

BUSTLES HAVE COME BACK IS SAD NEWS

Fashion's Mandate Is That You Must Get in Line and Dressmakers Are Figuring It Out.

JUST WHEN FULL STOMACH EFFECT HAD BEEN LEARNED

Flounces, Fanniers and Tunics Really Responsible for Change in Plans and Specifications.

BY MARGARET MASON (Written for the United Press)

Miss nineteen hundred and thirteen is in despair about her figure. Her tummy she has just let out.

And now then bustles are de rigueur. New York, Nov. 28.—Yes its quite true—bustles so popular before as well as behind have come into their own again or in other words they have come back. Just when you all had acquired the full stomach effect along comes the fashion mandate that you must go to the other extreme. Of course this does not mean that you will have to get a hustle and get a bustle on immediately to be in the sartorial swim. Dressmakers are just sort of tentatively trying it out and on. With designing fingers they are gradually drawing skirt draperies backwards and upwards but you're sure to have one wished on you before many moons if you don't watch out.

It is really the flounces and tunics and panniers that have brought the natural tendency was to alop it down toward the front of the pannier so it is not surprising that for its second event it should have evolved again from the same bouffant fashion. But think what is bound to befall the bustle when it gets in a subway rush hour tussle.

Chiffon velour seems to be the accepted fabric for every dressy occasion. In the most brilliant or delicate of shades for evening or dinner gowns and in black taupe brown wine, dark green and blue for the street.

An exquisite shade of old rose practically a DuBarry rose is so universal a favorite that a shopping tour of all the department stores will disclose the fact that only a few pieces remain unsold so great has been the run on the rose. The prices of the chiffon velours range from $4 to $6.50 and it requires five yards to make a gracefully draped dress. As the beauty of the material makes elaborate trimming unnecessary you can acquire a gorgeous gown for a price quite within reason. Two perfect dreams of rose velour frocks are worn on the stage this season. One by Ethel Barrymore in "Tutu" and one by Fanny Ward in "Madame President". They both have elaborately draped skirts, slit up the front and the low corsages are outlined with skunk and filled in with white Tulle. Skunk also bands the long sleeves.

Even more heavenly a fabric is the new supple silk plush. It is wonderful in all the brilliant new hues, but as its cheapest price is $10 it does not make for as general consumption as the chiffon velour.

The footgear for the ultra smart class has now stepped forward in the shape of a high button shoe of patent kid whose tops of grey or tan cloth are made to simulate spats. In this way you can still keep from quarrelling with fashion and you look like you were having spats without actually having 'em.

The up-to-the-minute wrist watch is now invariably made in the shape of a long oval instead of the conventional

"OW!" Corns? Use "Gets-It"

"GETS-IT" the New Plain Corn Cure, Makes Any Corn Shrivell, Vanish. You'll say, "It does beat all how quick 'GETS-IT' got rid of that corn. It's almost magic!" "GETS-IT" gets every corn, every time, as sure as the sun rises. It takes about two seconds to apply it. Corn pain stops, you forget the corn, the corn shrivels up, and it is gone! Ever try anything like that? You never did. There's no more fussing with plasters that press on the corn, no more knives that take off the surrounding flesh, no more bandages. No more knives, files or razors that make corns grow, and causes danger of blood poison. "GETS-IT" is equally harmless to healthy or irritated flesh. It gets every corn, wart, callus and bunion you've got. "GETS-IT" is sold at all drug stores at 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IS YOUR LAXATIVE

Best Liver and Bowel Cleanser and Stomach Regulator in the World—Work While You Sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Put aside—just once—the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil of Purgative Waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have headache, biliousness, costed tongue, indigestion, sour stomach or constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

round watch shape. It is much more becoming to the arm and makes the watch bracelet a thing of beauty as well as of utility.

Patching is becoming more and more popular—not counterpanes but counterpanes. Fair femininity is even going in for the patches cut into fancy shapes like the sixteenth century coiffures affected and nowadays milady chooses a patch to express some personal fond or characteristic. For instance a bride flound wears clubs or spades, a coquette a heart, a thespian a star, and a baseball fan a diamond.

There is quite a craze for cameos. Set in rings, bracelets, earrings or used as brooches and lockets they are quickly old fashioned and artistic. A stunning antique pair of earrings of long pear shaped ebony pendants with a clear white cameo rising in the center is the most effective and wedgewood cameos with their brilliant blue backgrounds are most stunning in a setting of pearls.

The delicate pale pink coral cameo makes an attractive setting for evening mounted in filigree gold, and brooches of the old brown and white cameos set in a plain golden band are charming in the buckle of the new ubiquitous velvet neck bands. Even high back combs for the hair are set with cameos and with a Grecian evening gown one aesthetic dancer wore a fillet of them confining her Titian tresses.

WANT TO CHANGE IT TO MILITARY COMMISSION

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Honolulu, Nov. 28.—A strong effort will be made soon to have Hawaii's government changed from the territorial to the military commission form, according to a movement started today. To all outward appearances, it is safe to say that the demand will have the unanimous backing of the residents of the islands. That is to say, every body who is "anybody" in Hawaii will be back of it. Very few people in Hawaii, however are "anybody."

The islands are owned and controlled by an exceedingly small clique. Hardly more than half a dozen big estates hold title to practically all the land which is worth holding title to. The same interests own all the shipping, jobbing and even retail business of any great importance. Through their ownership of nearly every means of living on the islands these same interests, represented by a numerically very small group, control everyone else who lives here. Whoever objects to their control is starved out in short order. The big interests have long wanted such a form of government as prevails in the Philippines. Their reason for it is very simple. Lamin Andrews, former United States district attorney here, expressed it concisely in a recent interview in San Francisco, called back to Honolulu and published in the local newspapers.

"The change will be a good thing for the business interests of the islands," said Andrews, "because all the offices will be filled from Washington and the objectionable elections will be dispensed with." The "objectionable elections" are what big interests do not like about the territorial form of government. The islands must have labor and there has been a scarcity of it ever since Oriental immigration was stopped. To offset it, the workmen have been brought in in large numbers from Southern Europe in recent years. This laboring population has not yet been seriously troublesome at the polls but a second growth of them, native born and entitled to vote, will be reaching the right age in the near future to become a menace to the ruling class. The native-born Japanese have been a source of worry for some time. Hence the agitation for a change in the form of government.

TO OVER COME WINTER COMPLEXION TROUBLES

(From Woman's Tribune.) If the chill air causes your skin to dry and scale or become unduly red or spotted, before you go to bed spread a thin layer of ordinary mercurized wax over your entire face. Remove next morning with warm water. This is the ideal complexion treatment for the winter girl. The wax gently absorbs the dead particles of surface skin, so gradually there's no discomfort. This gives the underlying skin a chance to breathe and to show itself. In a week or so the new and younger skin is wholly in evidence and you have a really matchless complexion. Naturally all its defects disappear with the discarded cuticle—as chaps, roughness, blotches, pimples, redness, blackheads, sallowness. Usually an ounce of mercurized wax, procurable at any drug store, is enough to renovate even the worst complexion. Wrinkles need bother you no more if you'll use this simple face wash: Powdered sorbolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, 1-2 pt. Just one application will affect even the deepest lines and soon your skin will be smooth as a child's.

CHRISTABEL PANKHURST DEFENDS HER ACTION

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] London, Nov. 28.—Prompted by the recent threats of suppressing the suffragette on account of her starting series of articles on sexual disease Miss Christabel Pankhurst, in the current issue, prints a spirited defense of her action. "These articles have simply told the truth about sexual diseases, the extent to which they ravage the population, the reason why they exist, the manner in which they can be prevented, prevention being, as has been carefully shown, the only real cure," she says. "Where is indecency in all this? That the existence of sexual disease and immorality that is its cause are indecent, we are the first to admit. But to tell the truth about such evils and to fight for their abolition is the most decent thing that is possible for human beings to do. If, however, the suffragette be convicted of indecency then equally guilty of this offense are the famous medical men who have incited us to our plain speaking. A little while ago forty of the most prominent doctors in England, signed a memorial appealing to the public to demand the appointment of a Royal Commission which should investigate the facts concerning sexual disease and recommend steps to be taken to cope with it. In the course of this memorial the doctors said: 'There has always been a conspiracy of silence as regards venereal diseases. The time, however, has come when it is a national duty to face the facts and to bring them prominently to the notice of the public.' "It is all very well to try to prevent the indiscriminate dissemination of the facts but the upholders of 'decent' have never succeeded, in spite of all their secrecy and hushing-up, in preventing the indiscriminate dissemination of sexual diseases among the moral and the immoral alike.

IDEA IS NOW TO HAVE COLLEGE MAN-EARNER

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Cleveland, O., Nov. 28.—"The idea now is to turn a college man out at his graduation equipped to make a living," said Dean Mathews, secretary of Western Reserve university when interviewed today by a United Press correspondent in reference to the new "real estate" department of the college—the first college offering instruction in the real estate business to its students. Not only will the theory of real estate selling—the old story of unearned increment which accrues to the land holder and other bookish angles of the business—be taught but practical real estate dealers will tell the students how to lead a prospective buyer into a vacant
