

GERMANY IS NEXT TO UNCLE SAM IN WEALTH

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Berlin, Nov. 7.—Next to the United States, Germany is the wealthiest nation in the world in its aggregate of wealth. Germany's national wealth, according to Dr. Karl Hefferich, director of the Deutsche Bank, Germany's biggest financial institution, who has just made a report to the Kaiser is between $75,000,000,000 and $78,000,000,000. That of the United States, according to the last census, is $125,000,000,000; England, $65,000,000,000; and France $60,000,000,000. Second in national wealth, Germany, however ranks fourth in the per capita wealth of its population. If all Germany's wealth were equally distributed each man, woman and child would have about $1,100. In France each would have $1,425, where the per capita wealth is the highest in the world. England and the United States dispute which has the greatest per capita wealth. The English say they could distribute between $1,250 and $1,385 to each man, woman and child, while in the United States each would receive $1,360. The annual income of the German people by Hefferich is approximately $10,000,000. Approximately $2,000,000 is expended annually for public purposes. The German people, says Hefferich, save about one billion dollars annually, which together with the automatic increased value of property adds close to three billion dollars a year to the national wealth in aggregate. Hefferich shows the Kaiser that Germany's wealth has practically doubled since he ascended the throne.

LANE APPROVES FIRST UNIT UMATILLA PROJECT

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Washington, Nov. 7.—Secretary of the Interior Lane yesterday formally and finally approved the first unit of the West Umatilla irrigation project, set aside $800,000 from the reclamation fund to defray the cost, and directed the reclamation service to begin construction as quickly as possible. It is expected that work will begin not later than December 20, and that the first unit will be completed and 10,000 acres brought under irrigation within a year from the date construction work starts. Secretary Lane tentatively approved the entire West Umatilla project, contemplating the reclamation of 34,000 acres, and stipulated that a storage unit shall be built as soon as land titles in that connection can be satisfactorily adjusted, provided the first unit proves successful and funds can be found to defray the additional cost. Action Taken After Conference. Secretary Lane's action was taken last night after a conference with the new reclamation committee created last summer by the secretary to direct the work of the reclamation service. Will K. King, of Oregon, chief counsel of the reclamation service, is a member of this committee, and strongly urged favorable action on the West Umatilla project.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers—Meat Forms Uric Acid.
 We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble. The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system. When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

FALLS SIXTY FEET AND GETS ONLY BROKEN LEG

Falling 60 feet down an elevator shaft and sustaining only a broken leg and other minor injuries, was the experience of W. N. Husley, an employe of the Gidson Stolz cider factory this morning. Husley was in the act of oiling the gears of the elevator, when he slipped and fell. He plunged head-first down the 60-foot shaft, but, fortunately, he escaped being fatally injured. He has a wife and two children residing in the city. Mr. Husley was taken to the Willamette sanitarium.

HIGHWAYMAN HOLDS UP PASSENGERS ON TRAIN

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Omaha, Neb., Nov. 7.—A lone highwayman boarded a sleeping car on the Burlington train No. 9, westbound, just as it was leaving the transfer depot at Council Bluffs, shortly after midnight, and held up the porter and robbed several sleeping car passengers and made his escape. The robber is believed to have secured about $500 in money and five watches. He knocked at the vestibule door of the sleeper just as the train was leaving the station and the porter admitted him. Immediately he covered the latter and relieved him of his money and a watch. Porter Made to Search Clothing. The porter was then directed to go through the sleeper ahead of the robber, and was forced to make a search of the clothing of the six passengers. By the time that had been accomplished the train neared the Union Pacific bridge and the hold-up man backed to the vestibule of the sleeper, after having signaled the engineer to stop. He jumped from the train on the Iowa side of the river and it was half an hour later that the police of this city and Council Bluffs were notified of the robbery. Apparently lack of time was all that prevented the robber from making a bigger haul. His system was unique. He forced the porter to go through the passengers' clothing, while he looked on. The porter had no alternative but to make a thorough search and was forced to make fast progress by the robber, who held a large revolver in proximity to his head during the whole time he was in the sleeper.

SOME MORE RETURNS FROM STATE ELECTION

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Portland, Ore., Nov. 7.—Additional returns received today add to the majorities in favor of the two university appropriation measures, the workmen's compensation act and the county attorney measure voted on at last Tuesday's election. The majority against the sterilization act increases as the tabulation of the vote proceeds. Nearly complete returns from all the larger counties and partial returns from the smaller ones, except Curry and Harney counties, give the following vote: State university repair fund: for, 32,022; against, 33,973. Majority in favor, 18,949. State university new building appropriation: for, 48,477; against, 36,278. Majority in favor, 12,199. Sterilization act: for, 38,185; against, 46,669. Majority opposed, 8,484. Workmen's compensation act: for, 60,176; against, 24,944. Majority in favor, 35,232. The return shows that Multnomah, Lane, Benton, Baker, Clatsop, Hood River, Jackson, Umatilla and Wasco counties were the chief supporters of the university appropriations. Marion, Clackamas, Columbia, Linn, Union, Washington and Yamhill returned majorities against them. KING PUTS HIGHEST JUSTICE ON TRIAL

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 7.—An unusual trial in which the crown is complainant and Justice Clement, of the supreme court, is defendant, opened before Justice Cassels in the exchequer court yesterday. The charge made against the judge is that between August 1, 1907, and March, 1910, he misrepresented to the crown his place of residence, and thereby secured about $400 under the rule which allows a judge $6 a day expenses during the days he is absent on duty from his place of residence. The defense is that during the whole of that time complained of, the defendant had his place of residence at Grand Forks, and was entitled properly to charge for the time he was on duty in Vancouver and elsewhere. In letters to the deputy minister of justice, in explanation of the expenses claimed, Chief Justice Clement said that, though his wife and family were with him in Vancouver most of the time, their family residence was at Grand Forks, and their stay here was a temporary stay in lodgings. He declared that, pending the court of appeal appointments in November, 1906, he had not decided where to make his home. Had he been appointed to the appeal court, for which his name had been mentioned, he would have gone to Victoria to reside. In March, 1910, he sold his residence at Grand Forks, which had been looked after by a caretaker while the family was away, and made his home in Vancouver.

SHORTENING OF BALL SEASON IS PROPOSED

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Chicago, Nov. 7.—The American League, in its brief annual meeting yesterday, voted unanimously against the proposal to substitute a general inter-league series for the world's series as now played discussed informally the demands of the Player's Federation and pronounced several of them "acceptable" and appointed a committee to represent it in a small convention to consider revision of the rules. The league will suggest the shortening of the playing season by starting it on April 14 and ending it on October 7. The dates, however, depend on agreement by the National League. The date for the scheduled meeting was not announced. Not a dissenting voice was heard when President Johnson proposed the league go on record as favoring the world's series between the two big league pennant winners. The plan brought up recently by August Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, would have provided that every team in one circuit play every team in the other. Continued success of the American league ten in the world's series was a factor in determining the unanimous support of the old plan. The proposed abandonment of the "reserve rule," which defenders of organized ball say is vital to its existence naturally found no champions at the meeting, but it was indicated the players would be granted some of their demands. President Johnson, Vice-President Somers and Manager Mack, of the Philadelphia club, were appointed representatives to meet with three National League representatives, managers and umpires of both leagues, to go over the rules. Few of the rules will be materially changed, but some minor alterations may be made. The rules meeting probably will be held in December.

MINIMUM WAGE LAW IS UPHELD BY JUDGE IN PORTLAND

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Portland, Or., Nov. 7.—Circuit Judge Cleaton today upheld the constitutionality of the minimum wage law, passed by the last legislature, giving the Industrial Welfare Commission power to regulate the hours of work, wages and working conditions of women and minors employed in Oregon. Under this law a ruling was made by the commission establishing a minimum wage of $8.04 for women employed in factories, to become effective November 23. A permanent restraining order was asked by Frank Stettler, a paper box manufacturer. Judge Cleaton's decision denies this order. The case will be carried on appeal to the supreme court of the state, according to notice given by C. W. Fulton, attorney for Stettler. The decision will be far-reaching, because it is the first judicial affirmation of the law's constitutionality and rulings as to the employment of women and minors in stores, offices and telephone exchanges will be affected by it. Also similar legislation has been passed in California, Washington and several other states, and the welfare commissions of these states have been eagerly waiting the decision. Judge Cleaton holds that legislation affecting the wages of women is within the police power of the state; that it does not, as complained by Stettler, delegate legislative power to the commission and its conference committees, and that it does not deprive the employer of a proper right of private contract.

TAYLOR WILL AID.
 "Billy" Taylor, for years the king pin in the workings and preparation of the Marion county agricultural exhibit at the state fair, and an all around booster for this county, has been chosen by the county court as a member of the committee which will begin work immediately preparing the Marion exhibit for the Panama exposition. Fred S. Bynon, secretary of the Salem Commercial Club, is another member of this committee and the two have been instructed to choose a third party to assist in arranging for the big exhibit which is to place Marion county on the map in the midst of many other exhibits which will be sent from the Willamette valley counties.

eral valuable pieces of dental tools, dental material and other trinkets bearing the name of Epley & Olinger were found on his person. Constable E. E. Cooper left this afternoon for Portland to take charge of the prisoner.
