

Attractive Assortment of Togs for the Baby--Moderately Priced

Our popular priced articles are better known to the general public than our fine and dainty hand-made goods. These we have in greater profusion than any other establishment. Hand-made dresses, fine coats and all the delicate and beautiful little garments and toilet articles can be found in a plentifully unknown elsewhere. Mothers will appreciate the efforts we have exerted in placing such a desirable line of infants' wear in Salem, and will be equally pleased with the very moderate prices.

The jury in the case of Albert Klein vs. William Esch, sheriff, to recover property alleged to have been wrongfully attached and taken, returned a verdict last night which practically brought a settlement, neither party to the suit being favored. The judgment in favor of the plaintiff amounted to the ownership of two horses worth $315 which were in fact his own, and the jury decided that the third horse in litigation should be recovered by the defendant. The horse turned over to Sheriff Esch belongs to a widow near Silverton, and the plaintiff got possession of the animal through a man by the name of Boyd who purchased the horse, and, after giving the widow a note, which he failed to pay, turned the horse over to the plaintiff in this suit.

Snappy Fall Wool Clothing for Men

A line of clothing that has fooled many an observer into believing that the suits had been tailored expressly for the wearer, and these observers were critical judges, too. Made so carefully inside and out that they will stand the wear and tear and still retain their fine appearance. All wool and built through and through for satisfaction. In other words, they are trade-winners, not only for now, but for future business.

Satisfied customers come again.
