Notwithstanding the fact that Salem is conceded to be very dry, drinks were sold over the bar in one saloon last night, at least. Frank Collins, proprietor of the Buffet, on State street, unlocked his doors and invited in his old patrons to come in and enjoy some frizzate beef tea, clam tea, oyster cocktails, lemonade and other soft thirst-quenchers. The Buffet was soon packed with men, and coin rang on the bar merrily during the evening. George N. Patterson, proprietor of the Bureau saloon, on State street, will also open up his place of business soon. He will sell soft drinks and confectionery.
The Salem Woman's club is meeting with great success with the sale of Red Cross seals. Early Christmas shoppers are liberal, and the club members are handing out many of the seals. The committee, composed of Mrs. E. T. Ladden, chairman, Mrs. W. H. Burkhardt, Jr., Mrs. William McElchrist, Jr., and Miss Ellen Thielson, is working diligently, and it has already broken all previous sale records. The volunteer helpers yesterday were: Mrs. B. C. Bishop, Mrs. J. J. Roberts, Misses Althea Moores and Ellen Thielson, Mrs. W. M. Hamilton, Mrs. Geo. F. Rodgers, Mrs. George J. Rose, Mrs. W. M. Plimpton, Miss Alice Thompson, Mrs. D. Miles, Mrs. A. DEFICIENCY OF OVER $3500 IS RESULT OF GETTYSBURG EXPENSE

There was filed with the governor today a statement of the expenses of the visit of the civil war veterans to the Gettysburg reunion. The legislature appropriated $5000 for this purpose, but when the veterans assembled it was discovered that there were so many of them that the sum appropriated would not pay the expenses of all, and it was up to those in charge to either refuse to take more than the $5000 would pay expenses for, or run the state in debt for an amount sufficient to cover the additional expense. The latter horn of the dilemma was taken, and as a consequence there is now a deficiency of $3,527.70. The statement was filed by T. B. McDevitt, department commander of the G. A. R.; Captain James P. Shaw, representing the Union veterans, and Col. Lewis C. Garrigus, of the confederate veterans. The itemized account is as follows:

Appropriation	$5,000.00
Expenses—
Lewis C. Garrigus, commissioner	$ 354.65
James P. Shaw, do.	145.65
Payroll, etc.	1,175.55

WEDGWOOD'S MASTERPIECE.

It is His Reproduction of the Famous Portland Vase.
Sir William Hamilton was an authority on Roman and Grecian antiquities. His fine collection of them and his great book on the subject prove that assertion. He wrote to Wedgwood about that much admired work of ancient art (the Barberian vase) in these terms: "Except the Apollo Belvedere, the Niobe and two or three others of the first class marbles, I do not believe that there are any monuments of antiquity existing that were executed by so great an artist." This is about the highest commendation that could be bestowed, and when we consider that such a work, so soaringly eminent, was successfully imitated by one of our own artist potters it is surely a ground for national gratification.
The original vase came into the possession of the noble Italian family of Barberini, hence its name. It was acquired by Byres, the antiquary, and then by Sir William Hamilton, who brought it to England in the year 1784. He, in turn, sold it to the Duchess of Portland, her descendant, the fourth duke, deposited it in the British museum, owing to which fact it is best known to Englishmen as the Portland vase. It was lent by the duke to Wedgwood to make his copy from. The body of it had been much disputed, but he found that it was glass. He was not a glassblower, but had invented his wonderful jasperware by that time and decided his copy should be made of that substance. It was a tremendous task and took some three years in the modeling by Hackwood and others. The cost was never recouped by the subscriptions.
It is justly esteemed to have been Wedgwood's masterpiece. It has been reproduced by his successors and by other potters, but, of course, they have not the same market value as those made by the great Josiah himself.—W. Turner in Westminster Review.

WOMEN ARE BAD LOSERS.

That is Why, It is Said, Stock Brokers Fight Shy of Them.
Nobody loves a stock broker, least of all his customers. This affords a touching, if somewhat subtle, reason why he does not want any women speculators on his books.
There is another reason. I hate to mention it, but you wring it from me. Women are not good losers. At times, under stress of great speculative losses, I am told they become inchoate. The one stock broker of my acquaintance who catered to women speculators is now in a madhouse. They were all long of Steel at 50 the time it broke to 8, and all the water squeezed out of it in that decline was wreg back into it by these women. It was an economic disaster.
Stock brokers carry home with them all the troubles of their customers, and this poor fellow was no exception. He used to be awake all night picking at the counterpane and grieving over beauty in distress. Finally he went crazy. They have given him a set of stock broker's books up there in the asylum, and it would break your heart to see him. Jeanne d'Arc and Harriet Beecher Stowe are long of Copper; Catherine de Medici and Mrs. Browning are short of Rubber; Maria Theresa and George Eliot are pyramiding in Steel. Every now and then somebody is stopped out, and then there are dreadful times. Charlotte Corday's, Cleopatra's, Mme. de Stael's and the mother of the Gracchi's margins are exhausted. He calls to them for more. They weep. I cannot go on. Women have much to answer for.—William Van Antwerp in New York Post.

THE LADIES AID WERE ENTERTAINED

As announced early in the week, Mrs. Fred Thompson entertained the Ladies' Aid of Salem Heights Wednesday afternoon.
The lovely sunny weather helped to make the event all the pleasanter, and 15 ladies enjoyed Mrs. Thompson's hospitality.
Aside from the regular members those present were Mrs. C. J. Robertson, Mrs. Jennie Robertson, Mrs. C. J. Robertson, Mrs. Monell and little daughter, Mrs. Maggie Code and Mrs. L. K. Wade, of West Salem, Mrs. L. C. McConnell and Mrs. C. E. Speaker.
The next meeting of the aid will be with Mrs. Frank Thompson, in two weeks, when another pleasant social time may be fully anticipated.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.
"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, a simple ant-acid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause greatest distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.
Where the Time is Lost.
"Do you think we've made much time by leaving the 'dear sir' off our letters?"
"Not much. Where time is lost is in the hesitation you feel about writing 'yours respectfully' to some people."

Why Did She Think So?
"No," said the mistress of the boarding house, "we cannot accommodate you. I am sorry to say. We only take in single gentlemen."
"Goodness!" said Mr. Borden. "What makes you think I'm twice?"—Ladies' Home Journal.
White of an Egg.
In 100 parts of the white of an egg about 80 per cent is water, 12 1/2 per cent albumen, 1 per cent mineral matter and 2 1/2 per cent sugar, etc.
Every week's delay in passing a currency bill adds to the discredit of the democrats.

PUBLIC LIBRARY LECTURE.
Dr. Joseph Schafer will lecture Friday evening, December 6th, at 8 o'clock in the library auditorium on "The Oregon System and What It Signifies." This is the second of his series on problems in civics. Dr. Schafer is an entertaining speaker, and, with a subject in which all loyal Oregonians are interested, his lecture cannot fail to be a very good one. Dr. Schafer will be at the library from 4:30 to 5:30 in the afternoon to talk with any one interested in doing reading along this line.

STATES' RIGHTS FIGHT IS STARTED AT CONVENTION
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE]
Washington, Dec. 4.—It was evident this afternoon that a states' rights fight would be staged before the rivers and harbors congress.
Joseph Teal tried to induce the resolutions committee to report out a resolution regarding state control of water power. It was opposed by many of the assembled delegates.
Congressman Rainey, of Illinois, supported Teal. Much of the opposition to the report out of the resolution was based on the ground that the convention was to consider the question of waterways and harbors only. The objection was construed to indicate an unwillingness to precipitate a clash between the waterpower factions.
Opinions entitled to favorable consideration are that the tango dance is decent and proper, if not abused.
