Mrs. Keyes and herself.

Katzmann declared that Mrs. Keyes clashed continually with the admiral. He promised to prove that when Mrs. Keyes returned to Plymouth after separating from her husband, Mrs. Eaton said: "June, do you mind if I put your husband or the admiral out of the way?"

Poison in Stomach.

Katzmann described Admiral Eaton's last days, asserting that from the time he went to bed until his death Mrs. Eaton would not permit any one else to attend him. He said Professor Whitney found fifteen grains of arsenic in his stomach.

The testimony of several minor witnesses followed Katzmann's opening statement. Medical Examiner Osgood testified that he called at the Eaton home March 8 and that the widow took him to the rear of the house and asked if he had found any trace of poison. Mrs. Eaton, Osgood said, stated that she knew nothing about poison, but declared she did know there was something the matter with the admiral's brain.

ROBS ONLY SALOON KEEPER.

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 16.—Lining up C. S. Eiserle, a saloonkeeper, and seven of his patrons here early today, two hold-up men robbed Eiserle of $50, but refused to take the money from the others. "Saloonkeepers," said one of the bandits, "get their money by selling poison. You fellows have to work hard for yours."

Preparing for Wilson Wedding

President's Wife Returns From New Hampshire to Make Arrangements for Big Event.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president, returned to Washington today from New Hampshire, where she spent the summer with other members of the family, and immediately started preparations for the wedding here November 25 of Miss Jessie Wilson and Francis B. Sayre.

Indications today were that the list of guests will be curtailed, as several hundred relatives of the Wilsons intend to attend the ceremony. Fewer lavish gifts from foreign potentates and Washington society have been received than at any other White House wedding, because of President Wilson's desire for simplicity. Diplomatic members are planning to send flowers and simple gifts.

PASSENGERS ON SHIP RESCUED BY STEAMER

Merced Is Badly Damaged, But an Attempt Will Be Made to Float Her at High Tide.

Eureka, Cal., Oct. 16.—The passengers and crew of the steamer Merced, stranded on the rocks off Point Gorda, 30 miles south of here, were picked up early today by the Union oil steamer Atlas, which now stands by the wreck. It is expected that an attempt will be made to float the vessel at high tide.

The Merced was running in close when she stranded, and the captain believes a shifting current sent the vessel on the rocks. The steamer is badly damaged, but Captain A. F. Asplund believes she can be saved.

The passengers and the crew left the vessel shortly after the accident occurred last night. They were taken off in small boats, remaining in these until the arrival of the Atlas today.

POSSES HUNTING FOR MAN WHO STABBED

Fights Duel With Chief of Police Before Escaping in Brush Under Cover of Darkness.

San Mateo, Cal., Oct. 16.—Posses resumed the hunt early today for the laborer, believed to be Joseph Adamo, who, after fatally stabbing J. Mandel, a fellow workman, fought a pistol duel with Chief of Police Aldon McComb and escaped into a swamp between here and the bay. The stabbing occurred just after dark, and McComb was in pursuit of the supposed Adamo before the trolley car on which he fled had disappeared. As he came up with it, at the bridge at Baden crossing, the fugitive jumped off, and he and McComb emptied their revolvers at one another. The former was hit, but escaped into the brush under cover of darkness.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON TO CAMPAIGN IN EAST

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 16.—Governor Hiram Johnson announced today that he will leave Sacramento next Sunday for the East to participate in the Progressive state campaigns in New Jersey and Massachusetts.

The governor expects to be absent for three weeks, and will make brief campaign speeches in behalf of Everett Colby, progressive candidate for governor of New Jersey, and for Charles Sumner Bird, the Progressive nominee for governor of Massachusetts.

END LIVES AFTER THEY GO TO PLAY

Wealthy Cincinnati Man and His Wife Have Compact to Kill Selves.

"DAMAGED GOODS" TOO MUCH FOR THEM

Dying Man Says She Cut Her Own Throat and He Fired Bullet in Head.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Coming to Chicago to celebrate their tenth wedding anniversary, William Ellis and Mrs. Ellis, wealthy residents of Cincinnati, attended a performance of "Damaged Goods," went to their rooms in the Hotel Sherman and entered into a suicide pact. The woman, with her head almost decapitated, was found dead this afternoon in their room, after Ellis had notified a friend of their intentions. Ellis sent a bullet into his temple, inflicting a probably fatal injury.

At noon today Ellis telephoned the following message to Morris Ebersole, a friend: "This is Will Ellis at the Sherman Hotel. There has been a terrible tragedy in our room. Notify the police."

Woman Already Dead.

Hotel employes battered down the door and found the couple lying on the floor. The woman died almost instantly, a physician said. Ellis was revived for a few seconds, and gave out the following statement: "We agreed to die together. I did it." Later he made another statement, saying: "We agreed to die together. She cut her own throat and I cut mine. Then I sent a bullet into my temple. I hope I die."

Dr. Waterman, the hotel physician, believed Ellis is suffering from a recurrence of venereal disease, and that the play "Damaged Goods," caused him to become despondent over his condition.

GREGORY ANXIOUS TO FIND HIS BIRTHPLACE

To be merely convinced that he has been born, but not knowing when or where is the predicament in which Lawrence Gregory, of Bakerfield, Cal., finds himself, according to a communication received by the county clerk yesterday. Gregory asks the county clerk, in his letter, to ascertain, if possible, if he was born in any city or town in this county, and to find out when he came into this world. He informs the clerk that he was born somewhere in this state, but cannot find out where, or just exactly when, as his parents died when he was but a few months old and he was adopted by people who did not know his father and mother. The county clerk has looked over the records, but is unable to enlighten Gregory as to his birth.

REVOKES COMMISSION OF NAVAL OFFICER

Governor West this morning revoked the commission of Lieutenant Commander E. E. Straw, of the Oregon naval militia, on account of his activities in the matter of the deportation cases at Coos Bay. The governor holds that his acts were inconsistent with his duties as an officer of the naval militia, which may be called upon at any time to assist in enforcing the laws.

It is Making A Gallant Fight for the Things it Most Needs

Salem's morning paper hands out the following bit for breakfast, of which you can keep what you do not hanker after for lunch: "The so-called recall of Councilman Gilson Stolz is just a nasty little piece of spite work. Mr. Stolz is not a candidate to succeed himself. There are not a half-dozen honest, decent men in Salem who would not sign a petition to have Mr. Stolz run for councilman again." The recall of Councilman Stolz is perhaps an unnecessary movement as he is not to be a candidate again, but we see no reason why those who differ from the morning paper on this subject, or any other, should be classed as indecent and dishonest. There are 61 names on the petition for Mr. Stolz's recall. Crediting this petition with the less than half-dozen "honest, decent men" the morning paper admits may be in the city that would not sign a petition asking Mr. Stolz to run again if he does not, he is dishonest and indecent, and there you are. Billed down and condensed, the idea advanced by the morning paper is that if you agree with it, you are honest and decent, and if you do not see things as it does, you are dishonest and indecent. There is another rule by which you can size your neighbors up, and if you begin to have any doubts as to your own respectability or decency, read the morning paper's editorials and see if you agree with them. If you do not, honest and indecent. It is of some value, however, to have pointed out to us as a community how to distinguish between the honest and decent and the dishonest and indecent, to have an invariable rule by which we can size up the entire community in this respect and sort the honest and decent out from the dishonest and indecent. Hereafter, if you want to know if a Salem man is honest and decent, all you have to do is to hand a petition asking Councilman Stolz to run for office. If the person signs it he is decent, if he does not, he is dishonest and indecent, and there you are.
