

SEEK TO UPSET LOCAL OPTION ELECTION VOTE

Suit Is Filed to Enjoin Judge Bushey From Declaring Result of Recent Campaign.

ALLEGATION OF FRAUD AND VIOLATIONS OF LAW MADE

Over Eight Hundred Votes Cast by People Who Had No Right to Take Part, It Is Charged.

A complaint asking that County Judge Bushey be enjoined from declaring the prohibition election held in this city on November 4, was filed in the circuit court last evening by John Stellman against the county court. The plaintiff asks that the election be declared void and illegal on the grounds minors were allowed to cast a vote; the corrupt practice act was violated by interested parties soliciting votes within the polling places; that the petition calling for the election did not contain a sufficient number of genuine names and that the law under which voters may be sworn in with the "Blank A" system has been repealed.

In the complaint filed by Mr. Stellman, many errors alleged to have been made in holding the last election were made by both voters and judges and clerks of election. Mr. Stellman says that lobbying was permitted to be carried on within the polling places in the city and that many persons under the legal voting age were permitted to cast a ballot by the judges and clerks. He also alleges in his complaint that non-residents of the state were sworn in and allowed to vote and that in the tenth precinct, votes were cast by people residing outside of the city limits. It is further alleged that 166 people voted November 4, who had not been registered and that 822 votes were cast by citizens who had no legal right to vote.

City's Expense Considered.

The complaint asks the court to consider the alleged irreparable damage to the inhabitants of Salem in the event the suits are closed, stating that the owners of property will suffer a greater taxation in order to meet the additional expense which will necessarily result if the $14,800 derived annually from the licensing of saloons is discontinued.

A meeting of wholesale liquor men, hopmen and lawyers was held last night and it was fully decided to push the present suit to the limit. County Attorney Ringo is said to be perfectly willing that the matter should be settled in the courts and that he will do all that he can to assist both the dry and wet elements in arriving at some satisfactory conclusion in regard to the present status of affairs.

Attorneys Carson & Brown, and McNary, Smith & Shields are representing Mr. Stellman.

TELEGRAPHIC CROP REPORTS TO BE MADE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—As a result of requests from editors and editorial associations in many states, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that the November crop reports for each state will be supplied to the newspapers in all the states through the Central Weather Station located in each of the states.

This is an extension of the experiment of telegraphing the state crop returns to the Central Weather stations in each of the nine states, and having those telegrams duplicated at once and mailed to the newspapers and agricultural publications. Under this plan newspapers in 39 additional states will now receive full details of the state crops far more quickly than would be possible if these state crop details were put in the mails in Washington and had to travel by train long distances to the more remote states.

Under this plan the general summary of the crops for the United States will, as heretofore, be issued in Washington for telegraphic distribution. It has been found, however, that the conditions of crops within their particular states are of special value to the farmers and producers, to whom the conditions in their own state are important in the marketing of their produce.

Under this plan the Department sends one telegram to the Central Weather Bureau in each state, and within a few minutes after the crop figures for the state are completed in Washington the Weather Bureau is enabled to mail copies of the figures from a central point within the state to all papers in that state.

Under the code system used, the department is under the necessity of telegraphing only a few figures, as the figures of previous crops for comparison are supplied to each weather bureau station by mail. The cost of the telegram for each state does not exceed 75 cents.

The crop data thus circulated by mail to the newspapers will give (a)

a full list of the crops; (b) the average condition of each crop for ten-year periods in that particular state; (c) the condition of the state crops for November 9th. In the adjoining column will be given the same data for the United States, so that the farmers who read these notices can compare the crops in their state as of November 9th with the ten-year averages of their own state, and in the same way with the average condition throughout the United States on November 9th and for ten years.

These state crop reports are not supplied to individuals, and are mailed only to editors of regular publications. The November state crop reports for the 39 states newly added to the list will be sent only to the daily papers, the county seat papers, and the agricultural publications. Meanwhile, the department is preparing lists of small-town weeklies, and in December the crop reports will be sent also to the smaller papers.

BOY WHO WITNESSED WRECK IS INVENTOR

Cleveland, O., Nov. 13.—Seven years ago Carl Buhl, then nineteen, witnessed a railroad wreck. An engineer of a switch engine had asked a tower man whether a certain passenger train had passed that point. He was informed it had and pulled his engine onto the track. A few minutes later, the engineer was dead, a passenger train was wrecked and several other lives were lost in the collision. The tower man had made a mistake. Today Carl Buhl, electrician and inventor, has perfected what he believes to be the one complete and most important railroad signaling and safety device in existence. His invention, he claims, flashes danger signals before the engineer's eyes right in the engine cab—hence fog or other bad weather conditions will not interfere with the engineer getting all the signals.

An ingenious contact device is the key to the situation. In explaining his device Buhl shows a miniature locomotive on a miniature track. A white light bar in the engineer's cab as long as the track is clear for three blocks ahead. Another train on the track within that distance causes a contact which shows a green light in the cab. Within three blocks of any break in the rails the contact flashes a red light in the cab. If for some reason the lights should not work, a bell rings automatically.

Perhaps the most valuable part of the invention is seen when the engineer dies or falls unconscious at his post. If such is the case, the red or green light shows, the breaks are automatically thrown on when the train enters the last block. Buhl has worked for seven years on the invention and is seeking recognition from the railroads. He is considering placing his invention before members of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

FACTIONAL UNION FIGHT IN FRISCO IS UNSETTLED
Seattle, Wash., Nov. 13.—All chances for a settlement of the dispute between different factions of the electrical workers' union at the present American Federation of Labor convention, seemed lost today when it was announced by those on the inside that President McNulty, of the recognized union, would not resign, or stand for anything but a complete surrender on the part of the Reid-Murphy faction.

P. M. McCarthy, of San Francisco, is proposed to fight the McNulty organization to a finish, but says that the matter will be considered a closed incident unless brought before the convention by friends of the Reid-Murphy faction.

Delegates acquainted with the situation at San Francisco, where the McNulty union supplied strike-breakers to help break up the other faction, say that this was a very questionable action, and many say that McNulty should step aside in the interest of harmony, and the labor situation in general. Resolutions calling for investigation of the situation have already been presented to the convention.

A resolution was presented by Delegate Paul Scharenberg and Patrick Flynn, of San Francisco asking the federation to endorse the strike of the Light and Power Council of California against the Pacific Gas and Electric company and record its disapproval of the supplying of strike-breakers by a man named Grasser and his sponsors, said to be the International Brotherhood of Electrical workers, of which McNulty is president. Scharenberg also introduced a resolution asking the federation to express its disapproval of any effort to interfere with the strike.

HUERTA NEAR END

Washington, Nov. 13.—"There are elements in the Mexican situation which make me most hopeful," said President Wilson, in a statement issued today. "I believe we will be able to reach an agreement clearing up the entire matter."

The president would not be quoted farther, but he made it plain that an agreement was in sight involving the elimination of Huerta, and everything he represents, from the Mexican government.

The chief executive would not discuss the information on which he based his optimism, but it was evident that he was more cheerful than at any time since his emissary, John Lind, was sent to Mexico.

Looks More Favorable.
Washington, Nov. 13.—"There are elements in the Mexican situation which I cannot at present discuss, which make it look to me very much more favorable," said President Wilson this afternoon.

Inasmuch as communications had been received from Lind at Vera Cruz; Charge d' Affaires O'Shaughnessy in Mexico City, and William Bayard Hale at Nogales, Ariz., following his conference on the Mexican side of the border with General Carranza, it was conjectured that a triangular correspondence was progressing which meant not only Huerta's early retirement, but also truce between the warring Mexican factions.

It was believed that a settlement had virtually been reached on a provisional president, satisfactory to both elements to succeed Huerta, and continue to serve until an election can be held. No detail or definite announcement would be made, however, it was understood until after the negotiations have been closed, and the last possibility of a slip eliminated.

Situation Critical.
Vera Cruz, Mex. 13.—Many Americans from Mexico City came to Vera Cruz on the same train with Lind, and went to hotels until steamships leave, on which they can return to the United States. Some of them said that the situation at the capital was critical, and trouble between the United States and Mexico extremely likely, unless Mexico weakens.

Bryan Not Talkative.
Washington, Nov. 13.—Secretary of State Bryan admitted that Charges d' Affaires O'Shaughnessy had telegraphed, saying Emissary Lind had started for Vera Cruz, and that a long message had been received from William Bayard Hale, following the latter's conference with General Carranza. But the secretary would not discuss details.

HE EXPOSES SECRETS OF WHITE SLAVERY

Handwriting experts at the Capital Journal office were baffled by an announcement as to the South Salem Friends church in which Guy Fitch Phelps will speak on "Tricks, Traps and Secrets of White Slavery." It was finally figured to be the Church of Strangers. Today it appears that it is the Friends church, South Commercial and Washington streets. He speaks there Saturday evening at 7:30.

Mr. Phelps gave an interesting address at the Evangelical church, Seventeenth street north, last evening. Tonight he will speak at the First M. E. church at 7:30. Every man and woman and particularly every young woman, should hear him.

MANAGER SYSTEM IS DISCUSSED AT MEETING
The charter committee discussed the commission form question at some length last evening. Mayor Steeves and Max Gohlar disagreed as to the powers of the man to be employed as manager, the mayor claiming that the manager should not have the power of appropriating money, and should not be treasurer.

It was decided that the suspensory veto system was best. This means that when the mayor disapproves of any bill it will be laid over a week before being voted on again.

WEALTHY MAN DIED.
San Francisco, Nov. 13.—Charles Zinkand, a wealthy San Francisco restaurant proprietor, died today at his country home at Ross, aged 61 years.

KAY'S ORDERS.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The American husband who has been wont to settle himself in his easy chair, plant his feet on another, and spend Sunday morning reading the newspapers, and also the husband who plays folk whist wife and children represent the family at church, will have less excuse hereafter than ever before to "cut" divine service. The new democratic tariff law it is confidently believed will make church-going cheaper.

For one thing, the import of twenty-five per cent, which amounts to about 50 cents apiece on the popular editions of foreign made bibles, is removed entirely. All down the line of religious supplies, the new tariff aims at retail reductions. Organs are reduced ten per cent in import duty, stained glass windows should be some cheaper owing to a ten per cent tariff cut; music is reduced ten per cent and church furniture from seven to ten per cent.

Another series of reductions in the tariff which should make all church supplies cheaper is aimed at all tracts, pamphlets and religious paraphernalia, from which import duties have been entirely removed. Going on the theory that the democrats, as they promised, would remove or lower import tariffs on all "necessaries of life," the new schedules on religious goods of all kinds show that the National congress is at least religious and believes religion a "necessity."

Grandma, by the way, should be able to get along with less expenditure, since the tariff has been so cut on spectacles and peppermint drops, that the former should be about fifteen per cent cheaper, and the latter almost as much so.

FEDERATION MAY HAVE LABOR EXHIBIT AT FAIR

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 13.—Urging that the American Federation of Labor commence work at once on an exhibit for the Panama-Pacific exposition, Delegate Paul Scharenberg, of San Francisco, has introduced a resolution before the convention here authorizing the executive council to proceed at once to carry out the plan for a labor exhibit, adopted at the Rochester convention.

OREGON MAN KILLS HIS WIFE AND THEN HIMSELF

Fandy, Or., Nov. 13.—Francis McCade, aged 37 years, shot and killed his wife some time last night. Today, after he had gone to his father's home, told his parents what he had done and killed his 8-year-old son "good-bye" he returned to his own home and killed himself with the same gun. His father hastening after him, entered the son's house just after the shot was fired. He found the McCades' infant in bed with its mother's body. Domestic trouble is said to have been the cause of the tragedy.

GLASS WORKERS CHARGED WITH VIOLATING RULES

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 13.—Demand that the Amalgamated Glass Workers International union revoke the charter of the Chicago local of that union unless it desists at once from supplying strike-breakers on the Continental Bank and other buildings in Chicago, was made in a resolution presented by delegates of the painters and decorators union.

They charge that the strike was called because of the use of trim finished by non-union painters and that the glass workers are setting glass on the buildings, thus infringing on work under the jurisdiction of another international.

COLUMBIA GEORGE IS GUILTY OF MURDER

Washington, Nov. 13.—Columbia George was found guilty of murder in the second degree yesterday by a jury in the United States court for killing Timot, an aged squaw, on July 6, 1912. The prisoner is an Indian, and his alleged victim resided on the Umattilla reservation, adjoining the city.

Timot's body was discovered on July 7, 1912, in a creek flowing through the ranch of Sam Bittner. Evidently she had been struck behind the ear by a stone.

Columbia George was arrested the day following the discovery of the body. It was charged at the time and substantiated in the trial just closed, that Columbia George was the last person seen with the squaw. This was on July 6.

Other Theories Offered.

The present trial lasted nine days and the defense put up a hard fight, dwelling on two theories, other than the one held out by the prosecution. One was that Timot came to her death by being kicked by a horse as she was attempting to mount the animal, and the other that she was slain by another squaw, who, it was alleged, had cause to be jealous of Timot.

Colonel J. H. Baley and R. J. Slater, counsel for the defense, announced today that they would try to have the verdict set aside on the grounds that the federal court had no jurisdiction in the case, as the murder was committed on land, title of which had passed from the government's wards to a citizen.

United States Judge Bean presided over the trial and A. E. Johnson was prosecutor.

Liberty Cut Short.

Columbia George had been released from the federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island only a few weeks previous to the murder of Timot. He had been convicted several years ago of the murder Edna Anna, a squaw, whom he alleged was a witch.

Together with Toy Toy, another Umattilla Indian, Columbia George, induced Edna Anna to drink whiskey which they had poisoned. They both confessed the crime, Columbia George being sentenced to hang. The death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment and in 1912 President Taft pardoned Columbia George, who returned to his wife on the reservation. Toy Toy previously had been released from prison.

Soon after his release Columbia George began drinking, and the death of Timot and the subsequent trial and conviction followed.

ONLY ONE SENATOR IS FAVORING ARMED INTERVENTION

Washington, Nov. 13.—An unofficial poll of the senate today showed only Senator Stone in favor of armed intervention in Mexico.
