WILL FIND OUT IF COLE CAN COME BACK

Frank Chance Will Make An Effort To See If Old-Time Cub Star Has Any Pitching Arm.

CY FALKENBERG SHOWED HE COULD COME BACK

Nap Pitcher Who Was Supposed To Be Back Number Pealed Off Ten Straight Victories.

BY HALL SHERIDAN (Written for the United Press)

New York, Nov. 13.—Among many other things likely to be worth watching in the American league next season we might drag one to the fore, tag it "Exhibit A" and call upon the rabble to look upon a "Come-back."

Frank Chance is going to test the truth of that well known assertion, "they never come back," using as his experimental piece of machinery King Cole, one time Cub pitcher, and erstwhile eminent barber in Chicago.

It may be remembered that Cy Falkenberg, the Nap pitcher, did a come back during the season which he did during the rainy days of October. One of the first things Cy did on his return from the minors was to peel off ten straight victories, which is a fair job for a man who has once been stamped as through, finished, done and ready for the discard.

Think Cole Can Do It. Falkenberg was there with his hair in a braid, and American association tipsters today are predicting as much for Cole. Having introduced Cole to high society Chance knows just about what he can do.

the Columbus team and kept himself in shape.

Cole will be but one of a couple of dozen new men picked up by Chance during the past season. Of the twenty-six players Chance took to Bermuda last spring, but ten are now on the payroll. Of these sent to the discard Shace and Lelivel are the only ones to remain in fast company.

Problem for Commission. The National commission probably is going to be compelled to decide whether a man has to pay for the privilege of playing in the world's series. At least that is the way Larry McLean figures the case he will lay before the moguls.

McLean was given $750 as his share of the money received by the Giants from the series. But the St. Louis management promised Larry a bonus of $800 if he kept in condition throughout the season.

GAME DECLARED OFF. (UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.) Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 13.—The baseball game scheduled for yesterday afternoon between the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox here was called off, owing to rain and continued wet grounds.

IOWA CONVICTS PLAY FOOTBALL GAMES

(UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.)

Anamosa, Iowa, Nov. 13.—Following the close of the baseball season during which eight baseball teams of convicts competed for the "prison pennant" before 700 excited prisoners, four football teams have been organized with two college men among the prisoners as coaches, and each Saturday afternoon the prison yard echoes to the signals of the quarterbacks to the men in prison garb, while the backers of each team cheer like undergraduates.

But just now it is football. No gaudy sweater with the initial "A" is to be worn by the players. Their pictures do not appear in the daily press and they wear the prison garb, but the 700 prisoners, officials and guards pay homage to the man who makes a touchdown after a long run behind the prison walls, just as they do on Soldiers Field at Harvard.

Jabs and Jolts

Having failed to discover an easier way to make money, the National Commission will not abolish the world's series.

The Washington team last season was the best road attraction in the American league. No, Herman; there was no kick when Walter Johnson asked for a raise.

Rube Waddell bobs up long enough to admit that he is a physical wreck, aside from the fact that he is as strong as an ox.

How wonderful are the ways of Fate! Two weeks have passed, and yet there has not been a single clash of Langford and Jeanette.

It takes a series to decide the world's baseball championship, so Messrs. Langford and Jeanette have adopted that means of settling the world's first assistant black heavy-weight championship.

If the National commission cuts down the price of admission to the world's series the howl raised by the players will be audible at a distance of 8,000,000 parasangs.

It is estimated that if a man had bet against Jim Corbett's predictions for the last ten years he would have accumulated a fortune of $1,000,000,000,000,000,000.75.

John McGraw says the Giants must be on their good behavior while touring the universe. If they cut up he will fine them part of the salaries they are not getting.

The Markets

The hop situation remains unchanged. There are however many more sales than heretofore, though prices are unchanged. It is reported that about 1,000 bales are changing hands in Portland daily at from 22 to 24 cents. Many of the dealers are expecting a 25-cent price before the month is over.

WEIGHT OF CROSS AND RIVERS WILL BE 135 POUNDS

BRITANNY FACES FAMINE

Paris, Nov. 13.—Sardine fishermen in Brittany today are out of work and facing a serious famine, since the merchants who have supplied them for years refuse to grant them further credit. The crisis is due to the men refusing to employ modern nets, in which they are upheld by the government, the opening concerns being forced to shut down because they say, they are unable to make expenses by the old method.
