

Great Reduction Sale

of Handsome Suits for Women--the Most Attractive Garment Proposition of the Fall season. Some prices cut 33 1-3 per cent. ---Others 20 per cent.

We have instituted a most important sale of high grade suits for women at extraordinary price reductions. Not merely in isolated instances, not a few garments, but we have cut the prices on every stylish novelty suit in our stock, including the new garments which arrived this week. The season is advancing, and we must make room for our holiday merchandise, so we are beginning early to achieve our purpose. All the newest fabrics and colorings are shown in many pretty models. This is your best opportunity, and if you intend to purchase or if this unusual sale appeals to your sense of true economy, we advise an early visit to the Ready-to-Wear Section. Strictest attention given to the altering and fitting of each and every garment we sell.

What's the Matter With Kansas?

IN an article published in the Falls City (Ore.) News of October 18, headed "Kansas and the Drought," and signed by Mrs. R. Paul, there occurs this paragraph, taken from the statement issued by the governor of that state, regarding the shortage of water last summer (water, by the way, is the only liquid which Kansas does not have in ample abundance) "She can better afford this or any brand of calamity, for her people are constantly paying out huge sums for the care and keep of criminals, paupers, insane and feeble minded."

A FANATICISM AND FABRICATED.

This statement conveys the impression that prohibition has been such a success there, that they have fewer criminals, paupers, insane and feeble minded in proportion to population, than any state in the Union. If the governor of Kansas was not a fanatical prohibitionist, he would have better sense than to make a statement of this character.

The last government statistics on crime available, are for commitments to prison for term sentence during 1904. These are divided into three classes: "Crimes against public policy," "crimes against property" and "crimes against the person."

KANSAS' RANK IN CRIMES COMMITTED.

Kansas should rank best in all of these, but, as a matter of fact--in crime against public policy, she is 24th, that is 23 states are better and 24 worse. In crimes against property, she is 40th, that is 39 are better, and only eight worse. In crimes against the person, Kansas is 38th, that is, 37 better, and only 11 worse. During 1904, Kansas committed to prison 138,9 people for each 100,000 of population, while Oregon only committed 77.8 people for each 100,000.

For the same year, in admissions to hospitals for the insane, Kansas ranks 28th, in other words 27 states had less insanity in proportion to population than Kansas did, and only 20 had more.

HER COMPARATIVE PAUPER RECORD

So far as paupers are concerned, Kansas has a little better record, but is still far from being number one, ranking 15th in population in almshouses in 1903, and 11th in admissions during the year of 1904; while Nebraska for 1903 ranks tenth in population and third in admissions for that year. To make it absolutely clear, in 1903 Kansas had in almshouses 52.5 people for each 100,000 of population, and during the year 1904, Kansas admitted to almshouses 37.4 people for each of 100,000 population, while Nebraska only admitted 16.3 people for each 100,000.

LESS PER CAPITA BANKING RESOURCES
In the same article this expression occurs: "Her (Kansas) per capita wealth is larger than that of any other state." The report of the comptroller of the currency showing the banking resources of each state per capita for June 1, 1907, places Kansas 22d, not first. Thirty-one states with greater, and 16 with less per capita banking resources. In fact, Kansas has smaller per capita banking resources than any Northern state, except Indiana--the other states having smaller banking resources than Kansas are the 13 Southern states, New Mexico and Oklahoma. The banking resources of Kansas are $126.30 per capita, while Oregon has $186.11 per capita.

THE DELUSION OF A DEVOTEE.

The article closes with this sentence: "There is no doubt that what has been accomplished in Kansas can be duplicated in other states, is the liquor business is treated in the same way as in that state." And this is the way the liquor business is treated in Kansas. Mr. Joy E. House, associate editor of the Topeka Capital, was interviewed by a reporter for the San Diego Union on the 17th of this month--asked this question: "Topeka is a prohibition city, isn't it?"

TOPEKA.

"Yes, Topeka is a prohibition town. It is a fine little arrangement. We only used 90,000 quarts of liquor in Topeka during June this year. Topeka has 45,000 people. That makes two quarts each for every man, woman and child. The 90,000 quarts does not include that brought via the suit case route."

This is also true of every other city in Kansas, or any other prohibition territory, and only the more strongly clinches the truism that "prohibition causes no decrease in the consumption of liquor, but only brings about worse conditions under which the supply comes to satisfy the demand."

It is about time our prohibition friends ceased publishing the stuff of Governor Stubbs, and look over the government statistics in regard to crime, insanity, pauperism, and per capita wealth in prohibition Kansas, as compared with licensed states.

A Farce for 31 Years

Topeka's Mayor Is Emphatic

The following statement is from Mayor Billard, of Topeka, and is a testimony which shows how "graft" has grown and thrived there:

"Prohibition has been a farce for 31 years. The law has been enforced as well as such laws can be enforced, and especially so in the last ten years. Many good citizens have been prosecuted, arrested, fined, put in jail with real criminals. They have been degraded, their families disgraced. Many of them have left the state in disgust; drunkenness has not been stopped, has not even decreased. I believe that fully 90 per cent of the men use liquor and evade or induce someone to violate the law to get it. The law is a farce and disgrace to any civilized community. Nearly all county attorneys and attorneys-general go out of office wealthy from the fees they get from liquor cases, even in the regular way, but make much more by letting off easy those who have money to put up, then give them the chance to violate the law again, and make them put up again, and so on"

due on property the defendant contracted to purchase.

Tickets for Schumann-Heink concert will be on sale at 9 a. m. November 5. Concert 8 p. m., sharp.

There is no bargain in glasses. Dr. Mendelsohn, U. S. Bank building, has no bargains, but you can rest assured that you receive full value for your money.

Campaign issues are to be discussed this evening by a number of speakers at Central Congregational church, corner Ferry and South Nineteenth streets. This meeting is for all people of the East End, and as many others as care to attend.

The case of the state against Willis Oliver will come up for retrial sometime this afternoon or tomorrow morning on the charge of having unlawful relations with his 13-year-old daughter. Oliver was tried two weeks ago, but the jury failed to agree, and the defendant was held to answer before another jury.

Secretary Bynon, of the Salem Commercial club, has sent out several packages of dried loganberries to the leading dining car services of Oregon, Washington and California railroads, with a request attached to use them as side dishes for the traveling public. The secretary hopes, in this way, to draw the attention of the easterners and westerners, too, for that matter, to the fact that dried loganberries make fine eating, and Marion county is boosting this late product.

Becoming violently ill while on the Oregon Electric train bound for this city yesterday, two little boys belonging to Robert Irish, a traveler from Alberta, Canada, were removed to the Salem hospital upon their arrival here yesterday afternoon, and today they are said to be suffering from typhoid fever. Mr. Irish and his children were on their way to Australia. Superintendent McNary, of the hospital, stated today that the boys are getting along as well as could be expected.

A verdict of not guilty was returned in the moot court of Willamette University in the case of Homer Cide alias C. A. Snyder last night. The trial was held in the circuit court chambers and the defendant was tried on the charge of murder in the first degree. Roy Shields, member of the law firm of McNary, Smith & Shields, conducted the trial, while Messrs. Waterbury and Kaiser represented the defendant, assisted by Fred S. Lamport, and the prosecutors were Rex Turner and Mr. Carter.

MELANCHOLY WOMEN

Should Profit by Mrs. Hurley's Experience--Her Own Story Here Told.

Eldon, Mo.--"I was troubled with displacement, organic inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased once a month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world.

"After I had tried most every female remedy first, without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."--Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulcers, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?
