MERCHANDISE LIBERTY STREET BETWEEN STATE & COURT PRICES

clined to leave without the port official's consent.

The Morro Castle left for New York via Havana as soon as the police took from the ship State Legislators Deschamps, Victoria and Puerro and National Congressman Prida, who were booked for Havana.

It was explained that the port authorities held up the liner merely to get possession of these men, and had no further object in holding the Morro Castle.

Mrs. Lind remained on the steamer from the time it was held up by the gunboat Zaragoza until it was cleared by the port authorities. No other passengers besides the political prisoners were molested. The three legislators and Prida were locked up in the military barracks and will be courtmartialled.

Harry E. Albert, who is in Washington, D. C., has today telegraphed his brother, Joseph H. Albert, cashier of the Capital National Bank, that he had been appointed national bank examiner at-large. He also announced that L. L. Muilt, of Ashland, had been appointed local national bank examiner to succeed Martin McLean. Mr. Albert was appointed state bank examiner last May. He is a son of John H. Albert, president of the Capital National Bank.

The jury in the case of George Haltenhoff vs. the Washington-Oregon Investment Co., has today returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. Mr. Haltenhoff was suing the investment company for damages, alleging as grounds that he was damaged in the sum of $2750 by reason of the defendant failing to live up to a contract drawn with plaintiff. The jury gave the plaintiff judgment in the sum of $2250.

RUSSIAN STORY HOUR.

Russia, the home of a varied people. The land which extends from the Arctic ocean to the Mediterranean, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, has given us a peculiarly vigorous literature. From its folk lore, the stories for the children's hour this week have been chosen. All the children are invited to hear them at 9:30 Saturday morning.

been the subject of much quiet comment among the diplomats here. The foreign representatives are by no means satisfied with the Washington administration's non-interference policy, but none of them approve of the openness with which the Briton has expressed his disapproval of it. His behavior has attracted especial attention, in view of the fact that oil interests in his own country are strongly suspected of having encouraged Huerta's rise in power, and of wishing to keep him in the presidency.

Fighting at Monterrey.

Fighting between federals and rebels els was reported at last accounts in progress at Monterrey, but, wires being down, no very recent particulars had been received. Before the battle began, it was rumored, Evaristo and Daniel Madero, arrested in Monterrey on a charge of plotting to turn the town over to the rebels, were started under heavy guard for the capital. Despite the American warning that they must not be harmed, it was believed here that the Maderos will be lucky if they can save their lives.

Many Warships on Job.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The United States had five warships on the east and four on the west coast of Mexico today. The cruiser Tacona was ordered this forenoon from Vera Cruz to Tuxpam.

A message received at the state department from the Vera Cruz consulate said Felix Diaz has not been molested by the Mexican authorities since he took refuge there. It was believed Huerta would be well enough satisfied to leave him there, inasmuch as he cannot interfere much in the election unless able to get out.

Secretary Bryan also received a confidential report from Emissary Lind today.

Allow Vessel to Sail.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 24.—After many hours detention the Ward line steamer Morro Castle sailed from here today for Havana. The Mexican authorities had given their permission for the vessel to leave.

United States Consul Canada had previously issued clearance papers for her in defiance of the Mexican government's orders, but Captain Huff de-

An Appeal for a Dry Salem by the Business and Professional Men's Campaign Committee

Tuesday, November 4th, the voters of Salem will be called upon to decide by their ballots as to whether or not the practice of licensing saloons shall be continued.

From both a moral and economic standpoint, this is a serious question, and one to which the best and coolest judgment of our citizens should be given. Because of the many evils, both moral and financial, which have followed in the wake of the liquor business in our fair city the laboring, business and professional men of Salem, those who are giving their time and their money for the upbuilding and commercial advancement of Salem, have decided to present to the people of this city, their reasons for believing that it would be a most serious mistake if Salem votes wet at the coming election.

With Albany, Eugene and several other Willamette valley towns in the dry list, and so well satisfied that they have voted dry the second time after several years experience, it would be a lasting shame if the Capital City, in the center of the Willamette valley should refuse to fall into line and do her part toward driving the abominable curse from the whole valley.

The public should understand that those whose names are appended to this article, as well as those whom they represent, are extremely desirous of protecting our young people from immoral influences, and many of them being fathers themselves, would not consider any business loss too great for the achievement of this purpose.

It is essential that our people clearly understand the issues which are represented in this campaign and determine them sensibly without any emotion or hysteria. You will decide by your votes as to whether or not the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be continued in this city under and by sanction of the law, for the making of which you are responsible, as to whether a man can contribute to the destruction of your sons, and the debauching of your daughters, the ruin of your home and fireside, the blasting of your fondest hopes, under the sanction of the law, which you have made for its protection.

The liquor business must be outlawed some time, sentiment for which is rapidly growing all over the country. Why not begin now? The only reason that it has not been outlawed in Salem long ago is because the saloonkeepers are willing to pay almost any price for the privilege of carrying it on under protection of the law. Salem is now receiving $13,500 license money annually from her saloons. A paltry sum not to be compared with the value of one of our loved ones, many of whom are annually started down the road to ruin every year. Little more than one-tenth of the amount of the city's income, so small that it pales into insignificance when compared with the blighting effect the business has upon our growing and maturing youth.

We wish to remind you that the city council is continually placing persons on the black list, but, with all our best efforts to prevent these men from getting liquor, still they obtain it, and will continue to get it so long as there is a licensed saloon in Salem. Restrictive laws cannot be enforced. We know, too, that prohibition cannot entirely stop the traffic, but experience has taught us that prohibitive laws are more easily enforced than restrictive laws, no matter what penalty is provided for their violation.

We wish also to urge you, both men and women, not to confuse the issue nor permit anybody else to confuse it; not to permit sophistry or jugglery to overcome or cloud your good, common sense. The people who are advocating that Salem vote wet are probably sincere in their belief that the city will lose much business, and suffer financial panic, while not receiving the corresponding moral benefit, but, in our judgment, they are wrong, and many of them will be brought to see it, if our efforts succeed.

During the last four or five years our city has made splendid progress in spite of this incubus, and we wish to make more progress in the future than we have in the past. We believe that moral improvement should keep pace with physical progress.

Voters, both men and women, do you know and realize that your right to vote gives you supreme power in this matter. Will you exercise that power November 4? We plead with you to do so.
